Sweet happy memories cling round your name;
True hearts that loved you with deepest affection,
Always will love you in death just the same.

The Innocent By-Stander

By Dick Washburn

I WONDER what has become of the robust editorial page of newspapers? Oh, I know, they still maintain pages called "editorial," where they print delightful bits on spring, the bees and the birds.

* * * * *

But what I wonder is, what has become of the hard-hitting editorial demanding reform, adherence to policy and political honesty?

* * * * *

At one time, in the golden age of newspapers which has passed, the editorial page was a thought arena where the club of opinion cracked the skulls of corruption.

* * * * *

But no more. The feeble virginity of the editors has become chastened with the fear of advertiser reprisal and their papers are sterile of thought.

* * * * *

John Phillips has been shaking the bathroom walls with his bass rumblings, in preparation for the coming minstrel at the West Broad Street school. Dates are the 10th and 11th of the month. Ask him to sing "A Warrior Bold," or "Asleep In the Deep."

* * * * *

I wonder if O. H. Magly is aware of the affectionate nick-name applied to him, behind his back, by hundreds of people. The diminutive, really one of veneration and respect, is "The Duke."

* * * * *

FOUR MEN IN AN AUTO

Bob A., Howard D., Fred W. and Neil B. are afraid we are going to print the story of that incident the other p. m. which had them all wishing they had stayed closer to mother's apron strings.

The lads were cruising around in Neil's car about mid-night with Bob emitting unmasculine shrieks for help (funny mans, huh?).

Suddenly a car drew along side, crowded their auto to the curb and a huge lad wearing policeman's trousers and carrying a gun yanked them from the car for questioning. The lads became hysterical but not with mirth.

* * * * *

Samuel Nelson John Randolph Alford, that's the full name of the chap commonly called Sam or Sammy Alford.

OVERHEARD ON A W. BROAD CAR

"And, you know, I was so unhappy that I cried into my handkerchief all day long, until my husband came home in the evening. Then he said, 'There, there, Darling, here's $10. Get yourself a dress tomorrow.'"

"And you're going to buy a new dress now?"

"Uh, huh, and a dozen new handkerchiefs."

* * * * *

Dear Mary H.: Allright, Mary, I promise not to print your name in this column—often I mean. If you insist, I will even stay away from South Wagren avenue. As Walter W. says, "Nobody Loves a Fact Man."

* * * * *

I fear that Tony Cage (Anthony J to strangers), will have to answer to the name "Buzz-buzz for a while. The reason is the amazing lack of aptitude he showed for that silly pastime the other nite. Tony (Anthony J.) is the lawyer lad who serves as treasurer of the Alumni Ass'n. He may also be seen on South Ogden with considerable regularity. He is a resident of Rome and a graduate of the YMCA schools.

* * * * *

Richard Chambers, the lad who vends groceries, is from Meigs county. Aren't we all? I mean that it seems nearly all the lads and lassies here in our little village are from the foot hills along the Ohio River, back of Middleport's and Pomeroy's Main streets. (What? Does Middleport have one?)

* * * * *

Dear Betty: Thank you for the complimentary things you said.

* * * * *

Elsie Lloyd over the telephone sounds like a breathless and delighted child.

* * * * *

Dear Fred F. and Max M.: Thank you for the greeting card. The same thing right back to yer. It was very original and made me quite happy to find myself remembered.

* * * * *

Ike F. Wise, athletic mentor at West, formerly played the drums in a dance band. In fact he earned a large portion of his college tuition in the manner. This is the grounds for his interest in music and accounts for his contribution to the new school pep song.

Sales Tax Law Is Being Petitioned By Business Men

Urge Is Being Made For State Treasurer to Carry Out Provisions of New Law.

Within the next week a petition will be circulated among business leaders of the community to seek appointment of a local sales agent for the new retail sales tax prepaid receipts.

The printing and purchase of these tokens, required by law, begins from now until Feb. 1. Details will be completed by that time, it is believed, to permit enforcement.

Appointments Permitted By Law

The new retail sales tax law originally provided that the treasurer of Ohio "may appoint agents for the sale of pre-paid tax receipts at such places in the state as he may deem expedient." Such agents were to receive commissions of one-tenth of one per cent of their pre-paid receipt sales.

However, since the legislation passed, business leaders contend, "there has been a scramble of county treasurers to make political capital of this clause and to fortify political machines."

Costs Lower Under Agent Plan

County treasurers have urged the state treasurer to deliver into their hands exclusively these receipt sales. If this proposal is accepted, increased costs will be entailed for the taxpayer because of the additional clerks who would be hired in the county offices. The agent-commission plan would obviate the necessity for this because costs would be paid out of the receipt sales.

Another advantage of having a local representative, business leaders hold, would be the speed and convenience of obtaining receipts. A local agent could supply the tokens without the necessity of the business men journeying downtown to the court house and standing in line for purchases.

Most of the city's 6000 business men are said to favor the agent-commission plan over that of the county treasurers.

Petition Quoted

The petition follows. It will be presented before the Hilltop Business Men's Association and later will be

Local Family Heirs Train For Baby Show and Contest Scheduled to Be Held At Harris Ave. Weighing Station

Courtesy of the Columbus Citizen

"My, my, young fellow, look at that waist line. You had better go easy with those bottle binges on grade A milk." Barbara Jane Suver, aged six months, looks on critically while Don Dolder, aged nine months, checks his weight in preparation for the coming baby event.

Proud parents may enter the family pride in the coming Hilltop baby show and contest to be held at 30 N. Harris Ave., Thursday, Jan. 17. All entries must be made by next Thursday, Jan. 10. Children one-year-old or younger are eligible.

Babies entered will be judged for each of two classes and three prizes will be awarded in each group. The two contests will be for the title of "Healthiest Baby," and "Most Active Baby." Age will be taken into consideration for the second contest.

The prizes will consist of a Clar-Pat draught shield, a ticket good for 10 quarts of milk from any company, and one for five quarts of milk. These prizes will be awarded in duplicate for winners of each contest.

The draught shield is a devise to protect infants in their cribs from cold or damp air.

The shields are the contribution of Mrs. L. O. McGill, inventor of the Clar-Pat draught shield, and the milk tickets are the donation of the Columbus Milk Council.

Mrs. McGill for some time has been maintaining, each Thursday, the Clar-Pat weighing station, where a number of children from the age of two months to three years are weighed regularly.

The oldest child under constant check is Barbara Ruth Van Fleet, age three years, and the youngest is Danny Howard, aged two months. There are a total of 12 who come regularly to the weighing station. Their names follow: Rita Molly Reed, Donald Jackson, Barbara Jane Suver, Sally Lou Jenkins, Harold A. Every, Denoson Raymond, Danny Howard, Frederick Ives, Jimmie Graham, Barbara Ruth Van Fleet, Nancy Kienta, Mary Lou Tilton, Robert Douglass Du Bois, and Mary Louise Morlan.

P.O. To Be Center For Distribution

January Plans Call for Change-over From Present System, M. W. Cooper Announces.

The Hilltop Post Office shortly will be changed from a mailing unit to a distributing station from which carriers will secure their matter to be delivered.

The change will be made sometime early in January, Assistant Postmaster M. W. Cooper announced.

At the present time, the Hilltop Post Office confines its activities largely to receiving parcels and letters to be mailed and to providing service for such parcels and letters. This includes weighing, stamp sales and money orders.

Under the new arrangement, provided to facilitate the mails, 12 city carriers and one rural carrier will obtain their matter to be delivered from the Hilltop office.

Sorting and other work entailed in this change will also be done at the local station.

John F. Raymond is superintendent of the Hilltop Post Office.

Tenth Ward Democratic Club to Hold Meeting

The Tenth Ward Men's and Women's Democratic club will hold its regular meeting, Wednesday, 7 p. m., at the Glenwood shelter house.

A variety of subjects will be discussed. Speeches and a reading will be given, Charles Middleton, Democratic committeeman, announced.

Business Men Will Hold Installation

Family Circle Broken First Time In 62 Years

Margaret Ann Ferguson, 90, For 45 Years a Resident of the Hilltop, Succumbs.

A Hilltop family last Friday was broken by death for the first time in 62 years.

The death of Mrs. Margaret Ann Ferguson, aged 90, of 433 S. Oakley Ave., was the first to break the family circle for over a half century.

Mrs. Ferguson was a resident of the Hilltop for more than 45 years, having moved to this district in 1890. She had seen the community develop from a sparsely settled area of unpaved streets and few houses to a thriving business and residential district of nearly 30,000 persons. She was one of the oldest residents of the community.

Her reminiscences covered the period of horse drawn street cars and kerosene lamps. She had seen the introduction of the automobile, the airplane and the electric street car.

The favorite memories of Mrs. Ferguson were the changes which had taken place in her life time on the Hilltop during the past 45 years. She delighted in recounting them to her friends before she was afflicted with her recent ailment.

Oakley Ave. Resident Witnessed Change From Horse-Drawn Cars to Modern Trolleys.

She is survived by her husband, six children, 29 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren.

The children, all Hilltop residents, are: B. A. Ferguson, 334 Highland Ave.; E. R. Ferguson, 307 Clarendon Ave.; Mrs. Harriett Charons, 417 S. Wheatland Ave.; F. D. Ferguson, 457 S. Oakley Ave.; Mrs. Lillian Kelley, 423 S. Oakley Ave., and H. P. Ferguson, 433 S. Oakley Ave.

Illness Allegedly Resulting From Impure Water Is Cause for $12,585 Legal Action.

Elvira and Edwin C. Evans, and Fredericka and Joseph A. Bodnar, all of 180 N. Harris Ave., along with seven other litigants, entered damage suits, Monday, in common pleas court against the Gloria Barbecue for $12,585.

Sales Tax Law Is Being Petitioned

circulated among non-members.

"Whereas, at a recent session of the legislature of Ohio an act was passed providing for the levy and collection of a tax upon sales of personal property at retail (known as House Bill No. 134), and

"Whereas, in section 7 of said act it is provided that the Treasurer of the State of Ohio "may appoint agents for the sale of prepaid tax receipts at such places in the state as he may deem expedient."

"Now, therefore, for the convenience of ourselves and of our near-by business associates who, otherwise, would be at a great loss of time in securing prepaid tax receipts.

"We, the Retail Dealers of Personal Property in that portion of Columbus, Ohio, known as "The Hilltop," ask and respectfully petition the Hon. Harry S. Day, Treasurer of the State of Ohio, that he appoint an agent for the sale of prepaid tax receipts at a Convenient Place in our midst where we may procure the necessary prepaid tax receipts with which to comply with the law."

REVIVAL SINGERS AT U. B. MEETINGS

Mr. J. N. Davis

Mrs. J. N. Davis

The Welsh evangelistic singers, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Davis of Oak Hill, are directing the song service at the Burgess Avenue U. B. church revival.

Mr. Davis has been at the meetings all this week and Mrs. Davis will attend them from tonight over Sunday. The services are to continue all next week.

Cradle of Deep a Tomb

Ocean depths, instead of being inhabited by strange monsters, actually contain only bacteria and plankton, microscopic marine plants, according to a scientist, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Fish and other organisms comparatively high in the scale of life could not live at great depths, the scientist asserts, because they could find nothing to eat and because the temperature would be unhealthy. Complete darkness, tremendous pressure and a low, constant temperature of about zero to three degrees centigrade are the conditions on the ocean's floor, and fish would be able to adapt themselves to the pressure and absence of light, but the low temperature would reduce greatly their metabolism. Much of the food in the "cradle of the deep" would be of no service, since fish and crustaceans have not the ability to extract dissolved organisms from the sea water.

The principal countries which send missionaries into foreign fields are: United States, Canada and Great Britain. A large portion of their wealth is contributed to this service.

Recipes That Utilize Milk For Flavor and Health

EVERY one knows that milk is an invaluable part of every child's diet but often adults are apt to pass it by in favor of foods that afford far smaller return in health and appetite appeal. If you happen to be one of those rare people who do not care for milk as a beverage, you'll find that you can include this important food in your diet by utilizing such recipes as these on daily menus.

Many of them are appropriate for children, as well, and you may provide the essential "quart a day" by serving them as substitutes for the liquid.

Mushroom Bisque

½ pound mushrooms
Slice of onion
Pepper
½ teaspoon salt
Paprika
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk or milk and cream
1 egg yolk.

Wash mushrooms. Chop and cover with 2 cups of water. Add onion and salt and cook about ½ hour. Press through strainer of medium mesh so that all the pulp goes through. There should be about 2 cups of pulp and stock. Melt butter, add flour then milk, gradually, cook—stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Season to taste with salt, pepper and paprika. Combine with mushroom mixture and just before serving with slightly beaten egg yolk. Top with whipped cream and paprika.

Split Pea Soup

1 cup dried split peas
2½ quarts water
⅓ cup diced salt pork
1 small onion, sliced
1 pint milk
2 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
4 or 5 drops of tabasco.

Wash the peas well and soak over night in 2 cups of thewater. In the morning add 2 quarts of water and simmer till peas are soft. Press the peas through a fine sieve, mix with the liquid from the peas, and place in a double boiler. Dice the pork in very fine pieces, cook it until crisp, and remove from the fat. Cook the onion in the fat until yellow. Mix the flour with the fat and onion and when blended add to the pea mixture with the milk and stir until thickened. Just before serving add the cubes of crisp pork. Garnish each serving with a slice of lemon.

Beets in Sour Cream

Cook 4 to 6 medium sized beets, peel and chop them coarsely, and place them in a saucepan, sprinkle with 1½ tablespoons of sugar, 2 tablespoons of vinegar, 1 tablespoon of butter, ½ teaspoon of salt and dash of pepper. Simmer for 5 minutes then add ½ cup sour cream blended with 1 tablespoon flour. Cook until thick and serve.

Escalloped Corn

2 cups corn
1 cup bread crumbs
⅓ cup butter, melted
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon paprika
1 cup milk.

Mix ingredients. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven.

Scalloped Salsify

4 cups sliced salsify;
4 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk

Buttered bread or cracker crumbs.

Cook salsify in rapidly boiling water until tender. Drain and add to a thin white sauce made of butter, flour and milk. Season with salt and pepper to taste and pour into a greased baking dish. Cover with buttered bread or cracker crumbs and bake for about 30 minutes.

Corn Rameklan

2 eggs
1 cup milk
2 cups canned corn, drained of the liquid
6 tablespoons grated cheese
¼ teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper.

Beat eggs until light, then add the milk, corn, salt, paprika and pepper. Rub 6 custard cups with shortening and fill with the corn mixture. Place the cups in a pan of hot water (half way up the sides of the cups) add a spoon of grated cheese to the top of each cup and bake in a moderate oven until firm. Serve with a tomato sauce made by adding seasoning and 1 cup finely sieved canned tomatoes to 2 cups of white sauce.

Macaroni with Ham

1 cup macaroni
2 tablespoons butter
1½ cups scalded milk
2-3 cup grated cheese
Salt and paprika
1-3 cup chopped ham

Break macaroni into small pieces and cook in boiling salted water 12 to 15 minutes, drain and let cold water run over macaroni to blanch it. Make a sauce using the butter, flour and milk; add cheese and as soon as cheese is melted add salt, paprika and macaroni. Let heat through and turn into a serving dish. Sprinkle with the chopped pimento.

Ham and Cauliflower

Break a small head of cauliflower into small pieces and drop in boiling salted water and cook until tender. Drain. Scald 1 pint of milk in a double boiler, add 3 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca, 3 tablespoons butter, ½ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Cook for 15 minutes stirring frequently. Put a layer of the tapioca mixture in a buttered baking dish, then a layer of cooked cauliflower and chopped boiled ham. Repeat and finish with a layer of the tapioca mixture. Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven until brown. This will serve 4 to 6.

Custard Bread Pudding

1 quart milk
2 cups soft bread crumbs
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup seedless raisins
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 eggs.

Scald the milk, bread crumbs, sugar, salt and butter in a double boiler. Pour some of the hot mixture into the beaten eggs, reserving 2 whites for the meringue. Combine all the other ingredients, pour into a greased baking dish and set in a pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven for about 1 hour or until the pudding is nearly firm in the center. When the pudding has partially set, stir well so the raisins will be distributed through the pudding. Other wise they will settle to the bottom of the dish. To make the meringue add 2 tablespoons of sugar to each well beaten egg white, and add a dash of salt and vanilla. Cover the pudding with the meringue and bake in a very moderate oven for 15 to 20 minutes. Serve hot or cold garnished with bits of jelly.

Egg a la King

4 hard cooked eggs
2 tablespoons fat
½ cup sauted mushrooms
2 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
Salt
Pepper
1 tablespoon chopped pimento

Cook eggs hard. Remove shells and allow to cool. Make white sauce of fat, flour and milk. Peel and slice about ½ pound of mushrooms; cook in a little butter 5 minutes. Add to white sauce with pimento and salt and pepper to taste. Slice eggs and combine with white sauce. Serve on thin toast or in patty shells. A tablespoon of sherry may be added just before serving.

Three Tempting Waffle Varieties

Golden Brown Waffles Adapt Themselves to Many Meals

Waffles for breakfast, swimming in maple syrup and served with tiny sausages, waffles for luncheon, made of corn meal and served with chicken, waffles for dinner made with fruit are ideal for dessert. Try this obligingly versatile hot bread for winter meals. If you use an aluminum iron, "try" it out first by heating and rubbing with shortening until the iron smokes. Let it cool, wipe off any excess shortening and let it smoke again. Repeat until the iron is well impregnated with fat. Then reheat, do not rub shortening on and drop a little batter on the iron. Bake by closing the iron 1½ minutes, by this time the waffle should be golden brown—if it is not, the iron has not been sufficiently hot. The aluminum waffle iron should never be washed, the baking surface may be rubbed with a clean, damp cloth.

Plain Waffles

1½ cups flour.
3 teaspoons baking powder.
½ teaspoon salt.
2 tablespoons sugar.
1 cup milk.
2 egg yolks.
2 tablespoons melted fat.
2 egg whites.

Measure, mix and sift the first four ingredients, add the milk gradually, then the egg yolks and melted fat and mix thoroughly. Last fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites.

Corn Meal Waffles

2-3 cup flour.
1-3 cup corn meal.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
1-3 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar.
2-3 cup milk.
2 eggs.
2 tablespoons melted shortening.

Sift flour with corn meal, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add milk, egg yolks beaten light and melted shortening. Fold in egg whites beaten stiff. Heat waffle iron, sprinkle with ½ teaspoon water and when iron stops steaming put in ¼ of the mixture. Cook until waffle stops steaming.

Nut and Raisin Waffles

Sift together 2 cups of flour, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons baking powder and ½ teaspoon salt. Add ½ cup seeded raisins and ½ cup chopped walnuts or pecans and toss until well mixed. Beat the yolks of 3 eggs into 2 cups of milk and add 1-3 cup melted shortening. Add this mixture to the dry ingredients and beat only until the dry ingredients are absorbed. Then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the 3 eggs. Place the batter in a pitcher, cover and keep in the refrigerator until time to use it. Then pour 3 or 4 tablespoons of the batter in the center of a heated waffle iron and bake. Serve with syrup.

Bears Are Beggars

There are three stages through which a bear passes, according to an authority. The first is fear of man, from whom he runs when he meets him in the wild. He next learns that man, who is really harmless, has the things he likes to eat. Eventually he learns that man is afraid of him, and will only give him these things when forced to do so. It is then that he becomes dangerous, and must be put out of the way by the proper authorities. Not only that, but he becomes a beggar bear, haunting the highways for passing motorists who will give him the titbits he loves, and neglecting to fend for the food that builds a bear up for the long hibernating period, preferring the cake and chocolate he is sure to get from the tourists.

Defeat and Victory

Defeat may serve as well as victory
To shake the soul and let the glory out.
When the great oak is straining in the wind
The boughs drink in new beauty, and the trunk
Sends down a deeper root on the windward side.
Only the souls that know the mighty grief
Can know the mighty rapture. Sorrows come
To stretch out spaces in the heart of joy
—Edwin Markham

The world's highest point at which people live is in a mining district in Chili, which is 18,400 feet. The next highest is a mining district in Peru, 16,2000 feet. In Tibet, there is a monestery at a height of 15,200 feet.

Germany lost, through the World war, 27,275 square miles of territory.

Do YOU Know—

It is estimated, that every minute during the day and night a fire occurs somewhere in the United States. Each year 15,000 persons are burned to death and many thousands injured. Fires destroy property worth $750,000,000 annually.

Because You Understand

By ETHEL TITUS WORTHEN

Dear Lord there is so much
Of sorrow in our land;
And with our finite minds,
We cannot understand.

You know each troubled heart;
The problems and despair
That often almost crush
Dear Lord you know and care.

What if the road is long
And rough! You, too, have trod
These paths; compassionately
You pointed us to God.

Help us be still and willing
To be guided by Thy hand;
There is so much of sorrow—
Dear Lord you understand!

Color of Meteors

The Leonid and Perseid meteors have a blue-white appearance when they strike the earth's atmosphere and burn up. This is because they approach the earth head on and the relative speed of motion is, therefore, the sum of their velocity and that of the earth in its orbit, amounting to about 40 miles a second. The Andromedes meteors, on the other hand, are reddish and fainter because they collide by catching up with the earth. Their relative speed of approach is only 11 miles a second. The difference is like that to be experienced in an automobile in a head-on vs. a rear-end collision while the two cars are moving.

It is not known who invented guns first, but a hand gun of rude construction was first used as early as 1446 in European warfare.

Why not patronize an established dealer. The time may come when you will need him. For good coal, buy Genuine Blue Star Coal, the "King" of all coal. Call us for prices, we try to meet competition.

The Innocent By-Stander

By Dick Washburn

SCOOP!

Next week I shall publish the smartest and most amusing bit of journalism I have witnessed in several years of effort for Ohio newspapers and magazines.

* * * * *

I do not claim entire credit for the idea. It came like a flash and like all good ideas was inspired by a woman's loveliness.

* * * * *

The idea superb, sublime and swell is this. Prominent women of this city of ours will tell their intimate all about their husbands and their husbands' friends.

* * * * *

Their private opinion publicly expressed of the men in their lives will fill this column next week. What they think at home but dare not say will be the theme.

* * * * *

Already, several lovely ladies have promised to write this sensational expose of the male, poor thing that he is, but any feminine reader is welcome to make contributions. Tuesday is the deadline.

* * * * *

These ladies' day opinions will not be signed and the males, revealed in the nakedness of their shame, shall have no quarter. Bare in the market place they shall stand.

* * * * *

After the manner of
"Life is a tale told by an idiot,

* * * * *

Major "Yab" telling me things I wouldn't tell anybody. . . . a Chevrolet parked on South Hague on a Wednesday after 12 o'clock noon with 1934 license plates, waiting until the coming of night so the owner could move it. Police! Police! . . . And those officers in the Radio Cruiser who became lost in the purple twilight FOG. . . . Babes in the woods. . . . What say, Leo P. and Lee H.? Did you ever tell your wives the truth about that? . . . The beauty parlor owner at Harris and Broad. . . . Watch that bobbie pin in your uniform. . . . Camp Chase Post members are caring for an eight-year-old child. . . . They give him all the care of tender mother love. . . . Doris at the Broad-Hague Pharmacy is still on a diet, but that's necessary. . . . I think she is pretty nice now. . . . Dave, the M&R milk man carries five milk bottle in one hand, s'help me. . . . Only he broke one the other day. . . . Out of form. . . . Swick's girlies are gone. . . . Male orchestra now and no eye-appeal. . . . They sit STILL who only stand and wait. . . . H. K. will play while the EYE isn't on him but is somber when it is. . . . Millie and Hope smile only at the old men. . . . So, you know what they think of you if they smile at-cha. . . . Both grinned at Doc. R. J. Miller last Tuesday. . . . C. J. Rice had an artistic Christmas window. . . . Who gets the credit line? . . . Two hardware men at Hague and Broad were trying to demonstrate a six-year-old's tricycle. . . . Very dignified. . . . Charly C. and Herb D. still protest ignorance on how Roy H. received the order for two bottles of beer. . . . Sherm E. is keeping them on ice. . . . Ruth was eating spaghetti and meat balls at the Broad & Hague Sandwich Shoppe last Tuesday. . . . And Claude Chrisman likes fried cheese. . . . S. E. still hungry and R. H. won't feed him. . . . Bill Clevenger turns over a new leaf. . . . Dave Elliott still rides the traction cars. . . . Verna and Bobbie at Tom's still play with the dolls they found under the Christmas tree. . . . A pinkhaired girl giving a manicure to L. P. . . . That local ball player who wears his baseball cap in the winter. . . . So people will know. . . . Those four men(?) in an auto I wrote about last week are crying. . . . Afraid we will tell the rest of the story. . . . Why don't you behave, then? . . . Stay home with mother where you will be safe. . . . Dock Goulding calls Otho Sisk, the barber, "Butch." . . . The wife of Bill Jones asked the maid whether she knew how to manipulate the new ironing board. The reply was, "I've used me sister's, but her'n ain't like your'n and neither is our'n." So long until next week's swan song

West Meets South In Home Contests

New Offense Adopted By Team for Tonight; Last Week's Games Reviewed.

Entering the game with a team fortified by an improved offense the West High school basketball team will play what promises to be a closely fought game with South on the local floor, tonight, 8:15 o'clock.

The reserves of each school will play at 7:15 p. m.

Line-up Announced

Prospective line-up for the varsity is: Burr and Redman as forwards; Hoffman at Center; Graves and Howison at guards. Burr is to act as captain.

Inside information calls for the contest to be a close one, the fans and downtown sports writers having underestimated the strength of South.

Wise Prediction, Schedule

Prediction of Coach Wise before the game was, "I'm not predicting any win for us, but it will be a well-played game on both sides."

Installation Held By Business Group

Minstrel Planned for March; Action Taken On Sales Tax Petition, Traffic Problem.

Judge C. J. Randall as presiding officer installed C. J. Rice as the president of the Hilltop Business Men's association at the meeting, Tuesday, at the Matsonia.

Favorable action was taken on a petition urging the secretary of state to appoint a local agent for the sales of prepaid tax receipts, required under the new sales tax law. The petition was signed for the association by Lew Saunders, secretary.

The Business Men's association also decided to appeal to the city safety director for changes in the traffic lights on West Broad street. Change in location of the one at Eureka and Broad to eliminate confusion and danger was urged. Re-arrangement of the timing will be urged for the three lights on West Broad street beyond Hague avenue to facilitate traffic.

March was set as the date of the association's minstrel, definite time to be decided later.

To Hold Charity Dance

A charity dance will be held Wednesday night at the West Gate Masonic edge for the benefit of its distressed brethren. It is to be sponsored by the Brotherly Love committee.

Building and Loan Issues Figures, Elects Officers

Showing a condition even better than many business titles of greatest improvement, the Hilltop Building & Loan issued its annual statement and announced its election of officers today.

The complete statement may be found on page two of this issue of the Hilltop Record.

An extremely low delinquent interest amount in proportion to the total mortgages is carried by the company. This may be revealed by consulting the statement on the aggregate delinquent interest and the total mortgages.

The present delinquent interest is slightly more than one-half of that of last year.

In moving to its new quarters the company has reduced its rent and thus saved $1200.00 annually.

The generally improved condition of the company is also shown by the fact that only six properties of real estate are in its hands.

The Building & Loan was admitted to the Federal Home Loan Bank system during the last year.

All officers and directors of the institution were re-elected. Nine of the present directors have served continuously for 12 years.

Officers re-elected are: Willard C. Eidson, president; E. H. Stauch, vice president; Herbert G. Deems, secretary; Lucille Glick, cashier; Morris Lopper, attorney.

Directors re-elected: L. C. Cline, Willard C. Eidson, Dr. T. B. Fletcher, Dr. T. S. Fox, W. J. Jones, John H. Lucas, W. L. Millikin, Dr. G. B. Nessley, Judge Cecil J. Randall, E. H. Stauch, Charles Walton, Dr. H. Whitehead.

More Than 25 Babies On Hilltop Enter Coming Contest and Show

More than 25 babies thus far have entered the baby show and contest on the Hilltop, to be held Thursday, under the supervision of Mrs. L. C. McGill, 59 N. Harris Ave. Mrs. McGill is the inventor of the Clar-Pat draught shield, a device to protect infants in their cribs from cold and damp air.

Doctor Warren Hicks, 2560 W. Broad St., has consented to act as one of the judges. The others who are to assist him will be chosen.

Prizes in the contest are: "Healthiest Baby," one Clar-Pat draught shield, one ticket from the Columbus Milk council good for ten quarts of milk and one good for five quarts. These prizes will be duplicated for the three winners of the contest for the title, "Most Active Baby." Age will be taken into consideration in the second contest.

Babies of one year or less are eligible.

Minstrel's Last Showing Tonight

Curtain to Rise On Cast of More Than 30 At West Broad Street School.

The curtain will rise tonight, 8:15 o'clock, for the last performance of the Old Time Minstrel at the West Broad Street school. More than 30 are in the cast.

Last night's and tonight's performances were planned to benefit destitute children and the music department of the school. A new piano is to be purchased from half of the profits. The other half is to be spent in the interest of needy children.

Floyd Green and his end-men will provide the first part of the program. They will be assisted by a chorus of 20 voices.

Members of the chorus and end-men offering solos are: Harry Barton, G. A. Sinclair, J. T. Moore, John Phillips, Glen Hoffman, Robert Jones, Dr. J. H. Czatt and Leo Phillips.

Man Eases Foot Pains Of Hizhonor's Spouse: Is Saved From Court Sentence

J. W. Miles, aged 45, of 200 N. Warren Ave., likes to invent things, particularly devices to ease foot pains, but he found, Friday, that his pastime nearly cost him a court penalty.

Frank M. Dorsey, inspector for the state medical board, lodged a charge of practicing chiropody without a certificate against the Warren avenue man.

When Miles came before Municipal Judge Ben Pfefferle the jurist recalled that Miles had made a rubber arch support for Mrs. Ben Pfefferle, and that it had worked "just dandy." The judge recalled that his wife had been spared much misery.

The charges were dismissed, the judge explaining that he understood that Miles merely made the contrivencies as a hobby and that he had not actually engaged in chiropody.

League Now Asks New Bridge Veto

Trolley Bus-Winning Southwest League Now Seeks New Victories In City Council.

The Southwest League, whose organization and efforts closed the two-year-old campaign to secure trackless electric busses for the Hilltop, has entered the council chambers again, this time to oppose the building of a Main street bridge.

A delegation of about 25 members appeared before council Monday night.

The group opposes the plan to build a proposed bridge across the Scioto River from Main street to Rich street. The project has been approved by the PWA officials in Washington and plans for it near completion.

The league members want the bridge constructed so that it will meet with Sullivant avenue on the west side of the river. City engineers have indicated that this is prevented by the railroad bridge.

The 600-foot bridge is to cost about $500,000. One-third is to come from a federal grant and a loan is to cover the rest of the amount. Bond issues were approved in November, 1933.

Unguarded Tracks Scene of Accident

Beer Truck Is Smashed By Pennsylvania Train; Driver Leaps to Safety.

A beer truck driver narrowly escaped death, Saturday noon, when his truck was demolished by a Pennsylvania passenger train at the unguarded North Eureka avenue crossing, scene of several accidents.

Dan Epley, 160 E. Third Ave., drove the truck on the railroad tracks where it stalled. Seeing the passenger train bearing down upon him, Epley jumped from the truck and escaped with minor side injuries. He was treated by a physician and released.

The Hilltop Business Men's association has been making determined efforts recently to have the railroad install proper warning or protection devices at this dangerous crossing, but to date no satisfactory action has been obtained, the association reports.

The rear end of the truck wrecked Saturday, bearing beer kegs, was left intact, but the cab and motor were demolished.

The train was in charge of Engineer Denser of Columbus and Conductor Edward Arnold, Xenia.

BRAVEST QUAKE AT NEW ORDERS

Roaring guns and gangland reprisal have left ten Hilltop city detectives unaffected, but they quivered with fear at recent orders of Safety Director Pealer.

Was this order which sent their hearts into spasms of flip-flops a demand to catch Helmie the Rat, Two-gun Snag or Jack the Ripper? Not at all. The boys would have welcomed this with glee.

They are fear strickened because of the order of the safety director to wear tuxedos at the coming inaugural ball of the governor, Martin L. Davey, Monday.

First requests were to wear complete formal clothes, but Pealer weakened in the storm of protest from the men. "All right, all right, tuxedos, then," he said firmly.

Even this didn't ease the fear of the boys. "Why, some of us ain't even seen a tuxedo," one of the detectives wept. "D'ya think we're a bunch of sissies?"

"Lookit me," wept a huge lad who has faced smoking guns unflinchingly, "I wear a size 50. Where can I rent a tuxedo?"

Another detective has threatened to get an album picture of the group in their regalia and then live for the balance of his life on blackmail from those in the picture.

CHURCH QUINTETS BEGIN FIRST PLAY

The West Church Basketball league swung into action last Tuesday night at Glenwood shelter house in a trio of well-played games, inaugurating the opening of the season.

As a result, when the final whistle blew for the evening, Hoge Memorial, Holy Family and Gift Street were on the long end of the scores. Sullivant Avenue Friends were granted a forfeit over St. John's Lutheran when the latter failed to appear.

Hoge Memorial registered a win of 29-18 over Avondale U. B. Holstein and Leach starred.

In the second game Holy Family defeated Glenwood, 26-24. Currier, Herron and McDonald stood out for heir good playing.

In the final effort Gift Street M. E. bunded West Park M. E. the short end of a 27-23 score, after trailing through most of the game. Carmen, Cullen, Hayburn and Sherman showed well or their respective teams.

The PEOPLES COLUMN

To the Editor:

I would like to mention an occurrence which happened at the West High Alumni dance last Saturday night, which for me, spoiled an otherwise perfect evening. The incident I refer to was the "grand rush" in the checking room after the dance.

I was in line (as were many others) when the last dance was concluded and the remaining dancers rushed the check room. No order was kept or could be kept when this "mob" arrived. As a fee is charged for the checking service I believe a system should be installed which would eliminate such conditions when a person has to wait from 15 minutes to half an hour for his clothes.

I am not condemning those in charge, Saturday night, but I do believe that clothes could be checked and reclaimed without such a scene as that which occurred.

—An Alumni Member.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to the relatives, friends and neighbors, for their kindness and sympathy show us during the death of our beloved husband and father, Russell Smith. Also wish to thank Rev. Motter and Rev. Davis for their consoling words, Mrs. Walton for the music and C. J. Kohn, undertaker, for his efficient service. Also wish to thank the Clarendon avenue and Bliss boulevard neighbors and all our friends for their beautiful floral offerings.
Mrs. Russell Smith and family.

What Makes It Rain, Snow, Hail?

Rain

Rain falls when the vapor in warm moisture ascends and becomes cool. This coolness causes the moisture to collect in particles and drops which become too heavy to stay suspended in the air.

Snow

When the vapor in the air condenses in a temperature lower than the freezing point (32 degrees) it freezes and a fall of snow is the result.

Hail

If you look at a hail stone you will see that it is made up of alternate layers of transparent and opaque ice. Hail is supposed to be formed by whirling over warm and cold air currents in the upper atmosphere. The moisture is condensed, then whirled through the successive heat and cold. In the warm air it takes on a coat of moisture which is frozen when it passes through the cold air currents. This process continues until hail stones fall.

Dew

Dew does not fall, but is the result of warm air passing over a cooler surface. The earth cools much more quickly than the air, and, when air comes into contact with any object sufficiently cool, moisture is condensed on that object. You see the same principle when a frost or film of moisture forms on the outside of a glass in which there is a cold liquid.

Frost

Frost is formed in the same manner as dew when the temperature of the ground or other object on which it is formed is below the freezing point (32 degrees). High winds, cloudy and smoke prevent the formation of frost even when the temperature is considerably lower than 32 degrees.

West-Central Game At Cowboy Court

Locals to Play As Under-dogs Tonight; Suffer Defeat By South in Close Contest.

After last Friday's heart-breaking, slim defeat at the hands of South before 400 wild fans, West High school's basketball team will go into tonight's contest as under-dogs with an ace Central quintet. The game will be played on the local floor, 8:15 o'clock.

The reserves of each school will begin play at 7:15 p. m.

Central is recognized as having the second best team in the city, East being considered first, and, considering West's "sloppy" playing last week, tonight's contest will be won by the invaders.

Inferior Ball Playing

The game with South was exciting and good from the fans' viewpoint because it was closely fought; but a very inferior game of ball was actually played by West, say those who know basketball.

The game required two overtime periods to break the deadlocked score and the final count was 23 to 22. The contest was a dog fight from beginning to end with neither team leading by more than three points after the middle of the first period.

The starting lineup for West was: Redman, Burr, Hoffman, Graves and C. Howison. Others to see service for West were, Ditrick, Gentile and Grosh.

Play By Play Review

Freeman of South opened the scoring with a free throw and Redman of West soon tied it up with a single pointer. Tapia of South then accounted for three points and Traphagen for one to give South the lead, 5 to 1, the biggest lead that either team could hold. Goals by Burr and Hoffman knotted the score at five all as the first quarter ended.

In the second period, Burr, Hoffman and Redman each tallied three points for West and for South Freeman scored six and Tapia two. The half ended with West leading by a score of 14 to 13.

Second Half

In the second half the offense of both teams seemed to bog down. Burr of West garnered four and Redman one point while Tapia accounted for four and Freeman for two points to tie the count at 19 all as the game ended.

Howison scored first in the overtime period but Tapia matched his basket and the gun again sounded with the count knotted. In the second overtime stanza Redman tallied one point and Foster of South came through with a twopointer to give the game to South, 23 to 22.

Get Pepsodent at TODD'S This Week
LAST CALL! ONLY 7 DAYS LEFT TO ENTER
AMOS'N'ANDY are giving $30,985 in Cash Free
FACTS TO HELP YOU WIN
This amazing opportunity for you to win as much as $2500 in cash is offered solely to induce you to try Pepsodent Tooth Paste for yourself . . . and see what a difference it makes in your teeth.
Some of Pepsodent's advantages are:
Contains no grit, pumice or soap.
Keeps teeth bright by removing film safely.
Cleansing and polishing agent proved softest of 15 leading tooth pastes and 6 tooth powders. Cannot harm enamel.
Removes food and tobacco stains from teeth.
Polishes teeth to natural luster.
Refreshing to gums and mouth.
Known as the only "special film removing tooth paste," recommended by thousands of dentists.
Money cannot buy a finer scientific dentifrice.
JUST IMAGINE! All you need to do is write not more than 50 words on "Why I Like Pepsodent Tooth Paste" . . . and follow the directions for winning printed at the right! And you may win $2500, or $700, or one of the many other real cash prizes in this great Amos'-n'Andy contest! In all, $30,985 in cash awards.
Could anything be easier? It doesn't make a bit of difference whether you're ten years old or seventy. Everybody has the same chance. "Fancy" writing doesn't count. Just your own reasons in your own words! Prizes will go to the best answers in the opinion of the judges. And don't forget . . . the very answer you jot down in a moment's time may be the big winner! It's just as simple as that! And really fun!
How to write a winning answer
Here are a few tips on the kind of letters that might win. A little boy could write: "Pepsodent tastes good and it keeps my teeth so bright." A mother could say: "I like Pepsodent because I've never found anything so safe for my children's teeth." Or a man could write: "Pepsodent certainly takes off tobacco stains like nothing else I've tried." See how simple it all is? You can do as well or better than these without half trying, can't you? The main thing is to keep your answer clear. And now here are two extra tips. Read the column on the left carefully. It tells about Pepsodent . . . and may give you a bright idea. And ask us, too, what we think about Pepsodent. That may be a big help.
And here's good news! You can't possibly lose in this contest! Because everyone who enters gets a prize . . . absolutely free. Yes sir . . . It's Amos'n'Andy's own funny map, that enables you to follow their adventures on the radio. BUT DON'T WAIT! The sooner you send in your 50 words or less the quicker the judges will be able to consider your letter. Just thinking about it won't win! Read the directions for winning at right. Write your letter and send it in AT ONCE. Your entry must be mailed before midnight, Sunday, February 3! Think what you can do with real cash . . . and get busy!

West Team To Play East Game Tonight On Home Gym Floor

"W" DANCE AFTER GAME

West Quintet Provides Double Surprise In Victory Over Central and Defeat By North.

After an amazing win over an ace Central quintet and an equally surprising and smashing defeat by North during the past week, West will put its erratic basketball team on the home floor tonight to struggle against East.

The reserve game at 7:15 p. m. will be followed by the contest between the varsities of the two schools at 8:15.

West High will put on the court a team which would be fairly good if it could carry out plays and if it could occasionally toss the ball near enough to the hoop to hit the backboards.

East Victory Foreseen

This remarkable aggregation of basketball stars who can flip the ball from any position on the court with equal indexterity may find itself on the end of a score not quite so short as that with North. A part of the poor playing which causes the sad work has been eliminated during the past week by determined coaching.

The "W" association of the school will hold a dance from 9:30 to 11:30 tonight, following the games. The same orchestra which played for the Alumni dance has been engaged.

Line-up for Tonight

The line-up of the West High varsity for tonight's contest will be Howison, Redman, Burr, Graves and Hoffman. The positions in which they will play is uncertain at present.

Double Up-set Monday and Friday

The wise heads were befuddled last week when the Cowboys put the Central Pirates on the plank, 30-24, and again Monday when they came back from North, crushed under a 30-19 avalanche. West is considered to be weaker than Central, the city's second best team, and stronger than North, a lagger, even though the Cowboys' ears were a bit frost-bitten.

Before Monday's game, the victory over Central put West in solidly as tying with South for second place.

Defeat Due to Loss of Men

The sad results of Monday's contest left West's basket throwing marvels on the lee for a 30-17 loss. The principal reason for catastrophe was the loss of Howison before the game, and Redman and Hoffman because of fouling. The consequent necessity of sending in substitutes did not assist the team to a spectacular victory. Burr was high man with a total of nine points. Redman and Gentile scored two each, Graves three and Hoffman one. Howison, stellar guard, was out because of illness.

In the North game nine of West's 17 points were scored from the free throw line. Eleven of North's points were scored in the same manner. In 32 minutes of play there were 28 personal fouls called on the two teams. Eighteen were called on West players and 20 on North. The constant blowing of the whistle, for the fouls and faults (traveling, double dribbling, etc.) made the game the longest we have ever seen played. The third quarter required 18 minutes to play eight minutes of ball.

Line-up of the reserves for tonight's game will be: Wylie, Weigand, Howison, Jones and Larkin.

After tonight's game Howison and Gresh are lost to the varsity through graduation. A call will most likely be issued for new material and two or three will be moved up from the reserves.

Youth Becomes Thief; Asked to Mend Ways

The thefts so far have been trivial, but such practice usually precedes more serious offenses as a youth grows older, Mr. Linville points out. Outlawry and penitentiary sentences usually result.

Parents are urged to ask their children account for any suddenly and mysteriously acquired wealth or merchandise.

The PEOPLES COLUMN

Editor Hilltop Record—
Dear Sir:

We hear a lot about school spirit and the great school sports, but how about the hoodlums who attend these school games, and who attend West High school?

It seems a pity to see high school boys and girls behave in the manner I have witnessed twice in as many weeks' time, I, as well as many other late street car riders, am tired after a day's work and it's anything but a pleasure to have to endure a long car ride with a pack of high school whelps. The first time they were pretty noisy and jostled one another on other people's tired feet but their antics of Monday night beat all.

When I boarded the street car downtown I noticed nearly all the lights in the street car were out—broken by those West High students on their way home from the West-North game. Windows also were shattered. They were not content with this, as they further proceeded to gather up snow and throw hard snow balls back and forth, striking some of the passengers myself included. For a person wearing glasses this is a very dangerous "sport," as I suppose they would term it.

Let us hope in the future these youngsters will be lectured more on good behavior on the students return from a game rather than put so much time on the school spirit attendance. West shows such poor spirit as it is we'd rather see it improve than sink lower.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. O. L. R.

TREASURE HUNT OPENS TODAY

Basketball Shares Sport-Light With Opening of Wrestling And Swimming

Western Quintet to Tilt With Aquinas Tonight; Groan Experts to Tussle With East This Afternoon; Aquatic Team Prepares for City Meet.

A heavy schedule of minor sports at West High today will share a portion of the sport-light with the city basketball title race.

In addition to the hard court game tonight with Aquinas, the wrestling team will engage East this afternoon and the swimming personnel, recently selected, will begin strenuous preparation for the city meet.

After its 38-27 drubbing by East [illegible] West High's varsity quintet plays host to the Aquinas Terriers tonight, 8:15 p. m., on the Powell [illegible]. The reserve game will be at 7:15 p. m.

The pony riders will [illegible] weakened by the loss of Howison and Grosh.

Howison has been a regular in the lineup, playing at guard and Grosh was Coach Wise's first choice when it was necessary to substitute. The results of the play in practice during the week will determine which of [illegible] place Howison. The [illegible] Ditrick, Gentile and [illegible] and Gentile have seen service in several games earlier in the [illegible] Francis has been [illegible] He saw a few minutes [illegible] East game last Friday [illegible] the gridiron flash will [illegible] play from now on in the hard court game.

Two Are Promoted

Mitchell and Highland [illegible] squad were promoted [illegible] over the week-end. A [illegible] for candidates for the reserve squad and 15 responded. Some of these were recent graduates from the Junior High school.

Summary of Last Game

West High's erratic hard court representatives dropped another game Friday, this time to East, 38-27 after leading just before the first quarter ended. Southworth of East caged one in the last few minutes [illegible] and the score stood at [illegible] end of the period.

In the second quarter [illegible] two points and Burr four for West, for East Ender and [illegible] up two each and Hess [illegible] to leave West leading [illegible] the half, 16 to 12.

Resume of Last Half

Butler of East started the scoring in the third period with a free throw. Burr matched this and [illegible] basket sending the score to 20 to 14. Motorist's Paradise, Tax Free Autos, Recalled By Owner of Tags From 1907

Only Complete Set of Self-Purchased Auto Tags In County Are Owned By Broad Street Man; Plates On Display At Ohio National Bank.

A complete set of Ohio license plates dating from the first issue of 1907 is now on display in the lobby of the Ohio National Bank, 2374 W. Broad St. The exhibit was prepared by C. G. Wilcox, bank manager.

This collection is believed to be the only one in the county and one of the few in the state in which all the tags were purchased originally by one person.

The licenses are the property of Robert Carnahan, 2933 W. Broad St., who bought one of the first two automobiles in Franklin county.

No Tags Required Before 1907

No state license tags were required for two years after his purchase. In 1907 the state-wide licensing system went into effect, and since that time for every year Mr. Carnahan has bought and saved his auto tags. He now has a pair for every year since they were made and sold.

Licenses Made of Porcelain

License tags for the first two years were made of porcelain, the rest being of the same metal of which they are now made. These tags bore no date, simply a number and to one side the letter "O" with an "H" inside.

Mr. Carnahan's first automobile, one of the first two in the county, was a

Sales Tax Accepted Cheerfully By Residents

Only a Single Sale Loss Reported By Local Merchants As First Week of Retail Tax Closes.

Only a single sale loss was reported by more than 70 merchants as they closed their first week under the Ohio Retail Sales tax, the majority of buyers evidently resigning themselves more or less cheerfully to the toll.

One grocery market reported that a customer in the habit of buying 25 cents worth of chewing tobacco daily declared, "I'll quit chewing before I'll pay the — tax." Later in the day he came back and shamefacedly bought a five cent plug of chewing tobacco. "I couldn't get along without it," he admitted. The five cent plugs are free from the new tax.

Most of the merchants reported not only that they lost no sales because of the new levy, but that there were no greatly increased sales for the few days preceding Monday, the day the tax went into effect. (such sales would have escaped the levy). The explanation is that nearly one hundred dollars would have to be spent before any consequent savings ($3.00) could be made. Most families are unable to invest that much money in advance in order to make the saving.

Few grumblings were heard during the first week of the tax, the payers evidently recognizing the necessity. The Retail Sales tax has been made essential in order to pay government employes and obligations, maintain state functions and to keep the schools running at the present level of efficiency.

"Only through the funds raised by this measure (sales tax) will the schools be able to continue on their present efficient level," Dr. H. H. Reighley, principal of

House-Boat Constructed At Hilltop Lumber Concern To Be Used In Zanesville To Florida River Cruise

Pictured to the left is the house-boat under construction at the summer at the McDonald Lumber company, corner of Morgan [illegible] and the Penns[illegible]

The craft is being constructed for a cruise next spring, [illegible] to Florida, via the Muskingum river and Mississippi river [illegible] of Mexico.

The exterior hull of the craft has been completed, finishing on the interior and mounting of engines remaining to be done in the winter before early spring.

The house-boat is a 60-footer and will be powered with a Diesel engine. All the comforts of home will be provided, electric light system, and even a washing machine are to be installed. Stanley Fielding, owner of the Richard Ave., reports.

Owner of Old Licenses Recalls Tax Free Autos

one-cylinder Reo. To use his own words, "It could be heard a mile in advance of its coming."

Auto Hauled On Hayrack

"The automobile arrived in Hilliards during a heavy snow and had to be hauled to the garage on a hayrack. Frequent 'break-downs' prevented its continued use."

No provision had been made at this time for state licensing and federal taxation of those "new-fangled" contraptions. A buggy tax was in effect but this was held to be not applicable to automobiles. Some municipalities had license requirements, but since Mr. Carnahan lived outside the city limits he escaped this tax.

No Gasoline Levy

There was not even a retail levy on gasoline, the selling price being seven cents a gallon.

The first demand for state taxes came in 1907 and the licenses were good for a year and a half.

Mr. Carnahan's first automobile, the one-cylinder Reo, was followed with the purchase of a Buick roadster, and 12 years later, with the purchase of a Scripps-Booth. After owning the last car for 16 years, he recently traded it for a 1935 Chevrolet.

February Menus Must Be Balanced In Rich Foods

NOW is the time to plan menus that will yield an abundance of heat and energy—menus rich in fats and sugars, but with a balance of fruits and vegetables. The resourceful cook finds a wealth of food supplies of exactly the type needed for winter health. Such foods as are found in the following menus, for example.

French Pea Soup
Ham Creole
Baked Idaho Potatoes
Tomato Mold With Vegetables
Oatmeal Muffins
Apple Betty
Coffee

French Pea Soup

To 1 can of concentrated pea soup add 5 lettuce leaves, shredded, 1 teaspoonful 1 tablespoon sugar, 3 cups water. Cook until lettuce is tender and through a sieve and add 3 cups boiling water. Garnish with whipped cream and chopped parsley.

Ham Creole

1½ pounds ham, ½ to ¾ inch thick
1 No. 2½ can tomatoes
1 green sweet pepper (cut fine)
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
1 small onion
1 tablespoon sugar
Few drops Worcestershire sauce

Brown ham quickly in a deep frying pan. Add the chopped pepper to the tomatoes, onion and seasonings. Pour over the ham, cover and let simmer slowly until the ham is tender.

Tomato Mold With Vegetables

4 teaspoons gelatine
2 tablespoons cold water
2 cups cooked or canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon scraped onion
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ cups cooked lima beans
1 teaspoon onion finely chopped
½ teaspoon salt
French dressing
Mayonnaise

Soak the gelatine in the cold water. Cook the tomatoes and seasonings for 10 minutes and strain off the liquid. Dissolve the gelatine in the hot liquid. Pour into a ring mold and chill until firm. Toss the beans, chopped onion, ¼ teaspoon salt and French dressing together lightly and chill 30 minutes. Drain thoroughly. When the jelly is firm unmold on crisp lettuce. Pile the vegetable mixture in the center. Serve with mayonnaise.

Oatmeal Muffins

Two cups oatmeal soaked overnight in 2 cups sour milk. Just before mixing add 2 teaspoons soda, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 egg, pinch salt and 1 cup flour. Bake in gem pans in a hot oven.

Apple Betty

2 cups apple sauce unsweetened
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup graham cracker crumbs
3 tablespoons chopped walnut meats
½ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
4 tablespoons butter
2 teaspoons candied orange peel

Use thick apple sauce. Add cinnamon and let cool. Spread in a shallow baking dish and top with graham cracker crumbs to which nut meats, brown sugar, lemon rind and butter have been added. Bake in a hot oven until top is brown. Sprinkle with candied orange peel cut fine. Serve with cream.

Basketball Shares With Opening of Minor Sports

Last Quarter of Play

In the final tilt, Burr with three, and Graves with two points did the only scoring for West. For East, Harbs tallied three, Southworth one, Butler four and Ender two. This finished the game with East leading 36 to 27.

For West, Burr was high point man with 12 and Reimann second with six. For East, H. Harbs lead with 11 rounded by Butler with nine, Ender with eight and Southworth 7.

The West reserves lost the opener last Friday after leading 6 to 5 at the half. The final score was East 6 and West 13.

Wrestling and Swimming

The minor sport season is under way at West High school with the wrestling and swimming squads hard at work under the direction of Coach Incle C. Chrisman.

The swimming team was the first to appear in actual competition when it met North's aquatic stars in a practice meet last night.

The wrestling team will start its season at East when they meet the latters in a dual tilt this afternoon.

The amateur wrestling game is a very different sport from that engaged in by the professionals. No punishing holds are allowed and wrestlers must be their adversary by skill.

Strangle holds, full Nelson, toe hold and holds over mouth, nose and eyes are barred. The use of the scissors, the hammerlock and double wristlock is limited to protect the contestants. The sport as engaged in by the high schools and colleges is a tidy and illuminating one in comparison to the professional game's brutality.

About 30 boys reported for the squad when practice started three weeks ago, but this number has been cut to 15. The following will most likely see service against East today:

Ralph Waldo, 115-pound class; Robert Brownfield or Don Watts, 125-pound class; Forest Highfield, 135-pound class; Roland Ecker, 145-pound class; Harry Trautman or Marion Brandenburg, 155-pound class; 165-pound class, he one who does not see service in the previous class.

Others who may compete in later meets are Jack Parker and Eddie Walker. Meets are already scheduled with Dayton and South. Still more may be added later.

The personnel of the swimming squad after four weeks of practice has been reduced to 15 and those who may compete in the city meet are: free style, Don Tiller, Boy Moyer and Jack Parker; back stroke, Parker and Lewis Ely; breast stroke, Bill Ferguson and Fritz Helm. The relay team has not been selected as yet. The divers of the squad are Charles Grubbs and Helm.

The team is working out in the Y. M. C. A. pool and may be expected to give the other schools of the city some stiff competition.

Intramural Sports

The inauguration of an intramural sports program at West Junior High school has resulted in 620 boys playing in regularly scheduled games in organized leagues.

These games are played in the physical education classes in addition to the other activities. There is a total of 26 teams playing in 12 leagues. The games are scored and officiated by the boys themselves, thus giving them a familiarity with the rules, in addition to the surprise and sport of the game itself.

The program was instituted by George Williams and Claude Chrisman, physical education teachers at the Lowell avenue school. This is the most comprehensive intramural program ever staged at the institution.

New Equipment Purchased

Another evidence of the increased interest in sports at the school is the response to the sale of season tickets for the basketball, baseball and track teams activities. Four hundred tickets were sold in comparison to only 125 sold last year. The money is being used to equip the teams and for other athletic equipment. New wool suits were purchased recently and paid for out of the money raised by the sale of tickets.

Illustrated Sermons

On Sunday night, Rev. Charles E. Haworth, pastor of the Highland Avenue Friends church, will begin a series of illustrated sermons on the theme, "Lessons From the Ancient Tabernacle".

A large plan of the Tabernacle is to be placed on the platform to be used in illustration of lessons taught in the Old Testament Hebrew center of worship. The subject for the first sermon will be "Christ in the Tabernacle." The meetings are open to the public.

Lytle Rites Held

Last rites for William E. Lytle, 30, of 80 Midland Ave., were held Monday at St. Aloysius church. Burial was in Logan by Speare & Born.

Mr. Lytle leaves his widow, Mrs. Mable Lytle; two children, Helen and William F.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lytle; a sister, Mrs. H. P. Divney of Galion, O.; a brother, Joseph F.

West High School's Faltering Five To Meet South Tonight

Last Week's Loss Drops Cagers To Fifth Place; Reserves Top Terrier Five.

After dropping to a tie for fifth place with Central, West's faltering Cowboy five meets South tonight on the Ann street floor.

With Mitchell in Howison's place at guard, the Cowboy offense slumped last Friday night and Aquinas won easily by a score of 20-21.

Lineup Repented

Tonight at South, Coach Wise may start the same lineup as last week or Ditrick may replace Mitchell at guard. Mitchell in his first varsity competition looked good on the defense, his man scoring only one point, but on the offense he was not effective, scoring only one point himself.

Aquinas Leads in Opening

Aquinas started with a bang last Friday getting off to a 9-0 lead in first few minutes of the game. West's only score in the first quarter was from free throws by Burr and Graves.

The first quarter ended West 2, Aquinas 9.

In the second quarter big Bill Burr stepped into action and garnered six points, seconded by Graves with two, running West's total to 10.

Goals by Willard and Litzinger gave Aquinas the advantage at the half, 13-10.

Free Throwing In Third Period

In the third stanza West's scoring was confined to free throws by Redman, Burr and Mitchell. Aquinas totaled seven with goals by Litzinger, Boehm and Willard and a freethrow by Aquila.

The final period was more evenly contested, with Aquinas scoring nine to West's eight. Goals by Ditrick, Hoffman and Burr with two freethrows by Redman accounted for West's eight points.

Burr Is Top Man

Litzinger was high scorer with 11 points and Burr topped the Cowboys with 10. Willard also was high with eight points. For West, Burr was the only man to score more than three points.

Redman, who at the start of the season look like the best of the Cowboy hard court players, has slipped and while his floor work is still brilliant at times he has a tendency to take cock-eyed shots at the basket rather than pass to a teammate in a more advantageous position. If this fault can be corrected the team may again break into the win column.

Reserves Top Terriers

The Reserves resumed their winning ways after losing three straight tilts by defeating the Terrier Reserves, 29-17.

Perhaps it is a bit early for predictions, but with Larkin, Jones, Wylie and Weigand fully seasoned by a year of reserve play we think that Coach Wise will have a varsity next year which will give Messrs. Kessler, Ross, Boland, Jones and Webster many a headache.

Complaints Cause Vice-Squad Drive; No Arrests Made

Complaints that West High school children are gambling lunch pennies and dimes on the "number racket" and on dice games held in pool rooms quickly converted into gambling dens brought orders this week from Vice Squad Chief C. C. Newport to "crack-down."

Orders have gone out from the vice-chief to "clean-up" all vice sections of the city.

Dice Games In Pool Halls

Specific complaints from the Hilltop are against the "number writings" engaged in by scores of Hilltop businesses and against a pool room on West Broad street which is quickly converted into a dice gambling "joint," especially in the early morning hours. Objectors allege that high school youths have lost money in the early morning dice games.

The number-racket, city-wide and reputedly backed by men in high position, is engaged in openly, but precaution is practiced by the gambling "pool halls."

Secrecy Observed in Gambling

The dice games swing into full activity only after "closing hours" and each person who enters is closely observed. Old customers vouch for unknowns, and if a suspected person who might be a "dick" enters, the management and players quickly "cover-up."

"Fuel Room" Is Watched

One such "pool room" in the vicinity of the high school has been under surveillance by the vice squad but no arrests have been made. Difficulty in securing evidence makes arrests difficult.

Orders from the squad head to members and policemen included in the personnel are, "make all arrests possible in sections from which numerous complaints have been made to the department of morals violations."

TO PRESENT DRAMA AT CINCINNATI, SAT.

"The Great Choice," to Be Presented At Youth Meet of Disciples of Christ.

A number of young people from the Hilltop Church of Christ will go to Cincinnati to present the peace play, "The Great Choice," tomorrow evening, at the Youth Meet of the Disciples of Christ of the Southwestern district of Ohio, Feb. 8, 9 and 10.

The cast of the play is as follows: Juanita Aikire, Janice Munyan, Evelyn Wilkes, Hettie Douglass, William Scharenberg, Jr., Monty Lambert, Charles Ditrick, and James Roberts.

Other young people who have no part in the play will attend the meet.

West Gate Dance Heads Functions

County Commissioner to Address Group, Monday; Dinner and Dance Wednesday, Feb. 20.

David Shade, county commissioner, will address the West Gate Masonic lodge on the subject, "County Government and Relief," Monday, and the annual dinner-dance will be held Wednesday, Feb. 20.

Aladdin Temple Shrine Pickadores are to present entertainment for the evening. Baumbusch and his entertainers providing the music for the dance.

The entertainment committee planning the dinner-dance consists of: Past Masters J. J. Rings, W. O. Elder, W. L. Dorsey, W. O. Burch and Cecil J. Randall.

David Shade, the speaker for the next regular meeting of the lodge, Monday, is a county commissioner, and from that position has had an opportunity to observe the complexities and difficulties of relief work from a governmental viewpoint. He is to address the Masons on relief work as he has learned of it from his observation and experience.

School Crisis Not Saved By Sales Tax

Fund Distribution Delayed Until Mid-Summer, Below Expectation, Says Skinner.

Ohio Schools are faced with a shortage of funds with no relief in sight until July because approximately $18,000,000 of the estimated $60,000,000 sales tax yield must be used for fixed allocations, Dr. R. O. Skinner, state director of education, reports.

This situation has come about because the bulk of the sales tax receipts prior to July 1 must be deducted for old age pensions and relief, as provided by law, before the schools get their percentage, Dr. Skinner explained.

The education director also expressed considerable doubt as to whether the sales tax returns will come up to the tax commission's estimate.

"At the time of the passage of the sales tax the general tax committee estimated that the levy would net bring over $75,000,000," he said. "All other estimates have been below this figure."

Treasure Hunt Ends Monday For Prizes In 78 Local Stores

Last Minute Rush Occurs On Final Day For 350 Prizes Valued At $500.00.

The Hilltop's most successful Treasure Hunt ended Monday after being in effect for three days, Friday, Saturday and Monday.

Thousands of residents visited the 78 stores cooperating in offering the amusing and profitable pastime to the community.

More than 350 individual prizes, valued at more than $500.00 were offered to those who entered the contest. These useful and valuable prizes ranged in cost from 25 cents to $15.00. They included overcoats, dresses, shoes, coal, gasoline, permanent waves, furniture, food and many other items.

No cost, obligation or restriction of any kind was imposed on adult members of the community entering the competition. The rules required children under 15 to be accompanied by parents before a prize might be claimed. However, children were permitted to locate winning numbers for their parents who held numbered coupons.

Indeed, some enterprizing youths made an effort to copy the 350 winning numbers displayed in Hilltop stores, to check these numbers against those held by householders. If they corresponded the youths charged for the information concerning in what store the numbers might be found. One lad had collected 16 cents early Saturday by this method. The rates varied with the value of the merchandise which might be claimed.

NEW BUSINESS IS RESULT OF HUNT

Enterprising youths created a new and profitable business for themselves as a result of the community-wide treasure hunt held by 78 Hilltop stores last week-end.

The method of operation of the young business men was to visit the stores cooperating and to copy the numbers displayed. They then visited householders who held coupon bearing numbers. If this coupon number matched one held by the youths they then offered to sell (for a price) in which store the number might be found.

One lad, Oscar Spang, aged 14, of 2325½ W. Broad St., working with a list of 150 numbers, reported "takings" of 16 cents early Saturday.

Do You Know That--

Rainfall in England for the year ending May 31, 1934, is said to have been the lowest ever recorded there.

During the past four years two hundred new products have been announced by the manufacturers of New England alone.

An industrious statistician has figured that in 1934 some 30,000,000 persons in America indulged in 1,000,000,000 swims.

Although only 6 2-3 per cent of the people of the world are Americans, Americans hold 70 per cent of the world's insurance.

The seals feet of fins are called flippers.

There are 102,086 civil engineers in the United States as revealed by the census of 1930.

Try the Following Menu For a Well-Balanced Meal

Roast Pork With Garlic
Potatoes Stuffed With Carried Succotash
Onion Souffle
Waldorf Salad
White Bread
Steamed Apricot Pudding

Roast Pork With Garlic

Loin or shoulder roast may be used. Slash the roast at intervals of about 2 inches and insert thin slices of garlic deep in the meat. Rub the roast with a mixture of flour, salt and pepper. Place in roasting pan with a little water. Make gravy of the drippings with flour and milk.

Potatoes Stuffed With Carried Succotash

6 large potatoes.
Curry sauce.
1 No. 3 can of 2½ cups succotash.

Wash the potatoes and bake in a moderate oven until tender, 45 minutes to 1 hour. Drain the succotash. Save the juice for the sauce. Combine the succotash with the curry sauce, scoop out the center of each baked potato and fill with the hot carried succotash. Mash and season the scooped out potatoes and pile on the top attractively. Brown in a moderate oven. If desired grated cheese may be sprinkled on the top just before baking. The curry sauce for this recipe is made as follows:

2 tablespoons fat.
2 tablespoon chopped onion.
½ teaspoon mustard.
1 teaspoon salt.
Dash cayenne.
2 tablespoons flour.
1 tablespoon curry powder.
1 cup milk or vegetable liquid.

Heat the fat. Add the onion, mustard, salt and cayenne to it. Cook until the onion is tender. Add the flour and curry powder and stir well. Add the milk or vegetable liquid gradually and cook, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Corn, peas, lima beans or any mixed vegetable may be substituted for the succotash if you prefer.

Onion Souffle

1 pound onions.
4 tablespoons butter.
3 tablespoons flour.
½ teaspoon salt.
1 tablespoon chopped parsley.
1-3 cup cream.
3 eggs.
¼ teaspoon pepper.

Peel and cook the onions in boiling salted water until tender. Drain, reserve the water and put the onions through a sieve. There should be about 1½ cups of onion pulp. Make a thick sauce by melting the butter and stirring in the flour. When well cooked add the salt and pepper and 1-3 cup of water in which the onions were cooked. Remove from the heat and stir in the cream and the onion pulp. Beat the egg yolks until thick and add to the onion mixture, then fold in the beaten egg whites. Rub a casserole or individual ramekins with shortening, pour in the mixture, set in a pan of hot water and cook in a very moderate oven for about 25 minutes. Garnish with parsley and serve at once.

Waldorf Salad

1 cup chopped apples.
½ cup chopped celery.
1-3 cup chipped walnut meats.
½ teaspoon salt.
¼ teaspoon paprika.
Mayonnaise.

Combine the ingredients and serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Steamed Apricot Pudding

Cream 2 tablespoons of butter and a tablespoon of sugar, add 1 beaten egg. Sift 2 cups of flour with 2 teaspoons of baking powder and ¼ teaspoon salt. Add the dry ingredients alternately with 1 cup of milk. Grease 1 pound baking powder can and fill 2-3 full with alternate layers of the batter and apricot jam. Place on a rack in a kettle with boiling water and steam tightly covered for 2½ hours. Serve hot with lemon sauce.

Cowboy Matmen Lose First Contest to East

The West wrestling team lost its first dual meet to the representatives of East High last Friday afternoon by a score of 34-15.

Waldo won his match by pinning Houser of East in 3 min. 2 sec. Alban pinned Sexsmer of East in 4 min. 45 sec. and Hatfield pinned Martin of East in 1 min. 3 sec. These were West's only victories.

Simmons, Brownfield and Eckard lost their matches on decisions and Brandenburger, Troutman, Parker, Watts and Baker were pinned by their opponents. The referee was Art Boehm of O. S. U.

The Cowboys looked good in defeat and with more seasoning may be expected to make their mark in the coming city and state meets.

BARBLER BACK WITH BASKETS OF BIDDY BITS

Swiftly to work with refreshing facts and flashes from fraywberg: Don Kingery, who was 2nd high in the mining engineering class at OSU a couple yrs. back, is in Hawaii. . . . H. C. Shetrone never wears a vest. . . . Bill Bunner, former Hilltopper, will get a master's degree from the institution at 15th and N. High in August. . . . John Bachman, another x-resident here, is president of the sophomore class at Capital U. . . . John Stevens, who actually loves to wear a tux, will never again buy Gardenias. . . . Chet Henery wants you to say "rubber tired baby buggy" distinctly—but with great rapidity—three times. . . . And Chet Brady's aunt in Greenfield, O., is a subscriber to Carlton Hartley's Daily Times, but collects the week's papers on Friday so "she can get all the news at once." . . . Exclusive Flash: Broad-Hague banger utters note: The much-mentioned Milly is the mother of an 8-yr.-old boy. Item of similar import: Dee (Wimpy) Siegwald can wiggle her ears.

Quotations, quips, and crispy cracks of caustic comment: "I don't know any of them people ya write about, but I read it anyway"—John Hipple. . . . "Wonder when my brother (Larry Minshall) will get married?"—Chas. (Army) Minshall. . . . Ed. Miller: "Winamin's the bunk." . . . Ann Raether tells of mama, papa and baby of the Bigger family. She wonders who is the biggest? Baby, of course, for he's a little bigger. . . . Street Scene: Margie Marshall and Lu Raether discussing their respective nose operations. . . . Mrs. Edith Ray Zelkof weighs 113 lbs. . . . Dick Baesman shaves with the same electric razor listed here issues and issues ago. . . . Wonder if Otto Schatz, the paper hanger upper, still drives that gadget (auto to him) which the tree fell on last summer?

Papa Bigger succumbed and interment was by the old mill stream. Now who's the biggest? Why papa, of course, by a dam site. . . . Chas. (Chuck) Boye will graduate from OSU with distinction. Genetics is his line. . . . In a survey of the community by federally employed agents, the following young men's aggregations were listed as outstanding: Owl's, Derby, A. A. P. O. . . . Ray Hill, who was only an end man here, directed a huge revue and minstrel show in Norfolk, Va., a quartet of fortnights back. . . . One who KNOWS says that the regular tackles on the OSU football team next yr. will be Hamrick and Deshler—if Dib is eligible . . . Ed. Ferguson has labored five months, and with the last report, had not finished A. Adverse. . . . Frank Howard is an accountant with Goodyear in Indianapolis. Just so he doesn't carry over his butchering (he was formerly with Armour's) into the new job! . . . There's no clock in the Ferguson parlor because it's a constant reminder for people to go home.

Report: Jerry Spears won his numerals in football at Oberlin last fall. . . . Roody (surely you remember the gentle roody?) Buesman, is tending book-keeping duties for the State Liquor Commish. . . . Bill Boyd is learning to typewrite. Rumor hath it that he mauled so badly when he popped the ? at Margie that she required the thing in print: Let this dept. be the first to squelch such idle gossip. The rocket has been presented and the contemplated union announced. . . . Scoundrel Stooge, first as usual, reports that there are 261 shopping days 'til Xmas. . . . Bill Knox is working on the preliminary survey of the Scioto-Sandusky conservancy project. His offices are in the AIU bldg. . . . And so: We'll be back in a week with some flashes, a few flickers, and we hope (note that "we," N. W. Kent), a minimum of flops. Also maybe a flare, featuring Ellmore Afton (boldtype) Price.

G. O. P. Club Meeting

The regular meeting of the G. O. P. club will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 19, at Johnson's Hall, 414 S. Oakley Ave. at 8:00 o'clock. Mrs. Howard C. Gilbert will be principle speaker and following the meeting a social time will be held.

Cowboys Ready For Tilt With Bucks At Central Tonite

Wisemen Still Have Title Hopes As Scholastic Race Becomes More Muddled, Burr Leads.

West High school's on-again-off-again basketball team, by no means out of the much-muddled scholastic race, will meet Central High on the Pirate hardwood tonight. The loser of the battle, once and for all, will be eliminated from this year's goufalon gallop.

The Cowboys had one of their "on" nights last Friday evening, and obtained ample revenge for the stinging defeat suffered at the hands of South early in the first round. Asking no quarter and giving none, the Hilltoppers took the Bulldogs into camp by a 30 to 25 score, and at the same time gave the Blue title hopes a severe shock. It was the third game of the season out of the seven played that the dope was knocked for a cocked hat by the Wisemen.

Hoffman was the team's leading scorer, the big fellow tallying six field goals and a free throw from his new position at forward. After the lead had changed hands thrice in the first half, West took a 17 to 13 advantage at the intermission. They were not headed in the second half, though often hard pressed. Burr, who now leads the league's scorers with 61 points, garnered a trio of fielders to gain his usual six points.

Let's Give a Birthday Party In Memory of Washington

Since Washington's Birthday is a holiday why not give a "Washington Birthday" party and decorate the table with all the festive decorations suitable for that day, such as hatchets, cherry trees and even images of Martha and George Washington, themselves. There may also be favors for the guests, like George Washington hats for the men or boys, and Martha fans for the ladies and girls. Even the games you choose may be in keeping with the day.

Braquette of Chicken and Peas
Melba Toast and Jam
Chocolate Sticks, Gingersnap Hatchets
Prune Ice Cream
Milk or Cocoa

Braquette of Chicken and Peas

2 cups milk
3 tablespoons shortening
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 cup cooked diced chicken
1 cup canned peas
1 egg white
6 hard French rolls

Make a cream sauce of the first five ingredients; when thoroughly cooked mix half with the chicken and peas. With a sharp knife cut a thin slice off the tops of the rolls and remove the soft centers. Fill with the creamed chicken and peas. Beat the egg white and fold into the remaining white sauce. Pour a tablespoon of this sauce on top of the creamed mixture in the rolls. Replace the tops. Spread the remaining sauce over the rolls and bake in a moderate oven for 15 or 20 minutes.

Chocolate Sticks

1 cup brown sugar
½ cup melted shortening
1 egg
2 squares chocolate melted
½ cup flour
½ cup seeded dates
½ cup nuts
Powdered sugar for coating sticks

To the brown sugar add the melted shortening and the slightly beaten egg and beat well. Add the chocolate, which has been melted over hot water; the flour, the dates which have been cut into quite small pieces and the nuts broken into bits. Beat well. Line an 8-inch square cake pan with heavy white paper, greasing this lining with butter. This chocolate mixture cooches easily and the paper lining of the pan lessens the danger of burning the cookies. Bake in a moderate oven for about 20 minutes. When it is done remove from the pan and while still warm cut into small strips about ½ inch wide and 3 inches long. Roll these in powdered sugar at once.

Gingersnap Hatchets

Boil together for six minutes 1 cup each of shortening, brown sugar and molasses. Cool to lukewarm, add the grated rind of 1 orange, 3 well beaten eggs, 1 teaspoon ginger and flour to make a stiff dough, sifted with ½ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon soda. Chill, roll very thin and cut in hatchet shape. Decorate with nuts.

Prune Ice Cream

2½ cups sweetened condensed milk
2 cups water
½ teaspoon lemon extract
1 cup whipping cream
½ pound prunes

Cook the prunes in the water until tender. Do not sweeten. Force through a course sieve. This will make about ½ cup pulp and ½ cup juice. Blend together the sweetened condensed milk, prune pulp, with juice and lemon extract. Chill. Whip the cream to a custard-like consistency and fold into the chilled mixture. Pour the mixture into the freezing pan and place in the freezing unit. After the mixture has frozen to a stiff mush (1 to 2 hours) remove from the refrigerator. Scrape the mixture from the sides and bottom of the pan and beat for 2 minutes. Smooth out and replace in the freezing unit for 3 hour or until frozen for serving. In serving sprinkle the top of each portion with red candy coloring.

Baked Virginia Ham with Cherry Garnish

Scrub the ham and soak it in cold water for 24 hours. Then wrap closely in cheesecloth, sew it into place and put over the fire to cook in boiling water. Simmer very slowly for four or five hours; leave overnight in the water in which it was cooked, remove the covering and peel away the outer skin. Brush with beaten egg, cover thickly with brown sugar and mark into diamonds; place a maraschino cherry with whole cloves, sprinkle a little lemon juice over the ham, add a pint of cider or white wine to the pan, cover and bake one hour in a slow oven. Chill thoroughly before slicing.

Beets a la Fisse

Boil 8 or 10 beets, grind in food chopper (canned beets may be used). Make a sauce of 1 teaspoon flour, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon vinegar, ½ cup water and seasonings. Mix beets in sauce, cook 10 to 15 minutes. Add ½ cup sour cream and serve.

Escalloped Potatoes

Peel and slice thin 6 or 8 potatoes. Place in a casserole and cover with milk. Add salt and pepper and dot top liberally with butter. Bake until potatoes are tender.

Pineapple Muffins

2 cups flour
3 tablespoons sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2/3 cup evaporated milk
2 eggs
½ cup water
¾ cup crushed pineapple
3 tablespoons butter

Sift the dry ingredients. Beat the eggs and add the evaporated milk and water, then add the dry ingredients and beat until smooth. Melt the shortening and add with the pineapple which should be well drained. Bake in a greased muffin pan in a hot oven.

Strawberry Ice Cream Cake
The Cake

1 cup flour plus 3 tablespoons cake or pastry flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
½ cup hot water
2 teaspoons lemon extract

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Beat egg yolks until creamy, add half the sugar slowly and continue beating. Add hot water and the remaining sugar and beat for 5 minutes. Fold in carefully the sifted flour mixture and the flavoring. Beat egg whites until stiff, fold into mixture and put in pan and bake in a slow oven for 45 to 55 minutes. Invert for 1 hour, then remove from pan. Before serving cut out center of cake, making an opening large enough to fill with a generous amount of strawberry ice cream. Cover top with whipped cream sweetened and tinted a delicate pink.

Cowboy Cagers to Close Campaign At East Next Friday

Defeat Central; North Fracas Scheduled For Home Court Last Night; Matmen Win.

West High's Cowboy basketeers, kicked and booted about by the dopesters, but taking care of themselves rather admirably on the actual court of battle in the city cage race, will close the campaign next Friday evening on the East High floor with the Tigers furnishing the opposition.

Fresh from astounding victories over favorite South and Central quintets, the ranchmen were to have tangled with North's stubborn five last night in the final home game of the season. Coach Wise, well pleased with his team's play, had expressed hope of turning back the Polar Bears, and thus enable his charges to trek to East next Friday with a chance at the title.

But the odds were charted against the Hilltoppers and if they won, it would mean that they had reverted to their common practice of booting the dope bucket sky high with vim, verve and vigor. The Wisemen have never defeated a North cage crew.

It has been 11 years since the Cowboys defeated Central twice in one season, but last Friday's victory over the Pirates saw the tide change. Showing more actual team play than any Wise-directed court aggregation has ever shown, the locals have all their stride, turning back the Buccaneers after trailing 12-6 in the first frame, by a 33 to 30 score.

It was a bitterly fought game, with the Bucs assuming early control only to lose it ere the first half was over when Burr and Hoffman started swishing them in while their mates held the Pirates to 2 points.

Burr led the point getters to retain his lead among the scorers in the loop by getting a dozen markers, four from the charity line. Hoffman rung up 8, Redman 7, Gentile 4, and Mitchell 2. In a preliminary game, West Reserves bowed to the Central subs, 23 to 18.

Matmen In Initial Victory

West High's wrestling team, off to a bad start against East High in their opening conflict a fortnight back, showed a reversal of form last Friday afternoon at South, defeating the Bulldog matmen by a score of 35 to 15.

A return meet with East's Tigers was to have been held yesterday afternoon at West High and Coach Claude Chrisman has expressed high hopes of turning back the invaders. Both teams held the same score advantage over South.

In last week's meet the following Cowboys registered falls over their opponents: Waldo (115), 4:30; Brownfield (125), 4 minutes; Grandstaff (125), 3:45; Hatfield (135), 2:45; Clark (135), 3:40; Eckard (145), 2:55; and Simmons (155), 2:32.

Jr. High Cagers In Fourth Straight Win

Defeating Everett Jr. High basketeers on the local floor last Friday afternoon by a 22 to 15 count, West Jr. cagers turned in their third consecutive league triumph after dropping four straight at the opening of the season. Ed Hughes, center, played well and led the scorers with nine points. Bob Strausbaugh, in his first game, tallied six times.

Next Wednesday afternoon, at Starling, the Williams-coached quintet will close its season. Starling won the initial tilt.

Wednesday afternoon West Jr. defeated Champion, by a 23-17 score, for their fourth consecutive victory.

Swimmers Place Third

Far outclassed by Faukmen from North and East, West swimmers nevertheless took third place in the annual city meet held at the Ohio State university natatorium Saturday afternoon, Feb. 16. North retained the title.

The 150-yard medley relay team turned in the best performance for the Hilltoppers, coming in second in that event.

Other scorers for the Chrisman-coached contingent, which tallied 13 points, include 200-yd. relay team, third place; 100-yd. breast stroke, Helm, fourth; 100-yd. backstroke, Otey, third; 150-yd. medley relay, West, second.

NATURALIST TO SPEAK

Novel Invitation To Convention Is On Exhibit Here

A huge star, 10 feet in height and decorated with pictures, historical sketches, the six flags under which Texas has been governed, scenic views, the whole, electrically lighted, is serving as an invitation to the 1935 convention of the Luther Leagues of the American Lutheran church. The "invitation," now at St. John Lutheran church, will be exhibited at practically all the Luther Leagues in America before the convention convenes in August at Austin, Texas.

The star, representing the Lone Star state, is constructed of Texas materials and when being shipped is collapsed into a compact package of very small dimensions.

The star will be on exhibit at the local church this week before being moved to homes of other Luther Leagues in the city.

Suggest Change In Traffic Light System On Hilltop

Discontinue Light at Eldon Avenue for Thirty Days; Erect Stop Sign at Eureka.

At the request of the safety committee of the Hilltop Business Men's association a conference was held Monday afternoon at the association offices with Traffic Engineer Guthrie, relative to the much discussed traffic light situation in the Hilltop section of West Broad street.

Accompanied by the safety committee of the association Engineer Guthrie made a thorough survey of the lights and recommended several changes in the system. The recommendations included discontinuing for 30 days the light at Eldon avenue and Broad street, which owing to the offset between South Terrace and Eldon, has been somewhat of a hazard to traffic.

At Eureka avenue, where the same condition exists, a stop sign will be erected across the south side of Broad street and just west of Eureka avenue, in an effort to eliminate the practice of motorists overrunning the intersection and blocking traffic entering Broad street from the south.

Relative to the operation of the lights west of Hoya avenue, Engineer Guthrie and the committee recommend these lights be staggered, red and green light alternating. This series of lights has been operated on a solid color for the past several months, causing much complaint from motorists.

One More Church Bell May Toll On Hilltop

If the city attorney rules that the city council has the right to give away the ancient fire bells that have long been discarded, the Hilltop folk will have one more reminder that Sunday services are to begin. St. John's Lutheran church has filed a petition with city council asking for one of the bells that are to be disposed of. So if a new tone is heard some Sunday morning it may be that one of the bells did find its way out to the Hilltop.

"Silver Jubilee" At West High to Be Held In Spring

Alumni Association, P.-T. A. and Faculty to Cooperate In Planning Event.

Celebrating the graduation of the twenty-fifth class of students under Otto H. Magly, principal of West High school, plans are now in the making for one of the greatest events in the institution's history—the "Silver Jubilee Anniversary."

Although no definite plans have been announced as yet, Mr. Magly revealed this week that the event will be held, and intimated that it might extend over a period of three days. The Alumni association, under Harold Denton, president, and the Parent-Teacher association, Dr. R. J. Miller, president, will cooperate with school authorities in planning the observance.

Denton Enthusiastic

Harold Denton, in a statement Monday, said: "It is altogether fitting that we should mark this year as a time to look back and survey what has gone before, and at the same time give thousands of West High alumni an opportunity to pay their respect to Otto H. Magly, who for more than a quarter of a century has given so unstintingly of his time and effort to make West High outstanding in so many respects."

A committee from the P.-T. A. will be appointed in the near future according to Dr. Miller, to work with the alumni group. Plans will be announced from time to time.

The service is being sponsored by the high school class of the Hillcrest Sunday school. It has invited as its guests for the evening the senior class of the West High school. Immediately following the service there will be a social hour in the church basement for all of the young people at the service. The unreserved seats in the main auditorium and the balcony will be open to the public.

Young People In Charge

The Young People's Fellowship will be in charge of the evening service at the Hilltop Church of Christ, Sunday at 7:30 p. m. The answers may be mailed or brought to the Record office, at 14 S. Oakley Ave. All answers must be in the Record office not later than Tuesday.

This fascinating and profitable feature will be found on page two of today's paper. This week's "Puzzle That Pays" contains the name of one of the advertisers in the group making the puzzle possible, the address of another and the 'phone number of a third advertiser. You will find the puzzle easy to work if you check all advertisements closely.

The contest is not a game of chance, awards being made only to those who submit correct solutions. Neatness, originality, promptness, etc., will all count in naming the weekly winners, but no incorrect solution will be allowed to win a prize.

Each week the key as to what you will find hidden in the puzzle will be published. In every puzzle it will be names, addresses or phone numbers of participating merchants found on the page below the puzzle.

A number or letter may be used only once in finding the correct solution.

Participants will address all answers or inquiries to the Contest Editor, 14 S. Oakley Ave.

West Broad School Student Awaits Joyful April

Very Successful Operation, Pronounced One in a Thousand, Saves Girl's Life.

Betty Ann Ruth, Aged Seven, to Return to School Again After Easter Vacation.

Little seven-year-old Betty Ann Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Ruth, 142 N. Chase Ave., will be back in West Broad Street school after the Easter vacation.

But just a few short weeks ago, those who knew Betty best, had only the slimmest hopes of Betty's return to school—anywhere. For her life hung on the thinnest of threads. Then came a bit of master surgery—a successful operation—and little Miss Ruth became one in a thousand. Eagerly she anticipates the day of her return to her classmates at school.

While attending a picture show at Christmas time, Betty's eyes suddenly crossed. She was taken to a physician who pronounced the case as extremely serious. He ordered an operation, but promised nothing.

She was taken to Mayo Clinic in Rochester. There, where many miracles have been performed before, a master surgeon performed another. A tumor was removed from behind her left eye, requiring the most delicate care. The tumor could only be reached from the back of her head.

She was on the table more than five hours. Her mother furnished blood for a transfusion. Then the effects of the other passed. Many, many times, the patient loses powers of speech or sight or hearing. And sometimes life.

Consciousness returned. She heard the surgeon speak. She spoke to him. Her eyes were straight. And now she's home again, receiving from her friends at school, cards, letters, pictures and baskets of fruit—for they at West Broad school, where she is a student in the 2A class, are as anxious to have her back as she is anxious to get there.

Extra Short Cuts For Hurried Cooks

Often the business woman who keeps her own apartment wishes to enjoy home-cooked meals but hesitates to prepare them because of lack of time. Here are some savory dishes that may be prepared in a hurry—dishes that are economical as well.

Bacon, Noodles and Eggs

½ package (pound) broad noodles.
½ pound sliced bacon.
3 eggs.
2 tablespoons milk.
1½ teaspoon salt.
⅛ teaspoon white pepper.

Cook the noodles in boiling, salted water until tender, place in a strainer, wash with cold water and drain. Cut the bacon in ½ inch pieces and fry slowly. When the bacon is crisp pour off most of the fat, add the seasonings and the eggs, beaten with the milk and the noodles. Scramble together just as you prepare scrambled eggs. TALKS ON OSTEOPATHY

By Dr. R. D. Woolmanace, 1870 N. 4th St., CA. 3053.
Talk No. 61
Some recent cases of sciatic rheumatism have responded very quickly to Osteopathic treatment. This leads me to say to all persons suffering from rheumatism or arthritis, try this treatment at once.

In spite of the fact that one tractor can do 2½ times as much work as five horses, only one farm out of three in Illinois boasts a tractor.

The tomato juice industry is said to have staged the most spectacular food industry increase of the depression. Last year 5,000,000 cases were sold, at an estimate of $8,500,000.

Quint Has Hopes

The Glenwood A. C. will have a strong representative in this year's Boys' Jr. Basketball tournament which is sponsored jointly by the Ben Ratner Co. and the city recreation department, and is an annual affair. For the past two seasons the locals have been a strong contender for the title of which they hope to bring to the Hilltop for the first time.

Members of the squad are: forwards, Case, Fike, Ecker and Williams; centers, Ake and O'Donnell; guards, Baker, Chrisman, Skipper and Sweeney.

Rangers Defeated

Glenwood M. E. Rangers were knocked out of first place in the Southwest church league last Thursday evening when South M. E. gave the localites a 23-22 trimming for their initial league defeat. The Rangers are now in second place, one half game behind the leading St. Leo quintet.

In other games Thursday, St. Leo swamped St. John Evangelical, 30 to 7; Hillcrest defeated Livingston M. E., 19 to 5; and Avondale beat Hoge Memorial, 26 to 11.

COMPLAINTS

Roody Bateman is hollering 'cause we mentioned him as a bookkeeper instead of an accountant. Lucky as he is to even crash this pillar, y'd think he'd hush up. . . . Milly moans because it was writ that her son was 8 yrs. old. Alas, he's 8½. . . . J. Hipple is weeping werry much for the quotation listed here as coming from his lips. It started "them people" and John is an English major at the north end institution. Alas, my good man, what DID you say: "Them there people." . . . Speedy Kent is back, and fuming furiously because somebuddy started the rumor that he drinks buttermilk thru a straw. Why Speedy! . . . To W. L. D.'s post card inquiry: Bill Reese led the church league in shut-outs last year with seven. No strike-out records are available. . . . Boy! what joy! To waken in the morning and see good, clear, actual daylight streaming through the window.

So many have accused Elmer Smith of being in love since I quoted his confession here last wk. But twas the other Elmer Smith who confessed. Hereafter the lads shall be classified as Westgate Elmer and the Broad St. Elmer. Scouts report that both will receive publicity soon, hence the necessity for more accurate descriptions. . . . Personal nomination for one of the prettiest girls on the Hilltop, Ann Edna Knoope. Boys! Boys! Cease storming the ramparts! She'll be two in May. . . . On Mar. 9, C. Hartley, Greenfield, and your correspondent will wager that each can tell the truth for 12 consecutive hours. And is Jayne counting the minutes till that happy day, for she is scheduled to be a listener inner. . . . John Layman reads better than any lad of like age that I know. . . . Will stooges B. B., R. B. and M. M. report at once on weights of Janice Booth, Mary Sullivan, Nina Shank et others. Cancha just pee Nina trembling now?

The Shetrones will leave for a month's sojourn in Flarida next wk. . . . Lawrence (Mike) Michaelis, erstwhile grid star at West, may leave on a round-the-world trip in the early spring. . . . Billy-willy-weepie-Knoxie-woxie is growling because of something or other he didn't like in this pillar. Alas. . . . That cigarette you saw Evan Morgan smoking last Frid-afternoon, came from his dad's pack while the latter was home for lunch. (Gosh, but that Looker-Iputer does get the low down. Whew!) . . . Thanks and roses to those scholarly and gentlemanly fellows, Max McCarty and Fred Shepherd. Their hand-engraved valentine came too late to be mentioned hyar last week. . . . James V. Williams (he writ "Icicles and Snow") is a teacher of Latin at Xenia, O. . . . Those "W" bys, Ballard and Tiller, taking 35 minutes of Fred Raether's time to purchase 20 cents worth of prizes for the initiation.

Two-word description of Vera Carter: bubbling-over. . . . What's become of Frank Wright? . . . Street scene: Sat., Feb. 23, 5:22 p. m., Ruth Hall & 2 sisters, Norma and Doris, blocking traffic at Whitethorne and Broad, with a stalled motor. Ruth weighs 135 lbs. . . . Please, now, folks, don't you ever chuckle at these accurate niggers. Your time will come, as prognosticated here issues and issues back. . . . Those two new trucks P. J. Griffin is sporting are the result of oil from that silver-tongued salesman, Jim Matheny. . . . Rocks of the ages: Bill Scofield and Thelma Middendorf; Alice Barcher and Evan Morgan. Chas. X. Apel and Normy (Daycheck) Hall. . . . The best motorman of the West Broad line, Jim Flovin, is now conducting on the Neil-Main St. route. . . . Lowell Renner, when yet a young lad, read in a wild west magazine how the injuns used to pick up hot coals with their bare hands. So Lowell tried it, but he wasn't an injun. Yippee!

Jr. Officers At Hoge

Following a yearly custom at Hoge Memorial, 35 junior officers have been selected to serve during the month of March. Each junior officer will serve as an assistant to the regular officers fulfilling the regular duties that are required of an officer of the church.

Cowboys May Tie For Cage Crown With Win Tonite

Must Defeat East Tigers On the Broad Street Hardcourt to Share Top Honors.

West High's basketball team, selected by certain dopesters in pre-season prognostications to bring up the rear in the city cage race, will play tonight at East High, seeking to share championship honors with the Tigers.

Show Rare Teamwork

Displaying the finest teamwork ever exhibited by a Wise-coached quintet, the Rangers tipped the dope bucket for the third consecutive week last Friday in their home finale against North, and at the same time registered the first victory over the Bears ever recorded by a cage crew coached by Harold Wise.

The victory, by a score of 32 to 21, bounced the Northmen out of this year's chase forever and aye, and placed the locals in second place, just a game behind the rampaging Tigers, their much respected opponents tonight.

Bulldogs Have Hopes

South also, has a chance to share top honors if the Bulldogs can edge Central while the Hilltoppers are taking the measure of the Webster-directed quintet. Actual dope has it that East and South will win, giving the Tigers the championship, an honor they have shared with Central for the past two years.

But this aggregation Harold Wise has developed at West High is a team. Five times this season it has tripped the dope-sters. Once more is not out of the question. Only carelessness permitted the Easterners to win in the first round's encounter. There will be none of that tonight, you can be sure.

Three Way Tie In Church Loop

Holy Family, Hillcrest and Hoge Memorial Continue Fast Pace With Wins Tuesday.

Hoge Memorial, Hillcrest Baptist and Holy Family continued their torrid scramble for top honors in the West Church cage circuit Tuesday evening, all three turning in victories. Hillcrest, after succumbing to Holy Family last week, came back on Friday to eliminate Gift St. No. 2 and produced another win Tuesday by edging Sullivant Friends, 25 to 20.

Hoge Memorial had little trouble with Glenwood M. E. and sunk the Methodists, 31 to 19. Holy Family's win was at the expense of Avondale U. B., 34 to 19.

In other games, West Park beat Burgess U. B., 22 to 13, and Gift St. No. 2 upset the dope to decision Gift St. No. 1, 16 to 15.

Tonight, at the Glenwood shelter house, Sullivant and Burgess will tangle in a postponed game. But the fur will really fly next Tuesday evening—Hillcrest and Hoge are scheduled to do battle.

But Holy Family, the other member of the triumvirate, will have no sinecure in whining over Gift St. No. 2. Other games include: Glenwood vs Burgess, Gift St. No. 1 vs. Avondale, and Sullivant vs. West Park.

Fire Levels Home

A family of eight narrowly escaped death early last Friday morning when a fire leveled the home of Arthur Wright, 273 S. Josephine Ave., one block west of the city limits. Wright was awakened by smoke at 2:45 a. m. and was just able to get his wife and six children to safety. The fire which is believed to have started from a heater, consumed the dwelling and contents with a loss of about $5,000, which is covered by insurance.

Speaks On Costa-Rica

Miss Helen Snyder, who has spent the past year in South America, will speak at the St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational church at the evening service. Miss Snyder spent a great deal of her time at a mission station in Costa-Rica and will tell of her work there.

Death Takes Coach's Father-In-Law Tues.

The Cowboys were going through rehearsals under the direction of Coach Harold E. Wise this week. The West mentor was called to Athens Tuesday morning, when word was received here of the death of his father-in-law, George Porter, of that city.

Assistant Coach Claude Chrisman directed the squad's activities, engaging Upper Arlington in a practice session Wednesday evening. Mr. Wise will return for tonight's battle. Mrs. Wise has been at Athens for the past three weeks during Mr. Porter's illness.

The speaking will be preceded by a pot-luck dinner and arrangements have been made for each family attending to bring one covered dish and table service.

The following people are in charge of the respective committees: speaker's committee, William Palmer; publicity, Mrs. Clara Reardon; reception committee, Larry Scales; dinner committee, Mrs. William Daubenmire; music committee, Mrs. Harold Gillivan.

Legion Commander Breaks Arm In Fall —Fills Appointment

James F. Hurd, commander of Camp Chase Post No. 98 of the American Legion, who sustained a broken left arm in a fall on icy streets at Kenton, O., Wednesday, Feb. 20, will preside at the regular meeting of the Post tonight. The member is mending rapidly.

Mr. Hurd had gone to Kenton to fill a speaking engagement and he slipped as he stepped from his car. He made his address, however, and was chauffeured home by E. H. Brown, chaplain of the local group.

At tonight's session, Chaplain Brown will drape the charter in honor of Andrew Forbes, Angelos Vangelos and Otto Briggs, three members of the post for whom last rites were conducted during the past week.

Cooking School Opens March 20

Afternoon Sessions From 2:00 to 4:00 o'Clock.—Many Valuable Prizes.

Plans for a bigger and better Hilltop Cooking school, to be held at the Rivoli Theatre, Mar. 20, 21 and 22, were nearing completion this week, according to officials of the Westgate Electric Shop and Triangle Grocers, sponsors of the affair.

The school will be held each afternoon between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock with Miss Edna I. Sparkman, director of refrigeration home economics of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company in charge. Miss Sparkman's pleasing personality and fine presentation at last year's school, endeared her to the housewives of the Hilltop and it is in response to many requests that she is making the return engagement.

Miss Sparkman is a graduate of the Practical Arts of Teachers' College of Columbia, and following her graduation, she was associated with the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Tribune Institute in New York, and later was on the staff of Modern Priscilla and the Delineator. She also has lectured for the Home Equipment department of the Women's Radio Institute.

The list of both daily and grand prizes will include baskets of food, electrical appliances, furniture, dishes, and other valuable items.

What! A Dozen Preachers And No Preachings

Announcement received this week from the committee of the Hilltop Ministerial association reveals plans for a union service, sponsored by a number of Hilltop churches Sunday afternoon, for men only.

"A Surprise Hour for Men Only" will be held at the Hillcrest church, Eldon avenue and Broad street, and although more than a dozen ministers will be in attendance, there will be no preaching by any of them, or by any other person.

The nature of the program was not revealed, but the Hilltop Business Men's chorus will present several numbers. All men on the Hilltop are invited.

The program is scheduled to get under way at 2:30 o'clock.

First Week's Winners Named In Record 'Puzzle That Pays' Contest

Out of an avalanche of answers, totaling almost 500, three names were finally chosen in the first results of the Hilltop Record's "Puzzle That Pays" contest. The popularity of the contest has surpassed even the hopes of the sponsors and participating merchants, overtime sessions by the judges being necessary to select this week's winners.

A great variety of original answers were brought in, and in several instances, the very cleverly made up answers were deprived of prizes only because the name of the firm was omitted. When a portion of the answer is an address or telephone number, the firm to which it belongs must be mentioned in the answer.

Last week's answers were: Lewis & Noon Coal Co.; 2402 W. Broad St., the address of the Economy Variety Store; and RA. 0112, telephone number of Umbenhaur's Drug Store.

Judges point out to contestants that each letter can be used but once, but also, EACH LETTER MUST BE USED. There are no letters or numbers left over after the correct answers are listed.

It is also pointed out that CORRECTNESS is the first requisite of answers that are declared prize winners. Originality in the make-up of the answer will then, along with neatness and promptness of entry, decide the various winners.

A winner of any prize will not be permitted to win again through the 16 weeks of the contest. In this manner, a total of 48 prizes will be available through the contest period, for 48 different contestants.

Last week's puzzle, rather easy, will be followed by those of a more difficult nature. Many participants had correct answers last week, but neglected to mention the names of the merchants. Others, through carelessness, transposed the telephone and address numbers. Several very original answers were losers because of the above reason.

Today's puzzle, the second in a series of 16, will be found on page two. Bring or mail your answers to the Puzzle Contest Editor, Hilltop Record, 14 S. Oakley Ave. All answers must be in this office no later than 5 o'clock, Monday, Mar. 4.

Prize Winners For Last Week's Puzzle

Out of the hundreds of answers submitted to last week's "Puzzle That Pays" contest the following winners were finally selected:

1st prize — Marlin L. Rayburn, 1950 Floral Ave. — A three-dollar merchandise order on the Lewis & Noon Coal Co.

2nd prize—Clara Furgason, 2227 W. Broad St.—A two-dollar merchandise order on the Economy Variety Store.

3rd prize—Thelma Reesler, Camp Chase, O.—A one-dollar merchandise order on Umbenhaur's Drug Store.

The winners will receive their merchandise orders through the mail.

All Accounts Will Be Insured Up to $5000

Local Institution Accepted On Dollar For Dollar Basis By Federal Government—First Accepted In Columbus.

Notice has been received from the Federal Home Loan Bank in Washington, D. C., that the preliminary application of The Hilltop Building and Loan Association to convert into a Federal Savings and Loan Association has been approved on a 100% basis. All the assets of The Hilltop Building and Loan Association are acceptable to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board at par. This conversion should be completed in about 60 days.

The Board of Directors of The Hilltop Building and Loan Association at its special meeting held at the office of the company on February 25, approved the program by unanimous vote, and ordered a special meeting of the shareholders of the company to be held on Mar. 18, 1935. At that meeting it is expected that the shareholders will give its formal approval, and final application will then be prepared and filed with the government.

All shareholders and depositors have been requested to sign and return to the company, forms for consent to convert their shares or deposits into investments of the new Federal Association.

President's Statement

"We are pleased to hear that the Federal government has approved our preliminary application for conversion into a Federal Savings and Loan association, on a 100% basis. We are proud of our record and welcome the stamp of approval of the United States government on our sound condition and conservative policies. We have no real estate on hand, and no borrowed money. The investment of each person in our association will be insured up to $5000.00. Upon completion of this program we expect to operate on a normal basis. There will be ample funds available for construction loans, for improvement of homes, and for the refinancing of existing mortgages on homes. The progressive step we have taken will benefit not only the investors in our company but the entire community."

W. C. EIDSON, President,
The Hilltop Building & Loan Ass'n

The Hilltop Building and Loan Association has played an important part in building up the Hilltop community for the past 14 years. During that time this institution has established a very enviable record. It is considered one of the outstanding building and loan associations in the state of Ohio. Even during this past depression, the worst in the history of this country, reserves have been increased, and the company operated on a sound and conservative basis, for the benefit of all the depositors.

Of the real estate acquired during the last four years, only three parcels were taken over by sheriff's sale on foreclosure proceedings. The association has disposed of all of its real estate, and now has no real estate on hand. The total delinquent interest at the close of Dec. 31, 1934, on approximately $800,000.00 of mortgage loans, was only $1228.00, which is an outstanding record.

The Federal Savings and Loan Associations are sponsored, supervised, and will be regularly examined by the United States government. They are purely mutual associations and will be operated for the benefit of all its investors. The Federal government is authorized to invest its funds with these institutions, on the same basis as all other investors, and to receive the same dividend paid to all investors.

Insurance of every person's investment in a Federal Savings and Loan Association, up to $5000.00, is the outstanding feature. The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation is sponsored by the government, and its capital stock of $100,000,000.00 has been subscribed by the government.

An Announcement By

The HILLTOP BUILDING & LOAN ASS'N

To the People of the Hilltop and Vicinity

THE Hilltop Building & Loan Association, now operating under a charter of the state of Ohio, announces that its preliminary application to convert to a FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION, has been approved by the United States Government. The assets of The Hilltop Building & Loan Association are acceptable to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board at Washington, D. C., at their face value---in other words the conversion is on a 100% basis. We expect to complete this conversion within 60 days, and to operate under the name of

THE FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF COLUMBUS

FACTS Concerning Federal Savings and Loan Associations

INSURANCE—Conversion will mean that the investment of every person in this Federal Savings and Loan Association will be insured up to $5,000.00 by The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. This Insurance Corporation has a capital of $100,000,000.00 subscribed by the Federal Government.

EARNINGS---The amount of dividends will depend entirely on earnings. At the present time the net earnings justify a dividend rate of not less than 3% per annum with reasonable prospect of improvement in earnings and larger dividend rates.

LIABILITY---Investments in Federal Savings and Loan Associations are free of all liability or assessments.

REGULATIONS---Federal Savings and Loan Associations are sponsored, supervised, and will be regularly examined by the United States Government.

LOANS---Conversion into a Federal Association will bring a substantial increase in our loanable funds. We will be in the market for loans for new construction, home improvements and refinancing.

The dividends to be paid by Federal Savings and Loan Associations are limited only by the earnings. It is expected, on the basis of present earnings that a dividend of at least 3% per annum, payable semi-annually, can be paid, and it is hoped that with an improvement in business conditions and increased earnings, larger dividends will be available.

The Federal laws under which these associations are formed provide that investments in Federal Savings and Loan Associations are free from all liability and assessments.

New funds for making construction loans, or improving homes, or the refinancing of existing mortgages will be available, and normal business will be resumed. Congratulations are in order to the officers and directors of The Hilltop Building and Loan Association for taking this progressive step, which will benefit all the investors, and the community at large.

Franklin Building & Loan To Federalize

Along with the announcement by the Federal government of the acceptance of The Hilltop Building and Loan Association, word was received that The Franklin Loan and Savings Company, located at the corner of High and Main streets, has also been approved, on a dollar for dollar basis, to convert into a Federal Savings and Loan Association.

The Franklin Loan and Savings Company is the largest deposit company in Ohio to be accepted for federalization to date.

The "Franklin" is one of the oldest financial institutions in the city and has been under the same management since 1890.

Walter C. Kropp is president and executive manager of the "Franklin."

The following letter from H. E. Hoagland, of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, was received by W. E. Eidson, president of the Hilltop institution, last week:

Federal Home Loan Bank Board
Washington
February 20, 1935

Office of
H. E. Hoagland
Member of the Board.

Mr. W. C. Eidson, President,
The Hilltop Building & Loan Ass'n,
Columbus, Ohio.

Dear Mr. Eidson:

At its meeting this morning, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board unanimously approved your application for conversion to a Federal Savings and Loan Association.

It is particularly gratifying to me that institutions such as yours, which have weathered the prolonged depression, are now ready under aggressive leadership to resume the functions for which your institution was organized.

Since the charter for Federal savings and loan associations does not permit the issuance of deposits, it will be necessary for your depositors to exchange their certificates for insured accounts in the new Federal savings and loan association which you plan to organize. I anticipate that you will have no difficulty in making this request of your depositors. The insurance of your accounts with the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation will protect the safety of every investment in your association up to $5,000. The continuation of the management which has guided the Hilltop Building and Loan Association during recent years should insure a fair return upon all investments in your association.

It is gratifying to me to know that your institution is again ready to make loans to home owners and prospective home owners in Columbus and vicinity. I have no doubt that the attractiveness of investments in your association will immediately result in additional funds placed with you for the purpose of home financing. I want you to know, however, that the interest of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in your institution does not stop with the granting of your charter and the supervision of your operations. Realizing that the absence of financing facilities in your community for a period of five years has resulted in a very considerable amount of unsatisfied home financing demand, we shall be glad to authorize the investment of Federal funds in your institution on exactly the same bands as all other investors, if you find that the demand for home financing immediately exceeds the supply of available funds therefor.

I extend to you my best wishes for the success of your operations as a Federal savings and loan association.

Sincerely yours,
H. E. Hoagland.

CLEVER COOKS MEET LENTEN CALLS FOR MEATLESS MEALS

IF you are a strict follower of "meatless meals for Lent" you'll find it something of a challenge to provide menus that are at once satisfying and appealing unless you make a real study of meat substitutes in advance. If you do go into the subject seriously you'll be surprised and gratified at the number and variety of tempting dishes that may be prepared without meat in any form. There's fish, of course, but that will become an old story if served too often, so vary your menus with other meat substitutes as well. Here are some savory "ways out" for the Lenten season.

Shrimp Mesquite

½ cup whole blanched almonds
½ cup diced celery
1½ tablespoons butter
2 cups cooked shelled shrimp
½ cup thick milk
Salt and pepper

Cook almonds and celery in butter over a low flame until almonds are golden brown and celery tender. Add shrimps cut in halves, milk and seasoning and cook 10 minutes longer. Serve hot on rusks or toast.

Escalloped Fish

Cold cooked salmon or halibut may be used for this dish. Flake fish and remove all skin and bones. Allow 1 cup of rather thin cream sauce for each 2 cups of fish. Put alternate layers of fish and cream sauce in a deep baking dish. Cover the top with fine crumbs, dot with butter and bake in a moderate oven until the sauce bubbles and the crumbs are golden brown.

Fillet of Sole Marguery

One and a quarter pounds of fillet of sole will be required for four people. Cover sole with pieces of buttered wax paper and place in a pan with fresh mushroom butter, salt, a pinch of pepper, a bit of thyme and enough white wine to cover. Add 2 mushrooms, 2 shrimps and a large oyster cut in half for each piece of sole. Cook slowly in oven for 20 minutes. When finished, remove the liquid and make a sauce by adding slowly the yolks of 2 eggs and adding them to the liquid which has been placed in a pan. Add a few chives and cook slowly, stirring constantly until the sauce thickens. Place each piece of sole on the platter and garnish each with mushrooms and shrimps and oysters. Serve sauce over the whole.

Salmon Cutlets

1 cup celery cut fine
1 cup canned salmon
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1 teaspoon grated onion
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
⅛ cup mayonnaise
Fat for deep frying

Parboil celery for 10 minutes in salted boiling water. Drain. Remove skin and bones from salmon. Mix celery, salmon, ½ cup bread crumbs, seasonings and mayonnaise. Form into cutlets. Roll in remaining bread crumbs, deep fry. When cutlets are golden brown drain on absorbent paper.

Halibut a la Martin

Clean 2 slices of halibut and cut in fillets. Season with salt and pepper and brush with lemon juice. Arrange in a tin plate covered with cheesecloth and fold cloth over fillets and cook in a steamer 15 minutes. Remove to serving dish, garnish with small shrimps and pour white sauce over all and sprinkle with grated cheese.

Salmon Chops

1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 cup bread crumbs
1 can salmon

Make white sauce by melting butter and adding flour and seasoning. Blend well. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly. Cook until thick. Add bread crumbs and salmon, drained. Shape like chops. Fry in deep, hot fat until nicely browned. Serve with peas and boiled potatoes.

Tomato and Macaroni

2 cups cooked macaroni
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup grated cheese
2 or 3 tomatoes
Dried bread crumbs
Salt and pepper

Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk. Stir constantly. Bring to the boiling point and stir in grated cheese. Remove from heat and add macaroni. Mix thoroughly and spread in a shallow buttered baking dish. Peel tomatoes and cut in halves. Lay these over the top. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dredge with dried bread crumbs. Dot with bits of butter, brinkle with more grated cheese and bake in a moderate oven until the tomatoes are soft and the top a rich brown.

Lima Bean Loaf

Two cups of lima beans, cooked. Mash the beans and add 1 well-beaten egg. Add one small onion, chopped fine and 2 tablespoons tomato catsup. Then add 1 cup fine bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce and salt and pepper to taste. Put in a greased loaf tin and bake in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes.

Vegetable Hash

Chop fine
1 cup potatoes
1 cup beets
1 cup carrots
1 cup cabbage

Add 1 cup cooked peas, finely cut string beans, 1 tablespoon finely shredded onion and 1 tablespoon celery. Mix thoroughly and turn into a hot, well greased skillet and add 1 tablespoon butter or other fat, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 3 tablespoons cream salt, pepper and paprika. Stir well for 3 minutes, then put down, lower flame and leave to cook slowly till brown on the underside. Sprinkle with catsup. Fold over and slip onto a hot platter.

Cheese Bean Roast

1 pound can kidney beans
½ pound American cheese
1 onion chopped fine
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup bread crumbs
Salt, pepper, paprika to taste
2 eggs

Drain liquid from beans and rinse in clear water. Put beans and cheese through meat chopper. Cook onion in butter. Combine ingredients, add seasonings and beaten eggs. Mold into a loaf or roll, moisten with melted butter and roll in bread crumbs; or pack firmly in a buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven until well browned. Serve with tomato sauce.

Cowboys May Tie With Win Tonite

Gentile Scores!

There was none against North last week. When the usually reliable Burr missed seven bunny shots, there was always a Redman, or Hoffman, or Highland or Mitchell to grab the ball. When Redman couldn't bring the ball down the floor alone, there were always four others to help him. And when it came to converting charity tosses, there were five Cowboys who could do the job. Even Gentile registered one. Those who are acquainted with this wild-eyed ball snatcher (he's the best ball grabber-upper on the squad) recognize this as an achievement.

Burr led the scorers, with three buckets and five fouls. He missed scoring 14 other points on bunny shots. Redman dropped in half dozen charity throws and contributed a fielder. Hoffman got four goals while Mitchell, Gentile and Highland, rounded out the total of 32 with five points between them.

Lead All the Way

After taking an 8-0 lead at the quarter, the Cowboys led all the way. At halftime it was 15 to 6, and although the Bears approached dangerously close in the third period, bringing the count to 15-13, the Rangers rallied and breezed through to rather easy victory. Moloney was North's big shot, with seven points.

Tonight's game will get under way at 8:15 o'clock with a preliminary between the reserve squads opening the program an hour earlier.

And the quintet from the local stronghold can make this scribbler out as a prevaricator by dropping the decision to the Tigers.

On the bough of the rose is the prickling briar;
The delicate lily must live in the mire;
The hues of the butterfly go at a breath;
At the end of the road is the house of death.

Nay, nay; on the briar is the lovely rose;
In the mire of the river the lily grows;
The moth is as fair as the flower of the sod;
At the end of the road is a door to God.

Janice Munyan adds one to the series of stories about the Bigger family: Mama and papa and baby Bigger went to the picture show and baby Bigger sat down front and the parents took a back seat. Who was the biggest? Why Mama, of course! She was by father Bigger. . . . "Challenge to Liberty," Herbert Hoover's fairy tale, has been presented to O. H. Craft by the former president's secy. O. H. writ Mr. Hoover a letter of condolence when the latter was defeated, saying: "I know how you feel." . . . Thanx Curt Wilcox. Such thotfulnesses makes me want to throw heaps of roses. Such a few folks are big enough to take the trouble to do little things. . . . The Montrose studios get the photo contract at West Hi this year. . . . Tip: Gerald Hoffman will be honored when they place the name on the Agonis plaque for scholarship and athletic ability at West High this spring. . . . Don't tell anybuddy, but Ham Crulse had the mumps and doesn't want folks to know it for fear they'll think him a p. w. . . . But it happens in the best of regulated families. . . . Gitchee Goomee Shank received notice from the Hilltop B. & L. last wk., asking his permission as a depositor, for the organization to be federalized. "Why, I don't care," says the chattery one. "That halut nunna my dough in yer vaults. In fact, I halut got no dough!"

So they took him down and showed him where they had $116 of his money. And Jack's still smokin' two-fers.

Co-Champion Cowboy Cagers Prepare for District Tournament After Spectacular 37-22 Win Over Tigers Friday Evening

Wisemen Chalk Up Fourth Consecutive League Victory to Bewilder Dopesters; Hoffman Leads Squad to First Title Since 1923.

West High's poor, lonesome Cowboys, unable to impress the experts sufficiently to be favored in a single game in this year's scholastic cage race, defeated the league-leading East Tigers last Friday night, 37 to 22. And Monday afternoon they were making plans for further conquests, namely the district tournament which will get under way Thursday, Mar. 14, and continue through Saturday, Mar. 16.

The victory over the Webstermen enabled the Hilltoppers to share the title for the first time under Coach Harold Wise, who made his debut here in 1929 and brought to the Ranger stronghold the first portion of championship bacon since 1923.

It was a sensational game the Cowpunchers won, from their own standpoint. They shot from everywhere and every angle. The shots connected. At the close of the first quarter, West was leading 6 to 2 and at half time, 14 to 6. With the exception of Butler, East's vaunted offense was a miserable thing to behold. And the much advertised defense of the Tigers is to be judged on a basis of 37 points tallied by the West sharpshooters. And Butler's pointage was registered in the final four minutes, when West was leading 20 points.

Coach Wise, who made the trip from Athens for the game, returning immediately after, used his entire squad. Gerald Hoffman was the high point man, collecting half a dozen swishers and a charity throw for his team. Capt. Burr came next with a quartet of fielders and a pair of charities. Redman gathered three baskets and two fouls. Gentile shot a foul.

The victory was good to take. All season long the Cowboys have been ignored by those who do the prognosticating. But after a shaky start, a combination was worked out and the boys started participating in this all too rare activity at West High—cooperation. They found that a wagon with all wheels intact will carry a bigger load than a wagon with two or

Church Title At Stake Tonight

Hillcrest and Holy Family Quintets to Battle at Glenwood Shelter House Court.

At 8:15 o'clock tonight, on the polished hardwood of Glenwood shelter house, the 1935 cage title of the West Sr. Church loop will be decided, with Hillcrest and Holy Family furnishing the fireworks.

A bitterly fought battle is in prospect, with both squads having won eight and lost one through the regulation season's play.

A three-way tie was broken Tuesday evening of this week when the Baptists took the measure of Hoge Memorial by a 23 to 18 score. Holy Family, meanwhile, remained in the chase by tripping Gift St. No. 2, 25 to 19. Other games found West Park topping Sullivant Ave., 21 to 7; Gift St. No. 1 emerging victorious over Avondale U. B., 28 to 23; and Glenwood M. E. licking Burgess U. B., 26 to 23.

Other games on tonight's card will find the two Gift St. teams meet while Hoge plays Burgess; Avondale meets Sullivant and West Park hooks up with Glenwood.

"Puzzle That Pays" Pays Three More

A continuation of interest shown in the Record's "Puzzle That Pays" contest which opened last week brought hundreds of answers in again this week as the second contest came to a close. Elsewhere are the names of the three winners.

In this issue of the Record is the third puzzle with one firm name, the address of another and the telephone number of still another of the participating merchants hidden in the blocks.

Last week the names of the Manon Beauty Shoppe, 2451 Sullivant Ave. and Waymer's Market, 2585 W. Broad St., along with the street address of Albright Florists, composed the puzzle.

Again a great variety of answers were sent in, with carelessness in mentioning the names of the merchants being confined to a minimum. Contestants are again warned, however, that the name and address of the names listed must appear. Or if a telephone number is given, the name of the owner must be mentioned. Otherwise the entrant will be disqualified.

The correct answer is the most important thing. All correct answers are then judged according to neatness, promptness in entering and originality of presenting the answers.

Winners

Winners of the Puzzle That Pays" for last week are: Edna Robinson Watts, 1571 Sullivant Ave., first; Mrs. Lee Embleton, 963 S. Hague Ave., second; and Rosemary Klueg, 2585 Steele Ave., third.

Orders for three, two and one dollars worth of merchandise from Manon Beauty Shoppe, Waymer's, and Albright Florists have been mailed to the winners.

In Charge of Cooking School Demonstrations

Cooperating again, as last year, with the Westgate Electric Shop the following Hilltop Triangle Stores—Broad-Warren Market, Davis & Herbert, Economy Market, P. J. Griffin, Haunts Market, Kent Food Market, Millikin Bros., Myers Grocery, and Smith's Market—are rapidly completing plans for the second annual Hilltop Cooking School.

The school will be conducted by Miss Edna I. Sparkman, who made such a favorable impression last year. Bigger and better prizes will be awarded daily and in order to care for the crowds expected, the sessions will be held at the Ritoli Theatre at West Broad and Oakley, this year. The dates of this year's cooking school are March 20, 21 and 22, from 2 to 4 p. m.

Hilltop housewives are urged to plan now to attend each session of the cooking school. Tickets for admission will be available at the Westgate Electric Shop and at all Triangle stores within the next few days. Admission is free.

Teachers Win Over West Jr. Varsity

The junior Cowboys closed their league season last Wednesday by dropping a 32 to 17 decision to Starling, their second loss of the year to the Central avenue five.

At this time several pictures of interest such as "Good Old Schooldays," "Carrie Jacobs Bond" and "Fly American" will be seen and heard.

The outfit used will be one of the new type machines which are being introduced to schools and non-professional organizations. Talking pictures are now being brought to classrooms, and many schools make them a part of their educational program.

As special features, West High school will be shown in several football games, and West Junior High school activities, such as baseball and classroom work will be offered. The local style show of last season will be made public for the first time. Pupils and those interested in Visual Education will enjoy this evening.

Sixth Annual Hilltop Minstrel Show To Be Presented At West High School April 4-5; Tom Lewis Is Director

Tickets Go On Sale at Local Business Houses This Week; Painter and Edwards Start Bitter Battle for Possession of Minstrel Hat.

The Sixth Annual Hilltop Minstrel Show, sponsored by the Hilltop Business Men's association, and featuring, as usual, strictly community talent, will be presented to the public on Thursday and Friday evenings, Apr. 4 and 5, according to plans announced this week by Cliff Kohn, general chairman.

Tom Lewis, of the firm of Shank & Saunders, will again be the show's director, and Floyd Green, for the third consecutive year, will preside as interlocutor. End men will include such veterans as Leo Phillips, George Painter, Richard Becker, Dr. J. H. Cuatt, Moses Williams and Amon Fox.

The Hilltop Business Men's Chorus, under the direction of W. Haydn Jones, will provide the production's musical background. First rehearsal for the show was held Monday evening and will continue weekly for the next month. Miss Ethel Greiner and Miss Edith Robbins of the Hilltop School of Music will have charge of the music and orchestra respectively.

Unique Olio Set-up

The olio acts this year will be in charge of Cliff J. Rice and Dr. J. H. Cuatt. The various acts will be presented from a broadcasting station set up on the stage and Ray G. Haunts will preside as master of ceremonies.

To Compete for Hat

The annual custom of presenting a hat to George Painter will again be in vogue this year. With every minstrel, the man sells the most tickets is presented with the "Minstrel Hat" and the local business men have kept George in headgears ever since the custom was originated.

Sherm Edwards, loquacious druggist at Hague and Broad, has declared that he will be the winner this year. Which has caused George to come forth with a bet of five dollars that the new hat will adorn the brow of one, George Painter.

A STEP FORWARD

AN EDITORIAL

Announcement last week by The Hilltop Building & Loan Association that it would become a federalized institution as soon as the proper transfer could be completed should and undoubtedly will meet with the approval of the many stockholders and depositors of this company.

Acceptance of the Hilltop Building and Loan by the federal government on a dollar for dollar basis reflects the excellent condition of the company's assets and the utmost credit upon its officers and directors.

Becoming a federalized institution with guaranteed deposits of individual accounts up to $5000 will insure all depositors of a safe investment for their funds at a fair rate of interest—that earned by the investment, which is equitable and safe.

The officers of the company are to be congratulated upon their excellent management in guiding the association through the trials of the past few years and preserving its assets in a sound condition, as evidenced by the company's statement of Dec. 31, 1934, and acceptance by the federal government.

The citizens of the Hilltop are proud that this institution is a part of the Hilltop community, and wish it continued success.

Local Postoffice Is Swamped with Mail

Local Branch Unable to Handle Increase With Present Inadequate Force.

Numerous complaints concerning the irregularity of mail delivery to Hilltop homes have been forthcoming recently and officials at the local post office are unable to remedy matters, according to information obtained this week.

Mail, especially from business houses, has been on the increase ever since the Hilltop office was opened, and the quantity at the present time has reached rather alarming proportions. An inadequate number of men are on duty and as a result, local residents are being forced to be content with but a single delivery each day.

The increase is city wide, it was explained, while local postal clerks point out that the postal service is being swamped all over the country. The approach of spring and the opening up of business again are the responsible factors.

Whether or not the Hilltop will be able to get more satisfactory service soon depends entirely upon officials at Washington. Inspections have been made at the Powell avenue branch at intervals ever since it was opened. But before any help is forthcoming, mail has made another increase and another inspection is necessary.

The removal of the Camp Chase Post office Mar. 15 will not burden the local office materially, it was said. The Camp Chase mail is predominately rural.

Substantial Salads For Lenten Season

Now that meats are out of the picture for many of us throughout most of the Lenten season, it is rather difficult to plan luncheon or supper dishes that will be substantial and filling. Here are some salads that—with the addition of hot rolls and a simple dessert—will provide completely satisfying as well as well balanced meals.

Salmon Salad

2 can red salmon
1 medium bunch celery
6 or 8 small, sweet pickles
1 cup stuffed olives
½ cup walnut meats
1 red or green pepper
Salt and pepper to taste
1 cup cracker crumbs
Mayonnaise

Remove skin and bones from salmon, chop celery fine, also pickles, olives, pepper and nut meats. Roll crackers fine. Mix all together with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce leaves. Garnish with a few nut meats or stuffed olives.

Macaroni Shrimp Salad

Half box macaroni rings cooked until tender. Drain and add 1 green pepper, 1 red pepper, 1 small onion, 1 bunch celery, 1 can of shrimps cut in small pieces. Mix well together, adding salt to taste in the following dressing.

Dressing

1 cup water
1 cup vinegar
(Boil together)
2-3 cup sugar
2 teaspoons flour
2 teaspoons mustard
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper.
2 eggs

Mix all dry ingredients together then add the eggs. Add boiled vinegar and water a little at a time. Return to stove and cook until the mixture thickens. Take off the fire and add a large lump of butter.

Apple, Celery and Tuna Fish Salad

3 cup apples, pared and diced
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1½ cups celery diced
2 cups tuna fish flaked
¾ cup mayonnaise

Sprinkle the apples with the lemon juice and blend with the celery, tuna fish and mayonnaise. Serve on crisp lettuce and garnish with additional mayonnaise.

Coleslaw, with Horse-Radish Dressing

Shave a firm head of cabbage very fine and cover with ice water for an hour, drain and dry well. For the dressing whip 1 cup sour cream with 1 tablespoon prepared horse radish, 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar, 4 tablespoons cider vinegar, 3 teaspoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon prepared mustard. Mix well and add paprika to color. Then mash well the yolks of 3 hard-cooked eggs and blend with the dressing, pour over the cabbage, tossing lightly till well mixed. Cut the whites of the hard-cooked eggs into matchlike shreds and add them as a garnish to the slaw.

Asparagus Salad Vinagrette

Drain liquid from canned asparagus. Make vinagrette sauce as follows: add 1 tablespoon each of chopped parsley, chives and sour pickle to ¾ cup French dressing. Shake well. Pour over asparagus and allow to chill thoroughly. Serve on crisp lettuce on watercress.

Cowboys Prepare For District Tournament

three Rolls-Royce disks and another wheel missing.

And so, they're getting ready for the tournament. To your correspondent, the local club has what it takes to run high. Only a dose of dissention within the team will result disastrously.

To Coach Wise, the quintet has possibilities to continue with the same flash and fire exhibited for the past four games. Well pleased with their performance Friday, the West mentor plans to take rehearsals easy until next week, when the pressure will go on again.

The tournament drawings will be made Saturday morning and the first game is scheduled to get under way next Thursday afternoon.

Again, the Cowboys are not among the chosen few of the dopesters. Central and East are drawing the nod from the experts, as far as local teams are concerned.

But this humble scribbler picks the Cowboys. No team in the city circuit has given them a good scrap since the first game of the second round. So from our little corner, we look West, where, strange as it may seem, the sun is rising.

GRANDMOTHER'S GARDEN

So many of us will miss her this Spring. And her garden, so old-fashioned and lovely, and so eloquently reflecting her patience and silence and loving care, will not be the same.

It will be there with its multifarious flowers. Phlox and roses and zinnias and those other plants that have bloomed in utter profusion in grandmothers' gardens for generations on end, will be there. The house wren will sing, long and assiduously, and the robins will call from the thorn tree in the backyard at sundown. And the cheerful cardinal will brighten the spot further with his glorious whistle, as he has done ever since I can remember knowing the place.

But those who enjoyed strolling past that old-fashioned garden, to peer over the rose-covered fence into that riot of color beyond, will miss Grandmother Matheny in gingham dress and sunbonnet, bending over, hoe in hand, planting and transplanting, nurturing, watering, cultivating—those flowers she loved so well.

Grandmother Matheny has gone on ere Spring came creeping back this year. But in the hearts of those who have passed by her garden gate, she has lavishly planted refreshment and beauty, hardy perennials of lingering fragrance.

Ronny Howard is yearning for sunny California again. Traditionally beautiful Ohio has no peace for him. Ronny, you may remember him as "Kerchival" in West High's class play of '28, Shenandoah, is the epitome of a "batchelor about town."

Although now aiding in state relief work, his fancy still clings to things dramatic. He has the lead in the next production of the Theatre Guild, and while at Hollywood had minor speaking roles in a quartet of pictures.

Recently he realized a long cherished ambition, that of owning a saddle horse, and many of his leisure hours are spent astride "King" along the River Ridge bridal path.

Biddy Bits: June Stone in scarlet hat suggests red wine. . . . One word description of Martha Spears: Happy. . . . Westgate Elmer Smith's almost forgotten nickname is "Tuggles." . . . George Matson, sr., has signed the necessary papers for George Jr.'s welding soon. . . . Mary Jenkins does landscapes in oil or water color. . . . Harold Spain, in the west now, has taken on 13 lbs. of flesh working on a ranche. . . . Ed. Ferguson is nearing the end of Anthony Adverse, started 80 long ago. . . . Ruth Delanor Sayers is one girl whose name will never appear in this column. . . .

Philatelists in great numbers are making their appearance again. And the recent faux pas of Mr. Farley has added fuel to the fire.

Charles Schumann, local postman, specializing in United States varieties, has a collection worth thousands of dollars. Dale Jenkins has an army of some 12 or 15 thousand, but ceased collecting some time ago in favor of accumulating bugs and creeping things, of which he has some 3000.

The family Bodensteck is tops so far as numbers are concerned, 17,000 different reposing in the family album; and twice as many or more, yet unmounted, lying about the house.

Walter Whitmer, confined to his home by illness for the past few years, finds a great pleasure in stamp collecting. He has several thousand foreign varieties and, is especially interested in rulers, coats of arms and flags.

Perhaps to brighten otherwise less sunny hours, some of the local philatelists, rich in duplicates, could contact Mr. Whitmer at 432 S. Terrace St.

Juveniles At Service

Mr. H. H. Walker, who has charge of the Juvenile program over station WAIU, will present some of his children at Burgess Avenue U. B. church Sunday evening in a program of sacred and secular music. Those taking part will be Virginia Boyer, Ruth and Jeanne Mohn.

Costumes

Dr. E. E. McNamee

Is in charge of the costumes for the Hilltop Minstrel to be given Apr. 4 and 5, at West High school. He has offices at 2413 W. Broad St.

Theatre Tickets Added As Prizes

'Puzzle That Pays' Continues in Popularity As Fourth Week Of Competition Starts.

In addition to the three regular prizes in the 'Puzzle That Pays' this week, 10 tickets to the Rivoli Theatre will also be awarded to contestants, according to an arrangement made with George Pekras, manager of the local showhouse. Tickets will be awarded each week, throughout the remainder of the contest.

Continuing in popularity, great numbers of original answers were again turned in this week and the judges are finding it increasingly difficult to name the various winners.

Prize Winners

The winners of last week's "Puzzle That Pays" contest are as follows: Mrs. Lillian Brookey, 370 S. Terrace St., first prize; Miss Betty Walters, 58 N. Burgess Ave., second prize; and Mrs. Walter W. Curlis, 300 S. Hague Ave., third prize.

Merchandise orders on Clara Mae Beauty Salon, Hilltop Garage and Frey's Hilltop Shoe Repair Shop will be mailed to the winners.

Last week's correct answers were: The Clara Mae Beauty Salon, 2227 W. Broad St.; the address of Frey's Hilltop Quick Shoe Repair, 2371 W. Broad St.; and the telephone number of the Hilltop Garage, rear 2315 Sullivant Ave., RA. 3907.

The key this week is two addresses and one name and the puzzle is to be found elsewhere in this issue of the Record.

Winners of the first three prizes cannot win twice. It is possible, however, to win a theatre ticket and remain eligible for the top three awards. Winners of the top prizes, however, can repeat only for theatre awards.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR CRASH VICTIM

Funeral services for Mrs. C. R. Horton, 60, of 28 S. Richardson Ave., were held Tuesday in Jackson, O., her former home. Mrs. Horton was killed last Saturday night when the car in which she was riding crashed headon into a truck near Chillicothe on U. S. route 50.

Mr. Horton, 60, driver of the car, and Mrs. Maude Riegel, sister of Mrs. Horton, are in a Chillicothe hospital with serious injuries. Robert O'Dell of Portsmouth, driver of the truck, is being held by police.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Horton leaves two brothers, William of Xenia and John of Springfield.

Mother Dies

Word was received Thursday morning of the death of Mrs. Lethia Shields at her home in Newark, O. Mrs. Shields is the mother of Mrs. H. C. Hutchison who has been with her for the past few weeks. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Wins First Prize

The Beagle hound owned by Mr. and Mrs. William R. Gilbert, 308 N. Burgess Ave., won first prize in the Beagle hound puppy class entered at the Capital City Kennel Club show at Memorial Hall last week.

Deone Quintuplets and Dr. Defor

To Board Minstrel Schooner en Route to Mandalay; Ticket Battle Rouses Painter Fury; Friendship Forgotten As Grocer's Scalp Is Sought.

Despite the astounding announcement this week by Director Tom Lewis that the Deone quintuplets and their famous doctor Defor would board the good ship 1935 Minstrel, whose voyage is being sponsored by the Hilltop Business Men's association, the big news came in the form of a battle royal—all over a hat.

George Painter, who has offered to bet five dollars, 10 dollars or three derby hats that he'll win the annual minstrel hat for selling the most tickets to the performance, was reported insulted after last week's issue of the Record.

"The idea of Sherm Edwards beating me," he said, "or Herb Deems. I'll take them both on, along with any third man they want, and bet them a derby each," the Sullivant avenue grocer roared.

Herb Deems was non-committal, but Jack Shank, presaging his remarks with his usual advice about distinguishing between factual information and bragging, coyly rapped the big ticket selling champ and suggested that perhaps he talked too much about his own abilities. "As for me," he confided, "I must not be eliminated by a mere gesture from anybody."

Meanwhile Charlie Campbell, generalissimo of the ticket sales force, was fearful of increasing dissention in the ranks. "The unfriendly attitudes which are cropping out are not the best of things," he claims. "I should rather play two nights to an empty house than have the good-will of years between members of the association, broken up and destroyed."

"On The Spot" or "I Pick The Cowboys"

by John Wolfe

Foreign Teams Passed Up By Writer, But Cowboys Have Chance to Beat Themselves.

Contrary to the judgments voiced by my more experienced contemporaries on the sports staffs of the metropolitan papers, this writer is selecting the Cowboys to win the district basketball tournament which got under way yesterday afternoon at the Ohio State coliseum.

According to the drawings made last Saturday morning, Harold Wise's aggregation was to have tangled with Aquinas in first round competition. At the present writing the actual score is unavailable, due largely to the fact that the game has not been played.

Nevertheless, there's only one team that can whip the Wisemen, as far as this scribbler is concerned. And if Messrs. Burr, Reitman, Gravel, Ditrick, Highland, Mitchell, Hoffman, etc., will congregate before a goodly sized mirror, they will witness a reflection of said outfit.

Having demonstrated rather conclusively for the past month that they have some inkling as to what this game basketball is all about and having shown a more than passing knowledge of this business of TEAMWORK it does not seem possible that they should suddenly become totally oblivious to the task remaining before them and set out for some wild and woolly goal such as establishing individual scoring records or carelessly permitting some foreign forward to do so, or becoming debaters, and arguifying among themselves.

To be utterly frank and truthful, certain quintets which may be met tonight and tomorrow will produce five better ball players than Coach Wise can place on the floor. Whether those players compose a better TEAM is entirely up to Capt. Burr and cohorts. Last year, it will be easily remembered, Aquinas had the worst players but the better team.

Provided Aquinas was downed yesterday, West will meet tonight, the winner of yesterday afternoon's Lancaster-Grandview battle. Tonight's fracas is scheduled for 7 o'clock.

Winning this one the Cowpunchers will meet one of the following: Mt. Vernon, Cols. North, Pevley or Marion Harding. (We mean Harding.) A victory will place the Hilltoppers in the finals. The Presidents, it might be noted in passing, are champions of their own league.

In the lower bracket are Circleville and South; Central and Westerville; East and Delaware; and Newark. We name the winner of the Central-Westerville melee to meet the Cowboys for the title tomorrow night.

Here's how the more or less important dopesters dope it: Jack Keller, the Columbus Citizen's publicity agent for East High school names South and East as favorites (of all things); Frank Colley of the Dispatch gives the nod to West or Central; while nobody cares what Bob Beach of the Journal thinks after that all-high quintet he picked, which left the league's leading scorer and team player, Mr. Elder of Central, out in the chilly March winds.

West and Aquinas Open District Cage Meet Thursday; Dopesters Joshed.

The Nature Trail

By JOHN WOLFE

Spring comes late to the hill country. Sweeping back from the southland, softly, silently, imperceptibly, fresh winds bring with them a tang of verdant woodlands, and touch gently on the hilltops and through the broader regions of the valley. And buds swell and burst on the trees, tinging the hillsides with faint traces of green.

But back in the sandstone bowls, winter lingers. The year's first show till flies on the protected slopes and in the crevices, where light from the sky abound sun never strikes. Here and there, towering majestically against the rock cliffs that flank the gorge, are massive pillars of ice, some a hundred feet in height. We behold their sculpture with fascinated eyes. No hand of man, however masterly, could match their magnificence of detail, or approach the superb proportions of the creation as a whole.

Soon, however, Spring, in fuller vigor, shall penetrate these caves, and before its inexorable advance, these towers shall crumble. The forest hall ring and echo and resound with the crash of ice with tremendous force against the forest floor.

Elsewhere, in the open meadows, and in the southern slopes of the hillsides, green shoots of many plants are pushing up through the leaf mold. Indeed trees have been in flower these several weeks. Along the streams, mossy willows have made their appearance. Back in certain black and mucky swamplands that I know, skunk cabbage is at its height of bloom. Few flowers are more interesting; some are unlike or possessed with a less fragrant odor.

Out in our own backyard the robins have been chirping for weeks; blue jays are fresh and green; red birds all from a neighbor's cherry tree and rose is growing, as is evidenced by lifting a board or basket from the lawn. The grass is yellow in such spots. Were it not growing, no such obstacle would change its color seeking light, the green just doesn't develop in growing plants.

Days are longer now, and throughout here are intermittent periods when the sun shines brightly from a blue sky; the skies are gray, or the winds rise and huge clouds go scudding across the cold above.

But back to the hills. Now the mosses and the lichens remain most suspicious to the rambler. Soon, however, the hairy leaves of the hepatica will appear among the leaves in the oak woods. No sight is quite so thrilling or strikes the eye with more force than Spring's first clump of these delicately hued flowers. Deep blue, and pale blue, lavendar, pink and the white, scattered in such profusion that the heart leaps up at their reflection on the eye.

I have said that no thrill can match that first sight. But I am sure that as we approach yonder sandstone cliff and the yet chill March winds waft to us an odor of unsurpassed fragrance, our hearts shall beat fast as fast and we shall hasten just as quickly to the ledge and kneel over that pale lavender, bell-shaped flower, the Trailing Arbutus. The naturalist must deal in superlatives.

It has ever been so with the writer. A lost chord in our souls is plucked by each new discovery, and that chord, so long as we live, never gives forth a false note. And one of the beauties of loving and rambling in the out of doors comes when we realize that each new trip will bring with it fresh knowledge, new thrills and boundless pleasure.

Over certain slopes in Hocking and Fairfield counties we have rambled a hundred times, and on each like something never seen before made its appearance.

Myriad beauties on every hand: The haunting melancholy of a cardinal at dawn; brown salamanders moving about in the lethyr beneath the crystal waters of the pool; rare radiance of the bloodroot flower, flushed ever so slightly with pink.

The Hills are calling and we must be out again soon. Spring is en route and those that speak her language, be it ever so slightly, must meet her at the door.

Deone Quintuplets and Doctor Defor

But while the battle rages, Tom Lewis is working arduously on the show proper, and at great expense and tremendous effort, has made arrangements for an appearance of the Deone family on the boat. The group, it was intimated, will be picked up at an Canada port en route to Apodulay.

One cog slipped in the Director's plans this week. Jack Shank will not play. "I have too many good friends in the community," the producer explained. "They elected me last year, and are attempting to do so again. But I cannot afford to pay the price. Having seen last year's performance and walked away with all the glory, I feel that those who are not so good but nevertheless entertaining, should be given opportunity to make an appearance."

One can imagine the twinkle in Lincoln's eye when, afoot one day, he asked a passing stranger, "Will you be so good as to take my overcoat to town for me?"

"But how will you get your overcoat back again?" said the man in the wagon.

"Oh, that's easy! I'm going to stay right inside it."

Friends of Mrs. Walter Curliss gave her a surprise birthday party —but it came three weeks late. . . . Elmer (Tuggies) Smith underwent the loss of his tonsils Monday. . . . And the other Elmer Smith was lamped Saturday lapping one of those awful ice cream cones Milly makes at Campbell's. . . . Understand they have four nurses at the Durflinger-Martin rendezvous. Or was the stooge bleary which made the report. . . . Willard Eidson is stepping high, wide and handsome these days and his smiles put additional vigor in the mornings. . . . Whatever became of Lucille Seeds? . . . It may be exaggeration, but they say Speedy Kent is using two straws for his buttermilk now. (Buck's place please note). . . . Any piano playing ability I may have, I owe to Walter L. King (by no means an advertisement). . . . Never saw Leo Phillips in a hurry, even when he got that hit two years back, in the Hilltop church league.

Grounders: Betty Cannon is visiting with the home folkes, after a jaunt about the country chanting for some of the better bands. . . . Gene Search, a former W. High boy, is in that "Roberta" film, playing a banjo in the orchestra and doing a bit of comedy. His name there, though, is Gene Sheldon. . . . George Matson says it's worth a dime, just to hear the Business Men's chorus. Yes, my friends, almost 15c. . . . My stooges report that there is no truth to that rumor going the rounds that J. Booth is still standing on that corner, waiting for lunch. . . . Take it from the Lookerouter, people: You'll scream and roll and laugh and roar and pull your hair and mash your teeth and chuckle and all those things that go with being amused when that comedy act appears on the Minstrel Radio program. Tip: The participants alone will bring the tears.

Ed. Ferguson, folks, is approaching the end of Anthony Adverse—114 pages to go. One lady thinks Ed. used the first five books to learn to read. . . . "You can write about my dairy," says Pat Griffin, "but don't put too much bull in it." . . . Bob Nowell bought a batch of marbles tother day and played with the kids in the back alley, thinking, after the game was over, he'd divide his marbles with the boys. But they won all he had. . . . Janet Chapman was omitted from last week's West Jr. honor roll, but she made it. . . . Portrait of a man thinking: Max McCarty. . . . Portrait of two men pondering: Fred Shepard and Max McCarty. . . . Ray Hauntz says we dotta throw that picture of Chorlie Campbell run here last week, in the ash can. . . . Thumbnail descriptions: A creek (crick to Lon Saunders and us other hillbillies) running over rocks: Jack Shank. . . . A deep river, gliding smoothly: Cliff Kohn. . . . A rock rolling up hill: George Painter. . . . Mrs. John Wagnitz: Daisy, opening in the morning. . . . Rain on a tin roof: Hilly. . . . Flash to Mrs. Louis Schwartz: Louie is the best broom pusher and mop swiper upper in the community: You'll do well to use him on off hours for to help in the housecleaning! Personal to Loole: You're entirely welcome, my boy. Glad to be of such service! You're too modest to tell her yourself, so I'll toot your horn a bit.

Jennie Jones' father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jenkins, turn in a prize performance.

Mrs. Jenkins insists that J. L. (he's 71) shall not listen to those crime stories over the radio. It's a job, but she manages to keep the instrument shut down when they're on.

Returning home from church one Sunite some time back, Mr. Jenkins stepped into the front room to behold his wife, absorbed and tense—listening to the broadcast of a bullfight.

It happened at the meeting of Boy Scout Troop 18 at the Glenwood M. E. church. The lads had been instructed to fetch fire by flint and steel sets, and they had done so. But the scoutmaster, as they prepared for the contest, apologized because he had no stop watch with which to accurately

Baseball, Football, and Track Calls Are Issued at West High

Diamond Schedule Announced; Gridders In First Meeting; Tracksters Begin Work.

Closing rather disastrously and abruptly an otherwise successful basketball season, sports activities at West High turned to the spring variety this week, with baseballers, trackmen and gridders harkening to their respective calls.

Wednesday the baseball candidates held their initial meeting, and got down to indoor workouts the following day. Monday will see the spring football practice get under way, with only the inexperienced getting a call. Veterans will not be issued uniforms, according to Coach Wise.

Claude Chrisman has sent out his call for track candidates, and workouts will get under way immediately in preparation for the district and city track meets to be held on May 10 and 17.

Schedule Announced

The Cowboys will inaugurate their city league schedule on Apr. 26 at West with the Bulldogs of South providing the opposition. Prior to that time, however, eight to ten games with Mechanicsburg, Lancaster, Groveport and Canal Winchester will be played. Arrangements, however, are tentative at the present time.

Work on re-grading the diamond, entailing the laying of three inches of earth over the infield, will get under way soon, it was learned this week. The work will be completed in time for the opening fracas. The contract has been let to O. C. Porter and the expense is being cared for by the Athletic committee at West.

The finished job will give the local school the finest ball diamond in Columbus, with the possible exception of the Red Bird garden on Mound street.

May Be Strong

Although material is not overly abundant, prospects at the ranger stronghold are brighter than usual this spring, insofar as the diamond sport is concerned. Francis or Haughn will be available for duties behind the bat; Graves, Gentile and Emory will share pitching labors; Bill Burr may perform at first base with Redman and Grashel also available for the infield patrol; while in the outer garden are places for Ankrum and Ditrick.

Whether or not this aggregation of veterans and semi-veterans can make the grade, is yet to be seen. From present appearances, only the selection of an all-high team in mid-season can keep the Cowboys from the pennant.

Mr. Magly has been principal of the school ever since its founding, and due honor will be paid him throughout the observance.

The Parent-Teacher association, the Alumni association, the student body and the faculty are cooperating in the development of the program.

Professional Artists Praise Display of West Junior High School Students

Much praise was forthcoming from a great number of professional artists concerning the art display of West Jr. High school students at the storeroom at Wayne avenue and Broad street this week. This display, featuring work in pencil, water color, charcoal, oils, block printing and tie dying, was prepared in the studios of West Jr. High under the direction of Mr. T. W. Birmingham.

One artist from another section of the city praised the work and compared it with results obtained by professionals. The art instructor from Ohio State university also expressed surprise that such work could be done by students of junior high age. Others who lauded the display included Mr. Carl Springer and Mrs. Millicent Easter.

More than 1000 visitors attended the exhibit throughout the week of its showing. Students from the school conducted those attending around the display. Those students receiving the highest praise for their work included: Richard Barnett, Mary Murphy, Don Nolan, Billy Epperson, Roy Hill, Robert Carpenter, Maryanna Jerger, Wayne Kaufman.

There is a possibility that there will be another showing and a possible sale of the work later in the season, according to Mr. Birmingham. It is almost certain that the event will be made an annual affair.

A., Thursday evening, Mar. 21. Mr. W. Haydn Jones is director of the chorus and accompanists are Mrs. Philip Johnson and assistant. Mrs. Elizabeth Swicegood.

Stockholders at B. & L. Approve of Federalization

81% of Association's Depositors Also Concur With Program; to Open for Business Apr. 2.

According to an announcement made Monday of this week, stockholders of the Hilltop Building and Loan Association have voted their approval of the local institution's application for a federal charter.

Monday's session of shareholders followed the announcement of two weeks ago by the Federal Home Loan Corporation in Washington that the local association had been approved on a 100 per cent basis.

The Hilltop Building and Loan, the first to be chartered in Columbus, is considered one of the outstanding building and loan associations in the state, the company operating throughout the depression on a sound and conservative basis for the benefit of depositors.

At the meeting Monday, 471 of 571 shares of stock were represented in person or by proxy. The vote of approval was unanimous.

Tuesday of this week it was pointed out by Herbert G. Deems, secretary, that more than 81 per cent of the association's depositors have signed consents to the federalization plan. More returns are coming in with every mail, and many are bringing the cards to the loan offices in person.

Pre-Easter Lenten Services Slated At Hartman Theatre

Five Out-of-Town Speakers to Appear at Noon-day Sessions Beginning Monday, Mar. 25.

Protestant churches of Columbus will this year again unite in a four week's series of pre-Easter services beginning next Monday noon. Each day from 11:55 to 12:30 o'clock, a service will be held in the Hartman theater. Five ministers are being brought to Columbus by the Federated Churches of Franklin county.

The first of these speakers is Dr. Chester B. Emerson, Episcopal clergyman of Cleveland, who will speak each day next week, from Monday to Friday noon.

For the four days from Apr. 2-5, one of the great preachers of the southland, Dr. Clovis Chappell, will be the speaker. Acts for Minstrel's Radio Program Announced; Ticket Sellers Quibble

Details concerning the second part of the Hilltop Minstrel, to be presented from radio station H.B.M.A. (Hilltop Business Men's Association) were released this week, and despite continued agitation on the ticket front, are deemed worthy of preference over what promises to be a tragic battle ere the show is presented.

In brief, the ticket situation is this: Painter unworried and blithely boasting; Edwards reports attempt of Painter to kidnap him; Campbell frantic because Shank and Deems came to blows in the alley back of Painter's Market after an argument concerning which of them should enter the store to steal the money obtained from tickets George has already sold.

"The whole thing is a nasty mess," Mr. Campbell said Monday. "Sometimes I become so discouraged I could just cry."

Meanwhile Ray Hauntz, of whom many are accusing of playing a sneaking part in the ticket trouble, along with Cliff Rice and Dr. J. H. Oatt announced the program for the second part of the minstrel.

Robert Hicks, 181 Algonquin Ave. and Ralph Cullen, 126 S. Richardson Ave., will present a trumpet duet. Pauline Marble, Roys avenue, will present accordion selections. Albert Thatcher, 682 Chestershire Rd., will present his stock of tricks as a magician and Bill Grace, 527 S. Wayne Ave., will have a tenor solo.

A crack whistler in the person of Jack Parker, 47 S. Warren Ave., will also have an act and Betty Ellis and Bob Ferguson will have a vocal duet. The former lives at 113 Whitethorne and the latter at 235 Guernsey Ave.

In addition, in the only professional act of the show, will be Jack Sherrick and his partner. Jack, a former West High boy, has no peer in the city when it comes to flippin' feet. He has been a teacher of the art and is now associated with the Fasting Studios and has many pupils on the Hilltop. He is a crack act.

Food Film Features Cooking School Finale

Thousands of Local Residents Attend Wednesday and Thursday Sessions; Will Hold 1 o'Clock Class Today to Accomodate Huge Crowds.

A new, six-reel film, in technicolor, illustrating the preparation of canned foods, and sponsored by the Del-Monte Packing Co., will feature this afternoon's session of the Hilltop's Second Annual Cooking School being held at the Rivoli Theatre.

Sponsored by the Westgate Electric Shop and the Triangle Stores of the community, the affair has been judged a huge success thus far, over 1000 attending the opening session Wednesday afternoon and an equally large crowd yesterday. Plans were being made this week to hold an extra session today, although no definite announcement could be made until arrangements had been completed with Miss Edna Sparkman, in charge of the classes, and the management of the Rivoli Theatre.

Today's film opens with the time of the Spanish missions in the Sacramento valley in California, showing the orchards and the preparation of a great variety of fruits in the fields. In a highly interesting fashion, the picture illustrates the complete story of a can of food which may be found on the grocer's shelves.

Those who have seen a pre-view of the film are high in their praise of it. It shows, for instance, how asparagus is taken, just as the first shoots appear above the surface of the soil. Two hours later the tips are in cans, ready for distribution to the grocers of the country.

Today's session will get under way at 1 o'clock, according to Ray Boyer, in charge of the program. Pictures of the "Home of Tomorrow" and the food film will be the feature, with the regular cooking school class also being held.

To all who attend, a variety of grocery and household items are given away and the daily prize list, originally announced at 20, has been increased to 28. All who attend one of the daily classes will be eligible for one of the grand prizes to be distributed today. The first grand prize will be choice of a Westinghouse electric washer or an ironer.

Although anticipated originally, no extra session will be held. Those planning to attend should keep in mind the earlier starting hour, 1 o'clock. The program, which lasted longer than planned the first day, has been telescoped and today's session will be over promptly at 4 o'clock, in spite of the additional features provided.

"King of Kings" to Be Shown Tonight At Hillcrest Church

Famous Film, With Sound Effects, Being Sponsored By Sunday School Class.

The famous motion picture in sound, the "King of Kings," in 12 reels, will be shown in the Hillcrest church auditorium tonight, Friday, Mar. 22, beginning at 8 o'clock, according to an announcement made today by Rev. S. H. Magann, pastor.

This picture is highly recommended by the religious leaders of America. The Federal Council of Churches of Christ said, "The 'King of Kings' is the best motion picture in the world today. No man, woman or child should miss seeing it."

The "King of Kings" is an elaborate and reverent attempt to use the motion pictures to tell the story of Jesus. It opens with the brilliant scene in the house of Mary Magdala who becomes one of the devoted followers of Jesus. The character of Judas is developed with great skill. The miracles, the general care of the little children as well as the care of the lowly, make up many of the beautiful and impressive scenes.

This picture is being sponsored by the High School class of the Hillcrest Sunday school.

Church Orchestra Broadcasts Sunday

The Sunday school orchestra of the Hilltop Church of Christ will broadcast Sunday afternoon over station WCOL from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m. The program will consist of favorite hymns and selections that everyone is familiar with. The Minute Men's male chorus from the church will also give some numbers.

The orchestra is composed of fifteen pieces and is under the direction of F. N. Cale. Mrs. William Alkire will be at the piano and Miss Katherine Mitchell at the organ.

Republican Club Meets

The Tenth Ward Republican club will hold its meeting Wednesday evening, Mar. 27, at the Glenwood shelter house at 8 p. m. Henry A. Koontz will discuss the city convention to be held May 18.

Omitted Last Week

Through an oversight, Haunts Market at Hague and Broad, and P. J. Griffin's Handy Store, between Warren and Ogden on Steele, were omitted from the list of Triangle stores cooperating with the Westgate Electric Shop in the sponsoring of the Second Annual Cooking School.

Pre-Easter Services At Hoge, Continued

The pre-Easter services being held this week at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church will be continued through next week beginning Sunday, Mar. 24, when Rev. Roy Kiskaddon, D.D., of Coshocton, O., who will have charge of the week's services will speak on "The Unchanging Christ in a Changing World." Music for this service will be furnished by the Junior-Senior choirs. Monday evening Rev. Kiskadon will speak on "The Back Mile" and the Junior choir will sing.

Tuesday evening's service will be a union service with Dr. Chester B. Emerson of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, O., assisting and the West Broad Mothersingers will furnish the music.

Themes for the rest of the week's services are: Wednesday, "Bringing Back the King," and music by the John Burroughs Mothersingers. Thursday, "The Triumph of Faith," with music by the Senior choir, and Friday evening's theme will be "The Homing Instinct of the Soul," the Senior choir furnishing the music.

Address Young People

At a meeting Sunday afternoon, Mar 24, at 2 o'clock at the Burgess Avenue United Brethren church, sponsored by the Young People's Christian Endeavor society, J. Gordon Howard, director of Young People's work in the United Brethren churches, will speak. There will also be an additional program and special music. All young people of the churches are invited.

The Nature Trail

SIGNS OF SPRING ABUNDANT

With a group of Central Ohio naturalists in the Hocking Hills one Sunday of this month, and into a little valley that branches off Clear Creek, where is located "The Shack" of Edward Sinclair Thomas. Neotoma, they call the place, and a naturalist's paradise it is, the year around, for lichenist or ornithologist—bug hunter or zoologist.

Despite a 30 degree drop in temperature since the preceding day, signs of Spring were noteworthy and abundant. Right a 30-mile gale from the northwest, laden with a hint of snow, kept the ramblers on the march from point to point.

En route to the top of the cliffs that rim the north side of the valley, we find the red maple in bloom, and the yet-unopened buds, warm wine-red in color, produce a striking sight. Yellow filaments of the anthers of the opened blossoms and the purple and yellow anthers themselves, show forth in unexpected beauty on this raw day.

In the cliff crannies we find the Early saxifrage, its multiple buds yet snuggled deep in the cradle of a small rosette of leaves. Hazel nut catkins swing dizzily in the wind, and along the rocky ledges, Trailing Arbutus is in bud.

High on the cliff, now, where the wind is strong and raw and cold. Here the rocks are lichen encrusted, with such conspicuous plants as the Peltigera and Leathery rock tripe, the Reindeer moss, the scarlet crested Baeomyces, and last but not least, with its delicately shaded rose-colored fruiting bodies against a background of gray, was the Rose Lichen. Situated, as it was, beside a clump of fresh, green moss, the picture presented was equally sad as hauntingly beautiful as a red-bud at dawn.

So following the cliff ledge almost a mile to the head of the valley, where we descended into the shelter of the gorge. Almost as abruptly as the descent, we find a change in the flora. Here mosses innumbered, and liverworts, are to be found. Deep pillowed in the leaf mold, and surrounded by clumps of reddish brown leaves of another year, are the hairy scapes of the hepatica, some two inches high, and one pink blossom in flower.

Lichens are no more to be seen. Along the banks of the tiny stream that winds its way through the valley are patches of the wild Sedum. Rose Moss, the finest moss that the region knows, and the Fern Moss, with others, occupy the rocks and old logs. At the water's edge, and in the water, are tiny plants of the Golden Saxifrage, one of the state's rarest, and earliest flowers. Scarcely a quarter of an inch in diameter, its eight bright orange stamens, arranged in an orderly, rectangular pattern within the sepals, produce a conspicuous, if diminutive blossom.

And up to the south slope, there photographing lichens and mosses, while from up at the head of the valley, from some tall timber tree, comes the hoot-to-hoot-hoo-o-o-o of the Great Horned Owl. What we wouldn't have given to get a glimpse of him.

And from the same region, the staccatto cak-cak-cak in increasing crescendo of the Pileated Woodpecker, another rare bird, and an inhabitant of the tall timbers. And from the marshy meadows at the lower end of the valley, the song of the wood frog came to us. This particular species, lost to science since 1840, was rediscovered by Ed. Thomas and his coworker, Charles Walker, just a few years ago.

Up the slope, scratching in the leaves for food, was the Fox Sparrow, a beautiful bird, almost twice as large as the ordinary sparrows. Soon he will be gone, however, for his summer home is in the far north, beyond the arctic circle.

But the day is fast waning. Somber, melancholy, the cliff tops take on a new beauty, crowned, as they are in the rosy, if chill, light of the setting sun. Nothing quite matches the splendor of sunset over the hills. For a million years those silent, wooded-covered temples have stood in majestic stillness, and reflected the glow of departing day, breathing, prayer like, a raising thanksgiving of their own unto the heavens.

Then all is darkness. But over the horizon, blinks, then twinkles, then shines with brilliant lustre, the Evening Star. I like to leave the hills then, if I must go, with that star of hope blazing over the pine-topped slopes. The night, star spangled, shall pass, with the first rustle of the wings of morning, and gloriously refreshed we shall enter upon—not another day—but a new day.

Electrically Equipped Home of the Westinghouse Company

Above is illustrated the world-famous Westinghouse "House of Tomorrow" at Mansfield, O. It is in this amazing home laboratory that new and advanced electrical appliances, such as those used by Miss Sparkman at the Cooking school, are thoroughly tested in actual service before being offered to you.

This home, which was opened to the public last year, has been visited by 75,000 persons, representing every state in the United States and some 24 foreign countries.

A trip through this marvelous home by sound pictures, with Lowell Thomas as the guide, is promised to the women who attend the Hilltop Cooking School today, according to C. J. Rice, of the Westgate Electric Shop.

In the central district basketball tournament at the Coliseum last week, which the Cowboys by displaying the brand of ball they played during the closing weeks of the city scholastic campaign, could have won, the locals were badly beaten.

Aquinas edged them in an unsatisfactory manner in the opening round, 20 to 19. Passing recklessly, dribbling too long into the opposing guards, shooting hopelessly and in general, playing like a pack of strangers, the Cowboys went down to humiliating defeat. . . .

Burr, all high center, was held to one point, and had he demonstrated the same brand of ball at the opening of the campaign, he'd have never made the Cowboy quint, let alone all high selections. The same holds true for the others, even Redman, who did manage to count two baskets and a couple of fouls.

It's all over now. But once again West High has shown that it can't ride on the crest without falling. Some sweet day, perhaps——.

Starling Junior High News Notes

First Aid Course

A First Aid Course, of six weeks duration, was recently completed at Starling Junior High school. The course, which was sponsored by the local P.-T. A., was instructed by Benjamin Knepper of the American Red Cross.

The course was organized in two parts; (1) the Junior division, whose membership was largely made up of Starling students, (2) the Standard division, whose membership consisted of teachers and P.-T. A. members.

Fifty were enrolled in both divisions. Of the 23 enrolled in the junior work, nine were examined for certification and five passed the necessary test making them eligible to receive certificates of First Aid. Those passing the work included: Suzanne Cleveland, Lyda Mae Distelhorst, Ruth Maxson, Mildred Taynor and Lucila Ward.

Of the 17 enrolled in the adult division, eight were examined and seven qualified for certificates. Those awarded certificates were: Miss Grace Collet, Miss Martha Ochs, Miss Harriet Dieter, Mrs. Edwin Curtis, Mrs. L. W. Landenberger, Mrs. D. S. Metzger and Mrs. W. F. Nader.

The course proved practical and interesting.

Three rooms at Starling Jr. High school had 100 per cent in banking last week. They were: 37, 34 and 4.

Room 35 of Starling is the champion of the "Tuesday League." The league is made up of 7B, 7A and 8B girls, who play German bat ball every Tuesday night following school. The girls that form this championship combination are: Mildred Denny, Capt. Lena Mae Newland, Mary Wells, Betty Mahaney, Mary Adis, Gentile Decker, Mary Jane Kearney, Cora Vawter, Opal Ross.

Student Officials Appointed

Several Starling Junior High girls were recently appointed to official duties in girls' basketball intra-murals at this school. Marie McDonell was appointed general manager; Mildred Hardin, business manager; and the following were rated as basketball officials: June Taylor, Luella Ward, Ruth Maxson, Virginia Ware and Mildred Hardin.

Starling Junior High school's basketball team finished their 1935 season by defeating West Junior, 29 to 17, on the Starling floor. This was the second meeting of these teams this season, Starling winning the first, 21 to 11, on the West floor.

By winning 16 and losing 2, Starling closed another successful basketball season.

Locker Managers

Charles Stephens and Paul Writzel are the managers of the boys' locker room at Starling Junior High.

Boys' Chorus Sings

Last Sunday the Starling Boys' chorus, under the direction of Miss Martha Ochs, sang at the Gift Street M. E. church. Forty-five boys composed the chorus.

Free-Throw Tourney

During the fifth and sixth periods Miss Harriet Dieter, girls' physical education director, has been conducting a "Bucket-shoot" for all girls interested in basketball. To date the following are high scorers: Antoinette Melfi, June Taylor, Ruthagus Curfman, Hazel High, Doris Slater and Ruth Maxson.

Marble Tourney

Six hundred boys at Starling Junior High have already begun the annual marble tourney held at that school.

Boys' Athletic Council

Fifty-four Starling boys—two from each home room, were recently elected to assist Coach Carl Smith in intra-mural activities. The officers include: John Zuiovits, president; Calvin Evans, vice president; Charles Hoover, secretary; Harley Reeves, treasurer.

GLENWOOD SHELTER HOUSE ACTIVITIES

A ping-pong tournament for boys 16 years and under will get under way Monday afternoon. Anybody wishing to enter should sign up at once.

All the club and class activities including the game room will be open until June it was announced by Miss Elizabeth Shockley, recreation leader at the shelter house. The piano and dramatics classes which gave a program last week will take any new members now to finish out the rest of the season.

A shuffleboard tournament is being arranged for men and women. There will be a division for men's teams, women's teams and mixed teams.

Variety for Lenten Menus

Since meat is the principal main dish for most menus many housewives feel that it is difficult to attain a necessary variety and interest in Lenten meals. But there are so many delicious fish and meat substitute dishes that the problem need not distress over the most rigid stickler for Lenten observance. Here are a number of recipes calculated to win the approval of the avid meat-lover.

Creamed Shrimps and Peas

1 pint of milk
Butter size of an egg
1 can shrimps
½ can peas

Heat milk and butter in frying pan, add butter. Remove from fire and add shrimps and peas.

Salmon Loaf

1 cup bread crumbs
½ cup sweet cream
1 large can salmon
1 cup sweet milk
2 eggs beaten light
Dash of nutmeg and salt

Combine ingredients and bake in buttered dish for half an hour.

Creole Crabs

1 can crab meat
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons chopped onions
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups tomato
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
Few grains red pepper

Melt butter, add onions and cook slowly until yellow, add flour and when smooth add tomatoes. Cook ten minutes then add seasonings and crab meat. Serve on slices of hot buttered toast and garnish with strips of pimento and parsley.

Boiled White Fish

2 quarts water
2 tablespoons mixed pickling spices
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon salt

Boil fifteen minutes. Place clean white fish in a napkin tie, and boil in liquid—fifteen minutes to the pound. Lift fish out in napkin, slide off onto hot platter. Pour over 4 heaping tablespoons of butter well browned.

Salmon Salad

Drain juice from one can of salmon and pulverize salmon fine with fork. Add twice as much celery as salmon—celery cut fine. Pour over this a dressing made of 1 cup vinegar and one-third cup water and blend over fire. Beat two eggs very light, add 2 tablespoons sugar to the eggs and combine eggs with vinegar, stir briskly as eggs will not curdle. Set on stove until eggs thicken and add butter, salt and pepper.

Bisque of Crab

4 large crabs
3 pints white stock
1 cup rice
1 cup cream
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains of pepper

Wash and boil crabs, open and take out meat. Cut fine. Add washed rice and crabs to the stock and simmer thirty minutes. Rub through sieve. Blend with butter and flour and cook together. Add cream and seasonings, reheat and serve.

Clam Chowder

3 good sized carrots
3 good sized potatoes
3 small onions
2 stalks celery
1 can tomatoes
2 cans clams and juice
2 tablespoons butter
Salt and pepper to taste

Brown butter and add vegetable ground in food chopper. One quart of water. Cook three hours slowly, add clams (ground) and juice. Cook 15 minutes longer and serve.

Scrambled Eggs With Hard Roe

6-8 eggs — Salt
½ cup cream — Pepper
Butter — Paprika
1 can hard roe

Beat the eggs, add the cream and season to taste with salt and pepper. Melt one tablespoon butter in a heavy frying pan, pour in mixture and stir over a low fire until just set. Turn out on a hot platter, sprinkle with paprika and arrange on each side a roe which has been lightly browned on both sides in butter.

Cheese Sauce for Hominy

1 pint milk — 4 T butter
4 T flour

Cook until thick. Remove from fire. Stir in one-half pound grated cheese.

Onions Are Plentiful and Cheap

Did you ever read a love story that O. Henry built around an onion—or, rather—the lack of one? If you have, you will be in complete sympathy with the frequent assertion that no good cook can get along without onions for seasoning—whether it be a stew, as in O. Henry's story, or a soup, or a hash, or a salad—to say nothing of onions as a vegetable by themselves. In fact, onions may appear on the table in every conceivable dish except dessert.

Historically, onions are one of our most interesting vegetables. They were widely used in ancient Palestine, and in the Orient generally. The Bible says the Israelites in the wilderness complained to Moses of the lack of onions. The laborer on the Great Pyramid of Egypt are said to have eaten 1000 talents' worth of onions and garlic, or about 3 million dollars' worth. And did you know that the onion is own cousin to the beautiful Easter lily?

If you think you don't like onions, perhaps you have never met them under auspicious circumstances. Stuffed and baked, for example, or French fried, or fried with apples; or scalloped with peanuts, or in onion soup. Other good onion dishes are onions baked in tomato sauce; liver and onions; hamburger steak on onion rings; young onions on toast; creamed onions, and plain buttered boiled onions. Two of these recipes appear below. Even the people who do not usually like onions may like a hint or "suspicion" of the flavor in various dishes. Often they like the dish without knowing the onion is there. Try rubbing a cut onion around the dish in which you mix your salad dressing—no more than that. See how many at the table will praise your exceptionally good salad!

But the people who do like onions have the advantage of enjoying an additional kind of raw vegetable in salads and sandwiches, which contributes variety in balancing their diet. Nutritionists have found that onions have a considerable mineral and vitamin value. This is especially true of raw onions, for Vitamins B and C in the uncooked onion are partly destroyed by cooking.

It happens that there is a large crop of onions this year, and onions are consequently inexpensive. We can use them in place of more costly vegetables of similar food value—cabbage, tomatoes, carrots, beets, squash, and others of the least starchy foods. They are not quite as rich in vitamins as cabbage or tomatoes or carrots, or greens of any kind, but if eaten in sufficient quantity they go far toward balancing the bread and potatoes or rice or macaroni of the rest of the meal. Use the large white Spanish or Bermuda onion for cooking; the brown-skinned, smaller onion, for seasoning; and for pickling, the small white bulb. And when you use onion for seasoning, use it sparingly until you find out how well it is liked.

Scalloped Onions and Peanuts

6 medium sized onions
1 cup peanuts, ground
1 tablespoon melted butter or other fat
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup buttered crumbs

Skin the onions, cook in boiling salted water until tender, drain, and slice. Make a sauce of the fat, flour, milk, and salt. In a greased baking dish place a layer of the onions, cover with the peanuts and sauce, and continue until all are used. Cover the top with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven for about 20 minutes, or until the crumbs are golden brown. Serve from the baking dish.

CLASSES FOR PUPILS WITH DEFECTIVE VISION

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness reports that in 142 cities of the United States there are special classes in the public schools especially for children with seriously defective vision. Children with permanently low vision, with progressive eye diseases or defects, or those whose vision will deteriorate under ordinary conditions form the sight-saving classes. They may be children who find eye trouble from early childhood and who have not previously been to school; they may be those who have developed, either through disease or accident, an eye difficulty after they have begun school; or they may be those who have gone through several years of school-ing in regular classes with normal children. These last have usually done so at the expense of great nervous strain, and for them especially there is an emotional as well as a physical readjustment necessary.

For the classes textbooks are printed on unglazed paper, in very large type, and much reading aloud is done by the teacher. Movable seats are used, so that the pupils may get as close to the blackboard as necessary, while large chalk, large writing, and correct spacing between the letters and the lines make the work at the blackboard suit the defective vision. Special maps and pictures, very distinct and clear, with as much detail as possible omitted, are used. It is estimated that one child in every five hundred of school age needs this special education.

Unfinished Building

The National Place of Fine Arts which Mexico began to build 20 years ago, is partially finished and dedicated. It is to include a theatre, concert hall and art gallery, a center for Mexican art and culture for the future. A sum of $12,000,000 has already been spent by the government on the project, according to the Review of Reviews.

The administrative expenses of the F.E.R.A. are about eight per cent of the total amount of money expended.

The hobo college is in Chicago. Dr. Ben Reitman is president of the institution.

Jr. Tourney

The Glenwood A. C., local entry in the City Jr. Basketball tournament, remained undefeated in the city finals and were to have met the Wholesale Butcher quintet, a South Side entry, Thursday, Mar. 21, who were also undefeated, for the city junior title with the South Siders being a heavy favorite to take the title.

The locals, playing without the services of their scoring ace, Fike, during the past week, managed to eke out victories over K. of C. Pages, 18-17, and Crestonians, 17-12. Williams, sub forward, was the hero of both games with last minute goals to cinch the games.

EMERGENCY TELEPHONES USED IN FIRE FIGHTING

Quick and dependable communication a very necessary part of the work of fire-fighting and fire prevention in the forests of our country, has been achieved for some time by means of the telephone. Accurate location of fires is brought about by what are called "cross shots" from look-out stations, and communication with camps where men are fighting fires is achieved by means of emergency telephone lines. These can be attached to the nearest permanent lines very easily, and require no poles or hangers of their own. An effort is being made, however, to perfect radio communication for such emergencies. The radio is particularly useful for keeping in touch with the airplane patrols which are used in inaccessible, remote sections. During 1933 tests were made with the radio, which showed that communication between airplanes and observation towers over distances of from 65 to 100 miles was possible. But wave length regulation is needed, and fading must be eliminated before the service is adequate. A specially designed short-wave set has been most successful in this respect, and there is now a training course in radio communication for foresters given in Vancouver, reports a bulletin from the New York State School of Forestry.

Here's the way they read on the birth certificates: Gerald Cleophus Deroiph and John Sidney Blevins. . . . The former is having a heck of a time trying to beat the numbers, I hear. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Coutillier, jr., the latter pushing the baby buggy, out for a stroll. . . . Ross Westlake about sans crutches again. . . . C. C. Hartley scooped this hyar reporter on a Hilltop news item, and so important it was that it was printed in the Greenfield Times. . . . Chas. Houx says he was 23 yrs. old last month. . . . Jim Hastings has joined the Naval Reserves, and is worrying now, lest reports of oncoming war be true. . . . That gent, whose name I couldn't get, sure tripped Mrs. Fred Cruise, the Dunkle bakery waitress. Coming in, he asked if she couldn't give a bum something to eat. And before she could answer, in, he opened the door to the front window and grabbed a cake, of which he took a bite. And while Mrs. C. was being thunderstruck he grabbed another cake, also nibbling off a corner. And then, laying them on the counter, he paid the bill and asked her to wrap them in a hurry, as his wife was waiting in the car outside.

That clock which stopped at the Economy Drug and which was moaned over here, a fortnight back, was removed the next day—which illustrates the power of the press. . . . But you should have see Haney, the mgr., lugging a cat down the street one midnite, for what reason I don't know. . . . Dave Ballard, a former W. High student, turned out a Wayne county champion cage team this winter, his quint winning 19 of 23 games. . . . Signs of Spring: Ed Wilson on the corner, in his shirt sleeves. . . . Ruth Hall and Jack Ricker starting out for a Sunafternoon motor ride. . . . Wee Willie Weepie Knotle Wonie looking for a job. . . . Sympathies to Mrs. C. C. Hartley, if C. C. snores as vehemently as their 2-yr.-old Carlton Willard. . . . It just proves how much gossip broadens with travel: Rumor hath it that Speedy Kent is sipsoing buttermilk now with three straws. . . . One word description of Ruth Delanora Sayre: wittpy. . . . That noise you heard last week which sounded like thunder, was the Hills of Norfolk, Va., squabbling over what kind of a dog they'd get. Ray won the argument, but Elizabeth gets the canine she rooted for. Silly! They've already got four goldfish and a cat. . . . Personal to Ray: Dear sir: Will write soon. Love. John. . . . Sounds as verbose as a Shetrone (Clyde H.) epistle, doesn't it?

Jack Burch's middle moniker is Pershing. He's described by one of the Cambell banger outers as that "nice little dancer." . . . Janice Munyan is in the journalism school at OSU. . . . As is George Owen. . . . And what a gang of doctors to be are up thar: Ed. Fox, John Schenz, Elmer (Broad St.) Smith, and others you'll read later. . . . Helen Line is with the bookkeeping dept. at the Central Ohio Paper Co. . . . R. W. Jenkins, 38 N. Chase, was elected last week to membership in Phi Delta Kappa, honorary educational frat at OSU. . . . You should have seen George Hardy dressed like an olden time prophet and reading from a scroll in last week's church play at Hoge Memorial. "What would the fellas think effen they saw me now," he moaned. . . . Add rocks of ages: John (Gardenia) Stevens and Jane Timmons.

Church League Managers, Athletic Directors, Called

Season's Initial Session Monday

To Discuss Eligibility; Churches Urged to Have Representatives At Record Office.

The 1935 recreation ball campaign in the Hilltop Church League will take its initial step forward next Monday evening when the various athletic directors and managers answer a call issued from the Recreation Department by Leo Uridil who will preside at the organization session scheduled for 7:30 o'clock at the Hilltop Record office.

Problems, which are legion, will be settled at this meeting and if time permits and all churches are represented, schedules drawn up. Eligibility, however, will come in for a major share of the time.

According to the new rules, which were reiterated to the Record reporter this week by Charles Seddon, head of the Recreation Department, a boy must have attended a specific church for a period of one year before he is eligible to participate in athletics. "This rule will be strictly adhered to," Seddon declared.

Responsibility On Church

"We are placing the responsibility back on the church," he continued. "At every game there must be an adult sponsor. Every church will have an adult athletic director, and if possible a committee. A game at which no sponsor appears will be forfeited."

According to advance information, all teams competing last year, with Many Clever Solutions Submitted As Thirteen More Win Prizes This Week.

New Bus Service Delayed a Month

Shipment of Buses and Installation of Overhead Wires Cause Delay.

The trackless trolley service that was to have been started on the Sullivant avenue car line on April first will not begin for at least a month, it was revealed this week by Morgan Evans, vice president and head of the transportation department of the Columbus Railway, Power and Light Company.

Plans are being made to speed up the work of installing the overhead wires and if all goes well it will be finished by the end of April. The fleet of 18 new buses will not arrive in the city until at least Apr. 9.

When the new service is started there will be a fleet of 38 trackless coaches operating between Binns boulevard on Sullivant and Linden, providing four-minute service during the rush hours and eight-minute service the remainder of the day. A gasoline bus will operate north on Hague and west on Broad to the city limits.

Czatt to Sing

Following Dr. J. H. Czatt's number, "It Don't Do Nuthin' But Rain," will come a basso profundo rendition by Nelson Starr of "The Laughing Policeman." The Male Chorus will present "Song of the Sea" and "Love's Old Sweet Song," E. H. Gildersleeve being featured in the latter as tenor soloist.

Dick (Deadeye) Becker will close the program of the first part with the sentimental live song, "Ida."

The closing chorus by the entire company will be a classical arrangement of the three songs: "Mandalay," "Good Night," and "Sailor's Chorus."

Green Is Interlocutor

Floyd Green will again preside as the interlocutor and end men will be: Dick Becker, Anson Fox, Moses Williams, Leo Phillips, Dr. J. H. Czatt and George Painter. Tom Lewis is the show's director and the chorus will be directed by W. Hayda Jones. Miss Ethel Greiner and Miss Edith Robbins, of the Hilltop School of Music, will be in charge of the orchestra and music.

Part the Second

Cliff Rice, Ray Haunts and Dr. J. H. Pratt compose the committee in charge of the second part, with Ray Haunts presiding as master of ceremonies.

Jack "Sherlick, former West High student, and his partner, will feature the second part, with a dance turn. Jack Parker, a crack whistler, will be heard, and Bob Ferguson and Betty Ellis will present a duet.

Albert Thatcher, magician, will open his bag of tricks and Bill Grace will have a tenor solo, while Pauline Marble will be featured with a number of selections on the accordian.

The program will be rounded out with a cornet duet by Robert Hicks and Ralph Cullen.

The Minstrel Orchestra, under the direction of Miss Edith L. Robbins, promises to be one of the attractions of the show this year. The orchestra is comprised of first and second violins, [illegible] bass, bells, drums, saxophones, trumpet, flute, trombone and piano.

There in the group include: Hubbert Jones, Paul Holcomb, E. T. Stratford, Emma Jean Hastings, Burrel Drake, Howard Schubert, Arthur Corcoran, Dick Hall, Thelma Chambers, Betty Collins, H. M. Swisher, Edith L. Robbins, Edith Ray Zellhoff, Marie Stratford, Edna Corcoran, Jo Liles, Carl Hughes, James Hastings, Jane Timmons, Catherine Clouse, Marjorie Thompson, Ethel Greiner, and "The Lollipops," an extra treat.

Church Representatives Called In First Meeting

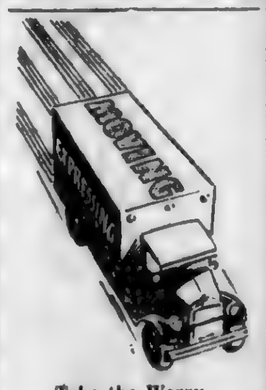
the exception of Warren Kunzroe, will again face the opening gun which will sound into this month. Officials of the recreation department will attempt to establish two six-team leagues on the Hilltop, it was learned. This will mean the addition of three more playing teams.

To Fix Diamonds



One more diamond will be installed at Westgate Park and the remaining three west of the woods improved. Number one diamond will again be utilized for church league play provided a single league is organized. If two leagues operate, games will probably be played on Monday and Tuesday evening on the diamonds west of the water tower.

According to Seddon, FERA contracts will be let this week and work will get under way immediately on the diamonds.

"We look for a banner season, not only on the Hilltop, but throughout the city," Seddon said. "The church athletic association is in a healthier condition than ever before and its rules will be obeyed to the letter. With the proper cooperation from the churches, there will be little difficulty regarding eligibility."

MAY BAR PUBLIC FROM MINSTREL AFTER BRAWL BETWEEN PAINTER, LEWIS; CAMPBELL WEEPS BITTERLY

"Show Will Go On" Says Collosal Director---Diminutive Painter Declares He'll Picket School---Dissention Prevails---Rumor of Shank to Rescue.

by Esau Itawl

Hague-Broad, Mar. 29 (Via Grapevine Circuit)—Following an alley brawl between that notorious bully, Tom Lewis, and the diminutive and anaemic George Painter, over who played the most important part in producing the 1935 Minstrel Show, originally slated for showing at the West High school auditorium next Thursday and Friday evenings, Apr. 4 and 5, some doubt was held by high officials today as to whether or not the public would be permitted to view proceedings.

Donald Smith, attorney, declared that nothing except the paucity of seats could keep a waiting public from the performance, but Painter, who sold the tickets, insisted today that he would picket the place if Tom Lewis didn't keep his mouth shut about him (Lewis) being responsible for the show's success.

Lewis, in a statement to a Record reporter, was vitriolic in his denunciation of the tiny mite, champ ticket seller for the past three years. "The gentleman is entirely welcome to whatever credit there is to selling ducats," Lewis said, "but I'll wager $1000 that he couldn't sell a single one if I had not labored so hard to produce a show. I shall refer to him hereafter only as a scoundrel, selfish to the marrow, and totally uncooperative."

Bill Jones Weeps On Greiser's Shoulder; Edwards Accuses Hauntz of Cheating.

All was furore in this sector tonight as Ticket Chairman Campbell learned of the proceedings. He wept bitterly, waving all friends away, with feeble gestures. "It's all over," he muttered incoherently, as he sought support from a nearby telephone pole, "there always is a rowdy in the crowd, to spoil things."

Flooding the gutters with salt water which poured drenchingly off the shoulder of Ethel Greiser, who supported him, W. Haydn Jones appeared more or less miserable and in great agony. "To think," he said, "that these guys would fight like that after us fellers had practiced singin' all them purty songs. Go 'way, and lemme cry."

On an opposite corner, plastered from head to foot with ice cream cones and old tomatoes respectively, Ray. Hauntz and Sherm Edwards waged ferocious combat. Hauntz has been accused by Edwards of siding in with Painter on the ticket selling question. Hauntz denied the accusation and retaliated by telling that Edwards went around kicking school boys and girls on the shins if they didn't buy tickets from him. Edwards refused to comment on this.

Rumor Shank May Take Charge; Deone Quintuplets Arrange For Passage.

Midst the fanflare and roar produced by the warring factions, rumor came late today to the effect that F. F. (Jack) Shank would take the situation in hand upon receipt of orders from the Federal Government. Mr. Shank, well known hereabouts as a seeker outer of truth and a dispenser of facts (many about himself), it was said, would act as a sort of mediator between the various parties.

"I have nothing to say at the moment," Shank told a Record Staff Writer today, but after the moment had passed, he went on for hours about the situation.

"I have received no official notification of my selection as mediator. I really should decline the nomination, but if it will save the show, I am the only one who could possibly carry out the task.

"It is unfortunate, however, that the burden should fall so often on my shoulders. I feel that good judgment exercised at the beginning would have saved the entire trouble. Just a passing knowledge of these men, Lewis and Painter, should indicate that they are neither capable of selling tickets or producing a show, nor have they ever proved themselves potentially capable.

"Imagine giving a hat away to Mr. Painter year after year, for selling tickets. It is no wonder the organization is in a hole financially. We cannot afford to be extravagant.

"How shall I settle the dispute? Why, my friend, we shall continue as though nothing had happened. A committee composed of Cliff Rice, Cliff Kohn and Gene Todd will be equipped with mops, and the streets will be cleared of blood in no time. I work on the theory that these combatants will cease their lust for battle if the smell of gore is removed from the atmosphere.

"I shall appeal to their manhood and point out the fact that the show must go on! Are not those five little Deone quintuplets, even now, awaiting the arrival of the Minstrel Ship at the Canadian harbor. One, you probably know, has hardening of the arteries and exposure to the salty sea air will do it no good. We must hurry along. I think these men will realize the importance of the venture. We must not forget the children."

Czatt, Rice May Cause Trouble, Is Opinion of Modest Mediator.

Continuing loquaciously and with a minimum of modesty, the soft-spoken genarissimo presented a lengthy discourse on his past achievements in salvaging other shows from complete destruction. After several hours, he returned rather reluctantly to the problems at hand.

"This guy Doc Czatt will cause the most trouble, unless handled with gloves. He wants to go around and dissect such specimens as Durflinger, Lose and Saunders, and has hired Rice to set up an electric thingamajigger which will sting these various subjects into a state of insensibility. We may have to sacrifice Ray Hauntz in order to free the other three, since both Rice and Czatt are furious because Ray has tried to steal the second part of the show by making himself radio announcer. By letting them use him for their ghastly work, we could develop an announcer from one of the other three, and never miss Ray."

FLASH — Lou Saunders informed us, just before going to press, that all differences had been ironed out and that the public would be admitted to the show. So don't fail to see it!

Purely Personal Pish Posh:

I have owed Dave Ballard a letter for over two years. . . . In three yrs. of building and rebuilding this pillar, only three of 35 letters have been the kind you'd like to print—just to let the people know. And the latest from a nonnative of the Hilltop. . . . It tickles me to learn that Rudy Lurs is back among us, hacking meat at Kent's. . . . More than 600 people have been mentioned here in three yrs., including J. Shank and Milly. . . . I like to listen to E. A. Garrison talk. . . . Nothing so genuine as Rev. Leubin's greeting. . . . Saw my first professional rassslin match last week. . . . My best score for 18 holes of golf was when I beat the boss here, with 121. My other two scores were 125, 126. . . . Ray Haunts, with a mustache, would look like Paul Whiteman (or has that been released before?) . . . And I've known for a long, long time that only a small percentage of the people can be pleased with a single columnar effort. Alas, we'd better quit!

George Pekras liked that West Jr. Art display so well that he's passed out comps to 10 of the artists, for a show this wk. George MUST have liked them pitchers. . . . Guys I'd like to razz, but on whom I have no dope (Stooges note): George Heitz, Gene Todd, Cliff Rice, Ray Boyer, and Arthur Miller, the wood sawer upper, and Clarence Bateman, the nail pounder inner. Also, Schatz, Otto, the latter being defined in one word as rascally.

Bob Trout is back from Atlantic City, where he has been working for some time past. . . . the Bud Tracy's are home again, perhaps to stay. . . . Never see Bob Trott any more. . . . 25 years ago, in West High's first class play, Frank Randall had the lead. This year, his nephew, Dave Randall, will have the leading role. . . . Frank is a reverend now in Denison, O. . . . Add marble shooters: Harold (Dutch) Denton, who's rubbing skinned knuckles these days.

Betty eats carrots for Vitamin A,
Spinach for Vitamin B.
From herds of cows that leisurely brow,
On Yeast—come C and D.

But there's not enough in the whole alphabet,
To balance her under the hat.

Church League Eligibility In Hands of Athletic Directors

Recreation Ball Season Here to Get Under Way April 29; 15 of 17 Representatives Favor Liberal Interpretation of Rule.

The Hilltop Church League, anticipating its third successive season since its organization, will rise or fall with the integrity of nine men to be known as Athletic Directors of the churches, according to a decision made Monday evening at a meeting of recreation ball managers at the Hilltop Record office.

Seventeen West Church League teams were represented, nine of which were from the Hilltop. A motion to adopt a rigid interpretation of the new eligibility rule was voted down by a 15 to 2 count and unanimously by the Hilltop group.

Such a rule would have required an athlete to be a member of a church for one year and be in regular attendance of said church 50 per cent of the time over a period of nine months.

Responsibility for the use of eligible players, however, was located directly with the competing churches with the passing of a motion which said that any athlete, certified as an honest representative by the church pastor or the church board, and the athletic director, would be eligible for competition. The athlete to be an honest representative, must have been attending the specific church and must continue to attend at least two of four successive Sundays. This rule was passed unanimously by the Hilltop circuit.

The athletic director, according to a ruling of the recreation department, must be appointed by the pastor of the congregation or by the church board.

With Prexy Frank Colburn presiding, the meeting was opened with a discussion relative to the condition of the ball diamonds at Westgate Park. It was decided that attempts would be made via petition to city council next Monday evening, to have the five diamonds resurfaced and regraded. Petitions are being circulated this week

Seek to Organize Local Croquet Club

With the announcement this week that four croquet courts have been staked off and will be completed for play early this spring at Holton Park, came this information from C. M. Marsh, secretary of a county-wide organization, that Hilltoppers interested in organizing clubs should get in touch with him for complete information.

With P.W.A. funds, courts are being constructed at recreation parks throughout the city, and will be ready for play by clubs and others this spring. Seven clubs compose the present organization, headed by Milton Higgenmeyer. If sufficient enthusiasm is shown, the city will construct additional courts at Glenwood and Westgate parks, according to Mr. Marsh.

The county organization was formed for the purpose of establishing a unified code of playing rules, and regulations concerning mallets and balls. With the organization of local clubs, it is thought that a league could operate, either independently or under the supervision of the recreation department or the county club.

Those interested are asked to get in touch with Mr. Marsh, RA. 3445.

A regulation football game between two selected teams will bring to a close next Friday or Saturday afternoon, spring gridiron rehearsals at West High school, it was announced Monday by Coach Harold E. Wise.

Going into their third week of practice Monday, the Cowboy mentor seemed well pleased with his proteges, indicating that next year's eleven may be one of the hefty variety, provided his robust candidates reporting now are still eligible for competition.

Schlosser and Wolfe are two backfield candidates which drew the foreman's praise, with six or eight linemen also making a pleasing showing.

Baseball sessions will get under way just as soon as football drills come to a close. Pitchers and catcher already are working out daily in the gymnasium, with throwers Graves, Gentile, Ditrick, Burr and Emery showing up

Promptness Wins In Puzzle Contest

Thirteen Prize Winners Named As Answers Continue to Pour In Each Week.

Promptness plays an important part in selecting the prize winners each week in the "Puzzle That Pays" contest. Many times a few solutions stand out from the rest but the majority are of the same type both in correctness and neatness which necessitates the judges to choose the answers which reached the Record office first. Each answer is numbered as it is received.

Many correct solutions are also eliminated because they are not complete. Each time an answer is in the form of an address or telephone number the name of the business place must be included to complete the answer. The puzzle for this week will be found on page eight.

Prize Winners

The prize winners for last week are as follows: Miss Marwynne Trappe, 353 Midland Ave., first prize; Mrs. Alcy Robinson, 2686 Wicklow Rd., second prize; Mrs. William Thompson, 390 Midland Ave., third prize. These three winners will receive merchandise orders on A. M. Groff Paint Co., Rivoli

W. Broad Improvement Plans Under Way; Sullivant Bus Service To Start Soon

Federal Goverment, Through State Highway Dept., To Finance Project

Sullivant Avenue Residents May Have Use of Buses This Month; 18 Cars Due Tuesday.

Plans for the improvement of West Broad street, from Wheatland avenue west to Hague avenue, are being made by the state highway department, it was announced this week by City Engineer Paul W. Maetzel, who also indicated that they may be completed within a fortnight, at which time work will get under way.

The plans have not yet been completed to the point where the type of improvement to be made is known, but the area will be resurfaced. Mr. Maetzel thought further announcement concerning the nature of the work could be made this week.

According to stipulations of a direct grant issued by the federal government, a portion of the funds will go to the county and a portion to the city. All money must be utilized for improvement of federal highways. The area named, in West Broad street, is considered to be in the worst condition of any of the federal highways passing through Columbus.

Plans for this improvement were drawn up several years ago, according to Mr. Maetzel, but when the depression struck city finances, the project was dropped. The work will replace an anticipated project which called for construction of boulevards along the Scioto River between Town and Mound streets at a cost of some $260,000. This fell through last July.

According to information available, the West Broad project will be financed entirely by the government and there will be no extra assessment on the taxpayers of the area affected.

A fleet of 18 new buses for use on the new trackless trolley service on Sullivant avenue, will arrive in the city Tuesday, Apr. 9, but will not begin operation until later in the month, according to information from Morgan Evans, head of the transportation department of the Columbus Railway, Power and Light Co.

The new buses will provide four-minute service for residents of the southwestern and southeastern portion of the Hilltop, during the rush hours, with eight-minute service available at other times. The trackless coaches will move west on Sullivant to Binns boulevard. A gasoline bus service will be used on Hague avenue to Broad street and west from there to the city limits.

Ministers Plan Union Services

Annual union Good Friday Lenten services, sponsored by the Hilltop Ministerial association, will be held at the Hilltop Church of Christ and Hilltonia U. B. this year, according to an announcement made Wednesday.

Services will be held at 20-minute intervals throughout the afternoon, with a different Hilltop pastor in charge, and speaking from a text taken from the final statements of Jesus while on the cross.

Hilltop B. & L. Federalization Completed Mon.

Open Business As First Federal Building and Loan Association of Columbus.

It was quite an honor for this community to have The Hilltop Building and Loan Association be the first Federal Savings and Loan institution to open in Columbus. The Hilltop ceased operating under a state charter this week and began anew under federal supervision. In addition to its federal charter, the First Federal Savings and Loan Association also received its certificate of insurance, automatically insuring all accounts in the company up to the maximum amount of $5,000. The institution now has every facility of a well rounded federal supervised savings and loan institution.

For the past twelve years the financial activities of the old "Hilltop" have been confined to the accepting of deposits and the loaning of money on first mortgage security. As a result of careful management, conservative policies and pleasing service, the Hilltop, or as it is now known, the First Federal, has grown from an institution of a few thousand dollars in 1920 to one of nearly a million dollars at the present time. Following the depression it became necessary for the First

Final opportunity to see the Hilltop Business Men's association in their Sixth Annual Minstrel Revue will be tonight, at the West High school auditorium, when the second showing of the production will be presented. A capacity crowd witnessed the initial showing Thursday evening, and according to C. H. Campbell, in charge of ticket sales, a similar audience will be on hand tonight.

The show, under the direction of Tom Lewis, gets under way at 8:15 o'clock, and features a great variety of music, comedy, and patter. W. West Jr. Class Play Well Presented

Before what was described as the finest audience ever to watch a West Jr. High class play, students of the 9-A class last Friday evening presented "Little Women," a four-act play taken from Louisa M. Alcott's famous novel, with understanding and finesse. Approximately 1450 parents and students attended the excellent performance.

Meg, the eldest daughter, was enacted by Dolores Yank and Geraldine Stone with sincerity; Charlene Wright and Katherine Nettleship, as Jo, were adequate; and Ruth Mitchell and Eileen Hess did well in Amy's role.

Helen Henderson, in a difficult role, as Beth, was excellent, while Virginia Stout and William Evans, as father and mother, played with ease and dignity. Dorothy West as Aunt March was entirely pleasing to the audience.

Good portrayals of other characters were turned in by John Brook, Charles White and Richard Drake, Everett Sears and Margaret Roling.

Because of the exceptionally large class of graduates, three of the roles were handled by two players. The performance was presented under the direction of Miss Velma Moss, dramatics instructor at West Jr. High.

B. & L. Completes Federalization

Federal to increase the scope of its financial service, but this could not be done under the existing building and loan laws of Ohio.

However, officials of the Hilltop, always in a cautious mood, have never taken a single step unless it was necessary for and beneficial to all the members of this institution. The growth and the number of people doing business with the Hilltop made it imperative that the company offer them a full savings and loan service if their interests were to be served to the fullest extent. The new charter granted the First Federal will permit the institution to do a general savings and loan business. It will permit the institution to restore all normal activities.

The mere mechanics of making this change has not inconvenienced a single patron. Those with accounts in the Hilltop will continue to have accounts in the new First Federal. The most important benefit to the patrons is the automatic insurance of each account, whether old or new, up to the maximum amount of $5,000. Other advantages under the new plan include income tax exemption on earnings on all accounts. The institution also pays the two-mill state tax on money. The First Federal now operates under the supervision of the Federal Government rather than the State Government. Control, however, remains entirely in the hands of local men, the same officers and directors who conducted the Hilltop.

The change makes additional government funds available for the making of new loans. It increases the credit capacity of the institution from the Federal Home Loan Bank and provides other facilities for the restoration of normal savings and loan practices. While the conversion means that deposits are converted into savings shares, such shares have no double liability and are not assessable.

"We have been greatly pleased with the response of the people," declared Willard C. Eldson, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association. "It will take some time for the full effects of the benefits to be achieved but we know our patrons will bear with us in making this important change. While we are pioneering in this move in Columbus, yet twelve hundred similar institutions are operating now throughout the United States." Mr. Eldson pointed out that two other savings and loan companies in Columbus also will soon open as Federal institutions.

and in all of the Hilltop League and West League churches Sunday.

Umpires came in for their share of attention, in the lament of Leo Tridil that 23 umpires found the going unbearable in this sector last year. Drastic measures will be taken this year with regard to unsentimental conduct on the field, and suspensions may result.

In an attempt to get competent umpiring, the recreation department will make an effort to assign arbiters Jim Cruse, Harry Thompson, Homer Merchant and possibly Dana Deshler to the local games.

The season will get under way in the Hilltop circuit on Apr. 20, weather and condition of the ball diamonds permitting. The following aggregations will go to the wire in this years pennant chase: St. John Lutheran, Hope Memorial Presbyterian, Hillcrest Baptists, Westgate Evangelical, Glenwood Tri Mu, Glenwood M. E., Burgess U. B., Hilltop Church of Christ and Sullivant Avenue Friends.

Representatives of the Hilltop loop will meet again on Monday, Apr. 15, to arrange the season schedule and select an official playing ball.

be last. Receivers include Francis and Allan.

Others who seek berths include Heiser, Wolfe, Preston, J. Howison, Powers, Heflin and Lee.

Jr. high baseballers are expected to get into out-of-door workouts no later than the first of next week. The squad has already been cut from 135 to 50, with another slash due late next week, according to Coach George Williams.

The receiver's job, from present indications, will lie between Anderson and Bradley, with either of these chaps also slated for the first base job. Frasure, Straubaugh, Albert and Oakley are the outstanding selections for the mound assignments, although there will be plenty of competition from other aspirants.

Palmer, at second base, will be hard pressed to hand the keystone position to Stettler, and Neal is ticketed to patrol the hot corner. At present, the short field is a wide open as it was last Christmas.

In the outfield will be Ed and Tom Hughes, Carey and Gilger, with a smattering of other candidates trying to make the grade.

Annual Minstrel Bricks & Roses: Mrs. Arthur Tomlinson, in a grand letter of congrats to the H. B. M. A. for their 8th successful show, nevertheless queries "how in the name of all that is geographical did a schooner en route to Mandalay arrive at the shores of Canada?" . . . A right nice question, Mrs. Tomlinson, and it might interest you to learn that Bill Jones doesn't yet know where Mandalay is. . . . It becomes necessary at this time to toss a small pebble to the party who placed the orchestra people. Why on earth hide that pretty bell tinkler behind such a huge thing as a bass viol. . . . Some of us whose ears lack musical perception, HAVE retained our eyesight. . . . And a goodly sized cobbler should be sent the chap who was responsible for omitting the name of the orchestra director from the program. Edith Robbins is the name. . . . But anyway, the flowers were fine and Robbins and Greiser will tell you so. So if they'll take verbal violets, we'll let fling a couple bunches from here. . . .

A jug of Griffin Dairy milk to each of the quintuplets, Gene Todd, Jack Smith, Alva Nafzger, Curt Wilcox and Willard Young. The act was a house bringer downer, and with the proud parents, Mart Seiler and Elmer Mattox (I never knew Mattox first name till now), the Doctor Defor, Geo. Matson and the nurse, Dr. Grace Jordan, the skit was a wow! . . . But even a bigger bouquet to Bill Birle and Ray Boyer, billed as assisting Spencer Green in a gymnastic act before breakfast. . . . Bill took only a portion of the spotlight, but only for mechanical reasons. His performance was a huge hit with the crowd, and for the Bill Birle spirit anywhere, we'll turn on the springtime spicket and send showers of flowers. . . . And a crunching boulder to that Record reporter who never mentioned Bill Ogden and Art Brooks who were a portion of the second act with a flare of popular music. . . . And alas, the publicity carried no note of the Hilltop Trio, nor a line about the chant turned in by Jane Timmons—Jane Timm. . . Timmons, where have I heard that name before . . . Timmons, Timm. Oh, well, let it go. . . . Leo Phillips cracked jokes the best amongst the end men (wasn't that one about Sherm Edwards delicious), and Geo. Painter danced gracefully (or did you think so?) . . . A gardenia to Doc Czatt for finding so much in the Lookout. I searched the files, and no dope like that could I find. . . . Gardenias. Gardeni . . . gard—Timmons, Jane Gard—Jane Timmons, Gardenias. Where on earth have I heard of that combination before?

Leo Amspoker's solo was sweet and clear while Nelson Starr's selection boomed and rumbled through the rafters . . . E. H. Gildersleeve turned in a nice effort, but a brick or so to the guys that constructed the steps he had to walk down—they wobbled so. Bill Coulthard and Moss Williams rounded out the end sextet with a variety of goodly wise cracks.

Albert Thatcher fooled us and they're saying that Bill Grace does look a bit like Rudy Vallee. . . . Pauline Marble squeezed the accordion with vigor and Jack Parker did some right tolerable whistling. . . . The trumpet duet, by Ralph Cullen and Bob Hicks pleased many while Betty Ellis and Bob Ferguson were all dressed up for their personality singing. . . . Bob's paw, by the way, has finished Anthony Adverse, but now he must go back and read what he has forgotten, to understand what the conclusion is all about . . . Ruth Hall, whose tonsils were snipped last Monday a week, lost also two lbs., but the poundage was restored ere the week was out. . . . I get it from a verra reliable source that S. Carter wooden ride in Art Harris' new car, cause it weren't the right color. . . . The best musical number (only an opinion) in the minstrel was the unaccompanied male quartet selection.

Henry Jones could make the rafters ring anywhere. . . Floyd Green, the interlocutor, always gets the prettiest things to wear, which may account for the easy

Baseball Begins

Baseball aspirants have been going through a stiff workout during the past week. Infield and outfield practice has been held on the newly surfaced baseball diamond. The infield has been raised three inches and rolled and is now one of the best in the city. The West diamond representatives are expected to go places in the city league, inasmuch, that an experienced squad is available.

Interest Continues In Puzzle Contest

Large Variety of Answers Make Hard Job for Judges to Select 13 Winners.

Last week's puzzle, the seventh in the series, proved to be the most interesting both in number of readers participating and the variety of answers handed in. Because such an interest was shown the judges had a very difficult time selecting the winners.

It must be remembered that correctness, neatness and originality are the three essential requirements with promptness used to break the ties. There is only one possible correct solution to the puzzle if each letter or number is used and used only once. The puzzle for this week will be found on page four.

The following persons were finally awarded prizes for last week's puzzle: Mrs. Thomas A. Roberts, 502 S. Roys Ave., first prize; Mary Jane Evans, 26 N. I Cook Electrically!

"I added the Electric Range when our home was modernized. I modernized cooking, too."

"I find that it's easier to cook with electricity, for there is just as much saving of work and time as there is doing any other household work electrically.
It takes less time to prepare dinner—I don't have to watch or baste while food is cooking—and I get perfect results every time.
At any time, I can put dinner in the oven—set the electric control and at the time set, dinner is ready to serve.
I've investigated and I've compared costs. With the new low cost of electricity under the Optional Rate Schedule I know I can cook more economically with the Electric Range."

Go to Church Sunday

We read that the United States spends its money as follows: Living costs, 23½%; luxuries, 22%; waste, 14%; bad investments, 11%; crime, 3¼%; government, 4½%; schools, 1½%; churches, 0¾%. A reversal of some of these percentage may solve many problems. Go to Church Sunday.

I CAN REPAIR YOUR

GOOD AS NEW!
Sewing Machines of All Makes can be made to sew like new. It matters not how many sewing machine salesmen have told you it cannot be repaired. They are interested in trying to sell you a new one and cheat you out of your old one. Times are hard now and it is good policy to try and help your husband, by not being cheated out of your sewing machine when it can be repaired for only a small cost. I have oil, needles, bobbins, in fact anything for all makes of machines.

Highland Ave. School Notes

The members of the Highland Avenue School Flower club went to the flower show at Memorial Hall, Friday afternoon. This club has had several interesting trips this term. They went to the Ohio State university for one of their club meetings. This club has taken care of reseeding the school lawn and fertilizing it with "Sacco."

The Stagvald Planet club of Highland Avenue school recently spent an evening at the observatory at Ohio State university. Dr. Munson gave a most interesting illustrated talk to the club on "Other Worlds Than Ours." Although it was too cloudy to look at the stars and moon through the telescope, Mr. Harrington showed the group the telescope and other things of interest.

The boys and girls of Highland Avenue school are the proud possessors of new books. Just recently the school purchased two new sets of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedias, a new set of histories for grades four and five, a set of Child Craft, and an anothology of children's verse. With the set of World Books, which was purchased last year, the school is fairly well equipped with reference books.

Basketball teams have been organized in each grade. Games for these teams will be scheduled next week.

Goodbye Skeeters As Firemen Burn Grass

If you are not bothered as much this summer by mosquitoes as you were last you can thank the city firemen for doing their share of ridding the Hilltop of that menace. For the past two weeks the firemen, with the help of men from the city work house, have been burning off the grass in the large empty fields in Broadview and Westgate sections.

It is estimated that millions of mosquitoes use the tall dried grass as breeding places thereby producing many million more to antagonize the peace loving residents of the community. Even though the grass is only one of the many breeding places it is expected that the mosquitoe situation will be helped a bit this summer.

Another reason why the firemen are burning the grass in an organized manner is because so many people try to burn off the grass themselves and let it get out of their control or it catches from a rubbish fire and in the end the firemen have to be called. By burning it off themselves it saves many fire runs and also keeps the regular fire wagons at the station house in case of a more serious call.

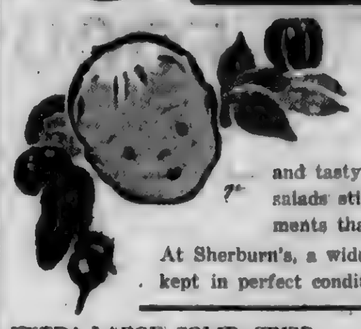
Hamilton Backs Ball Team Again

Glen Hamilton, proprietor of the filling station at Binns avenue and Sullivant avenue, backer of last year's Merchant League champions, will again sponsor a team this year.

Frank Holycross will again be at the helm and has called for players wishing a tryout. The first meeting will be held Wednesday evening, Apr. 10, at 6 o'clock. Byers, Hamilton, Porter and Cooley to be notified.



Continue Services

The Hilltonia United Brethren church, 522 Columbian Ave., will continue evangelistic services every evening (except Saturday) until Easter. On both Sunday mornings the services of Sunday school and church will be combined. One of the Hilltop Union Lenten Good Friday services will be held in the church from 12:00 to 3:00 o'clock, the various church of the Hilltop sharing in the services.

OUT-OF-TOWNERS

Roger Dolder is a druggist in Massillon. . . . Fred Decker is in the government's service in the Philippines, and only Mary Baker, a former teacher of his, hears from him occasionally. . . . Zoe Butler is a record clerk in Indianapolis. . . . Virgil Green's basketball team at Clarksville won 15 and lost 3 the past season. . . . Roe Snyder, bigger than 200 lbs., lives on his dad's farm near Grove City. . . . Henry Meiragon is at Zanesville, working on the Muskingum Conservancy project, and going to school at night. . . . Frank Ruder, last heard of, was in Oklahoma, and of a mind to study for the ministry. . . . Bob (Popeye) Sherwood is still at Monmouth college in Illinois. . . . The Fred Loggers have moved to Delaware and the Elmer Houdasheits live in Norwood, Ohio. . . . And of all things, Charles Shanely is still in California.

BIDDY BITS:

Someone called here and asked Norman Line if he was the person they had previously talked with about something or other. "No, it wasn't me," says Norman, "was it a gentleman?" . . . Wonder whatever became of Ray Dooley? And Dick Eyrer? . . . At Bob Nichols' house they get their drinking water from a well. . . . Allen Mathews is working with his uncle, who is a steam shovel operator.

ADDS TO THIS AND THAT

Add Personal Pish Posh: It sizzles to have a clerk answer a fone while waiting on us. . . . Or to have someone call and leave no name. . . . Every time I read the Barefoot Boy I want to eat a bowl of bread and milk. . . . Add random thots: That orange-wheeled Ford Doctorflinger drives. . . . How and where did F. F. Shank pick up that name Jack? . . . Add Complaints: June Stone insists she'll get even for something or other appearing here. . . . And John Ricker (mispronounced Jack a bit back) will not tolerate or answer to the pronounciation. He's a South Side boy, but making good on the Hilltop. . . . Add grand coffee cake bakers: Mrs. John Guyer. . . . Add promotions: Chas. X. Apel from something or other at the Hilltop bank to teller, in the place of Elmer Hegenberger, who has been promoted to assistant manager at the Grandview offices. . . . Add sights to behold: Chas. Minshall, one evening last wk., thumbing a ride up town, dressed in a tuxedo, my frans, and sans overcoat or topcoat. . . . I've lost my notes on Jerry DeRolph's full name, which was two short of the five monickers he owns, when printed here last. Watch and wait. . . . S. O. S., J. Sidney Blevins. . . Oh yes, they're calling Bill Knecht Kitty-fuss now!

Prize Winners

The following won prizes in last week's puzzle contest. They will receive their awards through the mail: Doris Adams, 433 S. Warren Ave., a merchandise order at Seiller's; Mrs. Leo Noe, 86 Midland Ave., a merchandise order at Todd's Drug Store; and Ralph G. Moseley, 75 S. Eureka Ave., a merchandise order at George Martin's Service Station.

Trackmen Round Into Shape; Baseball Team to Meet Greenfield In Double Header.

By Bob Nichols

A baseball team is fast rounding into shape at West High with outdoor diamond practice and sliding drills being held throughout the week, while tracksters and golfers, in spite of inclement weather, continue their workouts, with the former squad going into a first place tie as a result of Saturday's win over Aquinas.

Due to the fact that the city league is to open Apr. 26, outdoor practice will be held this morning and afternoon, tomorrow afternoon, and Monday morning and afternoon. In case of rain, practice will be held inside.

The opening of the city league finds West pitted against South in what should prove to be a bitter duel. The following Saturday the West nine will travel to Greenfield to participate in a double-header.

Track Team Takes Form

The track meet scheduled for last Friday with Upper Arlington was postponed, due to rain, until a later date. The present track squad, subject to a cut, consists of Simmons, Jackson, Johnson, B. McGonigal, Hessinger, Hackman, Ward, Underwood, Case taking part in the dashes; Tiller, Carter, Brown, Gesse, Hutchinson, Hale, Hackman, Carter, Oty in the middle distance; Nettleship and Nichols in the long distance; Hoffman, Tiller, Eckard, Parker, Hessinger in the shot put; Hoffman, B. McGonigal, Carey, Fisher, Carter in the javelin; Eckard, Ballard, Fisher in the discus; Oty, Parker, Nichols, Hutchinson in the high jump; Underwood, Ballard, Brown in the broad jump; Hutchinson, Parker, Tiller, Underwood, Oty in the pole vault; Parker, Russel, Carey in the hurdles; with the majority of the above named participating in the relays.

Merchant Circuit In Openers May 1

Six-Team Circuit to Play Three Rounds If Two More Teams Do Not Enter Competition.

Following a meeting of the various managers at the city recreation department last Friday evening, G. K. Hardy, president of the Hilltop Merchants' league, announced that in all probability a six-team circuit would open play this year at Westgate Park, Wednesday evening, May 1.

Hamilton Gassers, Derby Club, Walter's Ice, Chittum's Garage and possibly Claggett's Confectionery and Seiller's Dry Goods will be the competing aggregations. Claggett may back the nine which played under the Gearhart Hardware colors last year and Seiller may support last year's second placers who played for Kent's Market. Definite announcement will be made next week, according to Hardy.

If a six-team league becomes a reality, a series of games will be played at the close of the third round and a champion thus determined.

Swingle Case Dismissed

The $25,000 damage suit of Swingle vs. Cruea, rising from the death of Jack Swingle at the Hilltop swimming pool two years ago, was dismissed in Judge John King's court this week, on grounds of insufficient evidence.

West High Produces Winner In County Scholarship Test

William Monaghan, West High school senior, was declared high man, along with a student from Upper Arlington, in the recent Franklin County scholarship tests, results of which were announced late last week.

Monaghan's score was 800, which placed him first, while George Armour, another West High senior, trailed only by a few points to place fifth.

Both students are members of the "L" Society and Otto H. Magly chapter of the National Honorary Society, membership in which is based upon scholarship and character. Monaghan is president of the latter organization.

The contest is sponsored by the state educational department and is limited to those students in each school who rank in the upper third of their respective classes insofar as scholarship is concerned. Both were certified by Mr. Magly, West principal, before they could participate.

"Both boys are excellent students and of outstanding character," Mr. Magly said Wednesday. "We are proud of their achievement and wish them both continued success in whatever field they choose to pursue."

Similar contests are held in each county of the state, with a limited number of the highest being granted scholarships in the various state universities. At the present writing, definite information regarding these awards has not been made public.

Brownies, Pixies and Mother Goose Characters to Play W. Broad Stage

Brownies and pixies and dwarfs and goblins and fairies and ogres and all the what-nots of Mother Goose Land will have their hour of play on the stage at West Broad Street school next Friday evening, Apr. 26, when a three-act operetta, "The Land of Dreams-Come-True," is presented by more than 300 of the pupils at the school.

The show will also be presented at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon for the benefit of the school children and parents who wish to attend at that time. The evening performance is scheduled for 8 o'clock. Miss Cristine Leist is in charge of tickets, which may be procured from pupils of the school. Capacity audiences will probably greet both shows, it was indicated this week. None of the seats are reserved.

The setting of the operetta, which sparkles throughout with the tuneful melodies of Mother Gooseland, is in the forest, where a group of children have gone to play and have fallen asleep. The Mother Goose people then make their appearance, with leading roles taken by Jean Buchanan, Shirley Brotton, John Richards, Jack Winkelhausen, Bertha Searles, Irene Greene and John Dhume.

Scenery for the setting has been painted by two of the school's teachers, Miss Bess Sperry and Mrs. Emma Cline. Rehearsals for the show have been going on for the past six weeks under the direction of various members of the faculty, all of whom have had some part in the development of the production.

Mrs. Roma Waymer will be the accompanist. She has been in charge of the music and orchestra. Mrs. Charlotte Walton will direct the senior glee clubs and Mrs. Adeline Millikin will direct the junior girls' chorus. The junior boys' chorus will sing under the direction of Mrs. Katherine Johnson.

Proceeds from the operetta will go to purchase needed equipment for the school, according to Miss Harriett Judd, principal.

"A MIRACLE MACHINE"
A local publication says: "We saw it a few weeks ago. It is almost unbelievable. It can find a tiny pocket of pus, poison, or diseased tissue anywhere in your body and outline the exact size and location of the infection. It will mean physical blessings to thousands."
The writer of the above paragraph referred to the diagnostic and treatment instrument we have in our office. It really is a marvel.

Mr. Babson says "Business depressions are caused by dissipation, dishonesty, disobedience to God's will—a general collapse of moral character." The cure for such conditions must be found in spiritual values. The Church specializes in things spiritual and brings the consciousness of God into our civilization.

Enjoy Radiant HEALTH!

Buckeye Mineral Water rids your body of poisonous wastes ---yet tastes like a delicious fountain drink!

Buckeye Mineral Water offers the new, pleasant way to rid your body of the poisons that keep you from feeling in tip-top condition, and that make life merely a dull, drab existence. Start taking this refreshing carbonated mineral water with the delicious flavor today, and know the joy of feeling TRULY ALIVE and ready to get full enjoyment out of every minute of the day!

Buckeye Mineral Water Is a Natural Product . . .

Buckeye Mineral Water is a natural water from a spring in southern Ohio, carbonated and vitalized by ultra-violet rays, with no minerals added or taken from it. Its action is mild but effective in stimulating the secretions of the digestive tract, neutralizing excess acids, and aiding in dissolving uric acid deposits. Its use has been found highly beneficial in relieving catarrhal conditions of the mucous membranes, rheumatism, lumbago, gout, stomach trouble, and numerous ailments caused by faulty elimination.

Lemon, Nectar, Plain Carbonated and Natural . . .

Many of us, children and grown-ups alike, have always dreaded to take the old-fashioned type of laxative because of its unpleasant taste and harsh effect upon the system. Buckeye, the NEW laxative, is easy to take because it is refreshingly carbonated and flavored with your choice of two delicious flavors—lemon or nectar. No longer will you have difficulty getting your children to take a laxative—give them FLAVORED BUCKEYE—they'll take it because they LIKE IT.

Buckeye Mineral Water is also available in un-flavored carbonated, and without flavor or carbonation—just as it comes from the spring.

Try It FREE This Week-end!

Don't fail to clip the coupon at the bottom of this advertisement and bring it to Crystal Rock Springs this week-end for a full-sized bottle of Buckeye Mineral Water absolutely FREE! Cold Hampers Cowboy Athletes; Golfers Win

Saturday in an 18-hole match held at the Arlington course.

This victory is the second in as many starts and places the Cowboys in a tie with Central and North for first place. Each member of the team secured three points with Rocky Matthews being medalist for the day with a total score of 86.

Apparently a little shy of his golfing ability, Mike Boland of Arlington failed to show up for his scheduled match in the cowboy league, thereby defaulting to Wise of West.

The West quartet will meet South tomorrow morning in a match to be played over the Indian Spring course.

the lookout

by john wolfe

He signs his name modestly—J. Bodensieck. Yet, at the age of 16, he had studied Latin for nine years, English for five, and French for three. He came to this country from Germany at the age of 19, and for four years worked six nights per week in a factory.

Ambitious to be capable in many fields and master of one, he comes closer than anyone I have ever known of attaining his goal. Seeking his mastery in theology, circumstances have thrown him in the field of letters, and he is now editor of a German church paper.

A past professor, he has taught various theological subjects, geometry, French, German, Hebrew, Greek and Latin. He plays on the piano, works of the great composers, as well as meditations of his own, the latter when alone, for in solitude, he says, he can "play to the glory of God."

He speaks readily of minor battles in world history with the same casual nonchalance that obtains when we of commoner education refer to the Civil War. Labelling himself a layman in the field of science, he nevertheless can make your head swim with talk of probability, relativity, and the like.

But busy as he is, he is frequently away with his family, and some such rambler as the writer, traipsing through Hocking County "hollers," jest pokin' 'bout mid ferns and mosses.

FROM THE RECORD

Out at a late hour, and catering to a sudden hankering to "play hookey," perused the Ohio Science Journal and Hartley's Greenfield Times, which the postman fetched.

So to the office, and a letter from Herb Currier in Salt Lake City, and he told of a teacher there who lives alone upon a high hill with his pet mountain cats, and I became fascinated by the man immediately. Told too, of snow the day he writ, and of lingering winter in the mountains. And I writ back, lamenting seven consecutive days sans sunshine, but told of two dozen wildflowers now in bloom in Hocking hills.

And of a mind to type notes to Frank Howard, Ray Hill and Dave Ballard, but humanly putting the plans ahead a day. Later numbering books and papers, and finding a total of more than 300.

Jean Armour was 20 years old a week ago Friday. . . . It actually happened like this: A Hilltopper, name unavailable, went fishing with a couple other Hilltoppers at a big lake in Michigan or Canada. And when he pulled up a huge specimen, and it arrove at the top of the water, its bigness astonished him—and he fainted. M'gosh. . . . Anne Raether contributes another Bigger family story: It seems as though, after papa Bigger had died, mama married again, and the chaps name was also Bigger. Who was the biggest? Why Mama Bigger, because she was twice a Bigger.

Long-sought Sewer Relief In Sight For Hilltoppers

Work Begins On Wayne Ave. Mon.

Federal Project 1961 to Bring Much Needed Relief to Thousands of Hilltop Homes.

Federal Public Works project No. 1961, which for the past several months has occupied the attention of workmen in the southeastern section of the community, and which now is in full sway in the Hilltop proper, is the long anticipated and long fought for sewer relief project, the completion of which, will bring greater happiness to thousands of Hilltop residents.

For more than 15 years, local home owners have had to tolerate the uncomfortable and far more unsanitary conditions brought about by backed up sewage in the basements of their homes during periods of heavy precipitation. Under the leadership of Wyatt L. Milliken, and others, the situation has been fought and means sought to alleviate the conditions.

Work for the past several weeks has been going on in Midland avenue, and on Monday of this week, preliminary work was begun on Wayne avenue. At the latter place, the street has been torn up, and from Wayne to Richardson on Broad street, similar work will be done.

According to information available this week, work on the reparing of Broad street will begin upon the completion of the sewer installation.

The entire section of Broad street from Wheatland avenue west to Hague, will be removed and a concrete foundation laid, over which will be asphalt paving. Gutters of brick, six feet in width will also be laid.

Bids on the project were to have been made to the State Highway department this week, a period of 15 days being allowed by law for competing firms to submit estimates.

EXAMINATIONS

Free physical examinations for children who will matriculate at West Broad Street school next fall will be held on Wednesday, May 8, at the school, it was announced this week.

Physicians from the Board of Health will perform the service, and parents are urged to take their children to the school at that time. Dental examinations will also be made, according to the announcement. There will be no charge.

Play In Church Loop to Begin

Eligibility Lists Must Be In Tomorrow; Four Games On Opening Card Monday Evening.

With eligibility lists scheduled to be filed with the recreation department no later than tomorrow noon, opening games in the Hilltop Church League will be played at Westgate Park on Monday evening, Apr. 29. An announcement by the recreation department Sunday erroneously indicated May 5 as the opening date.

The following teams will meet in the Ridlifters: Glenwood Tri Mu vs. Hilltop Church of Christ, No. 1; Burgess U. B. and Glenwood M. E., No. 2; Westgate Evangelical vs. St. John Lutheran, No. 3; and Hillcrest Baptist vs. Sullivant Friends, No. 4.

Intermediate to Play

An organization of intermediate teams was also organized Monday night, with seven teams being granted franchises. One other team may enter before the season opens, on Tuesday evening, May 7. Representatives may get in touch with Leo Uridil at the recreation department.

There will be no fees in the Junior

Young People Preside At Evening Services

Four to Give Talks At Hilltop C. of C. Sunday.

The Young People's Fellowship of the Hilltop Church of Christ will be in charge of the evening services on Sunday, Apr. 28, at 7:30 o'clock.

The following addresses will be given by members of the group: "The Problems Young People Face Today," by James Roberts; "How the Church May Help Us Find Our Way," by Charles Ditrick; "Resources of the Christian Religion for Our Present Needs," Juanita Alkire; and "What I Would Like to See Our Church Do For Young People," by Marie Polke.

Music will also be furnished by the Fellowship and the public is invited to attend.

Present Comedy Drama

The Silent Builders' club of the Wheatland Avenue M. E. church will present a three-act comedy drama, at the Wheatland Avenue church, on Apr. 26, at 8:15 (tonight). The title of the play is "The Path Across the Hill."

Cowboys to Meet South Bulldogs This Afternoon

Baseball Season's City League Liddifter Scheduled for Hilltop Diamond At 3:15 Today.

By Bob Nichols

The West sport teams divided the wins and losses in the past week, the track team losing to Arlington while the golfers recorded a win over South and the baseballers over Mechanicsburg.

The West diamonders will open the city league against South this afternoon on the home lot at 3:15. Little is known of the South aggregation, but South teams are usually tough and hard to beat.

The West nine has been rounded into what appears to be a fair ball club. The probable lineup will find Mitchell or Kimbral at first base; Jones, Stewart or Stutzcher at second; Redmond at shortstop with Ankrum, Moyer or Larkin performing at the hot corner. Wolfe and Grubbs are the only definite outfielders, subject to replacement. Hatton, a port sider, is slated to start as pitcher with Emery, Ditrick and Howison as relief hurlers if needed. Left handers have in the past been a South jinx. Due to Francis' sore arm, Heflin or Alban will take over the catching duties until Francis recuperates.

Central will be encountered next Tuesday on the West diamond. Bill Burr will be the probable starting flinger.

Officers Installed

The Young Married People's Bible class of the Hillcrest Baptist church held their annual banquet and installation of officers at the Fort Hayes Hotel, Tuesday, Apr. 23.

Following the dinner a short but interesting program was presented.

Officers installed were: Noble L. Allen, president; Jack Embrey, vice president; I. H. DeRolph, teacher; Rev. S. T. Magann, assistant teacher; Mrs. H. E. Starcher, secretary; Mrs. Veda Northrup, treasurer; Mrs. T. S. Hogan, assistant secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Rhea Swicegood, pianist, and Mr. John Aston, chorister.

Young People in Charge

The evening service at Hillcrest Baptist church Sunday evening will be in charge of the B. Y. P. U. Four short talks on the principles of the Baptist church will be given by William Knox, Jr., Gerald B. Tallman, Ralph Kent and Miss Marie Kent. Organ and xylophone numbers will be given by Misses Ruth Humphreys and Florence Evans.

Our Birthday Anniversary

For 18 consecutive years, 938 consecutive weekly issues, the Hilltop Record has served the community, during which time, there has been no missing issues and none have ever been distributed late. Today's issue is the first in the nineteenth year of service, the first Record making its appearance on Apr. 27, 1917, when S. J. Westlake was the publisher.

Mr. Westlake still operates a printing shop where the first Record rolled off the press at 2354½ W. Broad St., but the paper is no longer published there, the establishment having been moved in 1928 to the present location, 14 S. Oakley Ave., after being purchased in 1926 by the present owner and publisher, R. D. Hastings.

No other community newspaper in Columbus and environs can match the Record's record over a continuous period of time, either as to circulation, community interest, and regularity of appearance. Continued service of this type is the paper's sole aim.

"We begin this week," an editorial in the first issue states, "the publication of the Hilltop Record, and expect to continue issuing the same each week . . . We have no great predictions to make concerning the future . . . but we do promise to do our best to make it an interesting newspaper, devoted exclusively to the Hilltop."

The expectations have been fulfilled, the promises kept. So will the Record continue to serve.

Senior Reception Saturday to Be West High Jubilee "Ice-breaker"

Plans for the West High School Alumni Association's annual senior reception at the school on Saturday evening, Apr. 27, have been completed with the announcement this week by General Chairman Charles Peake that Bill Weigel's orchestra has been obtained to furnish the music for the dancing.

The Weigel ensemble, well known to dance fans, played the Freshman Prom on the Ohio State University campus two weeks ago.

Jubilee Dates Changed

Due to the heavy schedule which seniors will be called upon to face during the final week of school, Miles V. Hoover, general chairman of the Silver Jubilee, announced this week that the affair would be shortened by one day, the program getting under way on Friday, June 7, instead of Thursday evening, as previously announced.

Byron P. Redman will be in charge of Friday's festivities with W. E. Ferguson supervising affairs through Saturday.

Baccalaureate June 9

Rev. Frank Randall, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Denison, O., and a graduate of West High's first class in 1911, will preach the annual baccalaureate sermon at the school auditorium on Sunday afternoon, June 9.

Class Day exercises will be held on Monday, June 10, with graduation exercises slated for Wednesday afternoon, June 12.

The senior reception of tomorrow evening, however, will be the ice breaker, for the entire jubilee program, full announcement of which will be made in the near future.

Spring Fever Hits Workers of Puzzle

Judging from the assortment of answers submitted last week in the "Puzzle That Pays" contest it appears that the spring weather got ahold of many Hilltoppers. Out of all the solutions there were many that were not correct because the contestant used some of the letters and numerals more than once.

It must be remembered that correctness comes first in deciding the winners. Out of all the correct solutions the neatest and the most original ones are then selected which always turns out to be a difficult time for the judges.

Prize Winners

The prize winners for last week's puzzle are as follows: Mrs. C. H. Lawver, 497 S. Harris Ave., first prize, a merchandise order at Albright Florist; Bernice Tier, 481 S. Ogden Ave., second prize, a merchandise order at the Economy Variety Store, and Mrs. Margaret Moore, 71 Highland Ave., third prize, a merchandise order at the Broad-Hague Hardware Store.

The puzzle for this week will be found on page four.

Civic League Meets

The Hilltop Civic League will organize a School Forum in their special meeting at the Wheatland Avenue M. E. church Sunday, Apr. 28, at 3 p. m. A special speaker has been chosen for the occasion. All parents are expected to be present and know just what it is all about.

Operetta to Be Presented Tonite

"The Land of Dreams-Come-True" to Be Given At West Broad School Auditorium.

"The Land of Dreams-Come-True," a three-act operetta, by pupils of the West Broad Street school, will be repeated on the school stage this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The first showing of the production was to have been at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

More than 300 pupils, including the choruses and glee clubs, have been working on the show for the past two months under the direction of various members of the faculty. The setting of the operetta is laid in the forest, where children have gone to play. They fall asleep, and while they slumber, "The Land of Dreams" come true, and Mother Goose characters have their day of play.

Costumes for the show have been made by the mothers of the school children, while scenic effects including a large painting of a forest for background, have been painted by West Broad teachers.

Tickets are available from the students and there will be no reserved seats.

To Repeat Cantata

The Fifth Avenue United Brethren church choir of 22 voices will repeat the Easter cantata, "The Passover," by E. L. Ashford, in the Hilltonia United Brethren church, 522 Columbian Ave., at 7:30 Sunday evening, Apr. 28. Mrs. F. O. Carpenter is the director, and Miss Romette Shumaker is the organist. A cordial welcome is extended to the public.

Tri Mu Banquet

The Tri Mu Bible class of Glenwood M. E. church will hold its annual class banquet Friday night, Apr. 26, at the church. Dr. N. D. Godfrey will be the speaker of the evening. S. B. B. Hodge, 133 S. Warren Ave., is president of the class.

Trolley Bus Service On Sullivant to Start May 5

Speaker

John W. Bricker

Mr. Bricker, Attorney General of Ohio, will be the speaker at the pre-primary rally scheduled by the Eleventh Ward Republican club for Thursday evening, May 2, at the Hillcrest Baptist church.

Republicans To Rally Thursday Nite At Hillcrest

Pot-Luck Supper at 6:30 o'Clock Schdeuled to Precede Pre-Primary Meeting at 8:15.

Every Eleventh Ward Republican has been invited to attend the pre-primary rally of the Eleventh Ward Republican club to be held Thursday evening at the Hillcrest Baptist church, according to an announcement made this week by officials in charge.

Attorney General John Bricker will be the principal speaker and a musical program and community singing will feature the entertainment. Mrs. Paul Benton, 107 N. Roys Ave., is in charge of the latter.

Mrs. Fred H. Schmidt, 3107 Ellis Pl., is president of the group.

The meeting will get under way at 6:30 o'clock with a pot-luck supper, to be followed at 8:15 by the regularly scheduled program. A good attendance is sought.

Moses M. Williams, Eleventh Ward committeeman and president of the club, has sent written invitations to every Republican office holder from supreme court down to city officials, urging their attendance with their families at this spring get-together, and has received a great many acknowledgements of his invitation.

Temperance Address At Friends Church

On next Sunday night, Apr. 28, Dr. W. F. McCoun, president of the Marion college, Marion, Ind., will give a temperance address at the Highland Avenue Friends church. Dr. McCoun gives a very impressive and timely message on prohibition. The hour of service will be 7:30. A group of Marion college students will furnish special music for the meeting.

Dr. McCoun will be in attendance at the Alum Creek Quarterly meeting of the Friends church to be held at the Alum Creek church, near Cardington, O., Saturday and Sunday. He will speak there on Sunday afternoon.

Luther League Choir To Present Cantata

The Luther League Choir of Central Ohio will present a cantata, "The Triumphant Life," by Fearis, in St. John Lutheran church at 7:30 p. m., Apr. 28, under the direction of Dr. Robert Schoene assisted by Margaret Sanders at the organ.

Soloists will be Ruth Allard, soprano; Barbara Wendel, contralto; and James Snyder, baritone.

Local Boy's Balloon Takes Long Journey

Jack Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Davis, 35 N. Burgess Ave., who released a gas-filled balloon Friday evening, Apr. 19, at 5 o'clock, received a letter this week from Dale Honeycutt of Clinchport, Va., saying that the balloon had landed there Sunday morning, having gone through snow and ice en route.

Young Davis released five other balloons Friday evening, but no reports have been made on their whereabouts.

Jubilee Plans Near Completion

Gala Celebration Planned By Southwest League and Sullivant Merchants Saturday, May 4.

The long anticipated bus service on Sullivant avenue will become a reality on Sunday morning, May 5, according to an announcement made late last week by Morgan Evans of the Columbus Railway Power and Light Co.

In celebration of the event, The Southwest League, a combine of Hilltop residents living in the southwest sector of the community, in cooperation with merchants along the bus route, is sponsoring a huge jubilee on Saturday evening, May 4, beginning with a parade at 6 o'clock.

The mayor of Columbus, Henry Worley, and the councilmen, will be guests of honor, and the affair will form at Central and Sullivant avenues and move west to Hague, returning to the starting point before disbanding.

On street corners throughout the route will be special entertainment. This feature is in charge of Dr. M. W. Bates.

Complete plans for the affair will be announced next week, but according to information available on Tuesday, a christening ceremony and a variety of other events will be held.

The bus service, which will replace the present trolley car service, will operate on Sullivant avenue to Binns boulevard. On Hague avenue between Sullivant and Broad, will be a gasoline bus, which will operate also, west on Broad street from Hague avenue to the city limits.

3rd Crash Victim Dies Wednesday

Mrs. Grace Hakola Succumbs at Mt. Carmel Hospital From Effects of Saturday Train Crash.

Mrs. Grace Hakola, aged 35, of 136 S. Richardson Ave., succumbed Wednesday evening at Mt. Carmel hospital, the third to die as a result of a traffic accident at the Harper road crossing last Saturday in which two others were instantly killed.

The body will be sent to Conneaut, O., by C. J. Kohn for funeral and burial. Surviving are her husband, Edward and one son, Robert, aged 6.

Funeral services for Emil Hakola, aged 36, of 136 S. Richardson Ave., and Mrs. Laura Bridle, 56, of North Kingsville, O., fatally injured at about noon Saturday, Apr. 20, when an east-bound Pennsylvania flyer struck the auto in which they were riding at the Harper road crossing, were held Tuesday, at Conneaut, O., where the bodies were taken Sunday by C. J. Kohn.

Mrs. Grace Hakola, aged 35, also of 136 S. Richardson Ave., remained in critical condition at Mt. Carmel hospital this week.

Mr. Hakola was the driver of the car, which witnesses said, skidded to a stop on the tracks before the oncoming train, where the engine was stalled. The occupants made a vain attempt to get out of the vehicle before the impact.

The car, a Chevrolet sedan, was completely demolished and carried yards down the track.

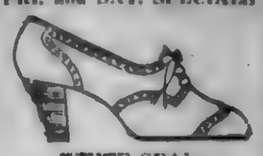
Wilcox, members of the Hilltop Business Men's association will observe a special holiday on May 5, at which time everything else will be thrown to the four winds and ye olde fishermen will have their day of days.

"For be it known," the edict reads, "that on this date, for $2.00, one may participate in this huge piscatorial adventure, and by artful tactics, may capture or snag a fesch large or small enough to win a prize."



According to present plans, the first 40 members to pay their fee will depart from Hague avenue and Broad street, at 3 o'clock in the morning of May 5. At 6 o'clock the aggregation will pull into Sandusky where half hour will be available for breakfast. The boat will return to the Lakeside dock at 6 o'clock in the evening, and the same route will be taken home, arrival here being scheduled for 11 o'clock.

$3000 OR MORE LIVES

Double track flashing light signals for railroad crossings, according to officials of railroad companies, cost between $2200 and $3000—a paltry sum compared to the loss of human life in this community alone in the past several years.

Last Saturday two more were killed at the Harper road crossing, a dangerous place at best. Four lives were lost less than a year ago at the Big Four crossing on Eureka avenue.

At the latter station, flashing signals are not yet erected, while, according to news dispatches, flashing signals at Harper road were not installed due to a mistake.

It is high time that something definite be done. These crossings are among the most dangerous in or near the city of Columbus. The cost of installing flashers may total thousands of dollars, but human life is at stake. On days when adverse winds are blowing, the whistle of the locomotive is not sufficient warning—especially to a driver in a closed vehicle. And sight for sufficient distance in both directions is not possible at either of the crossings.

It resolves down to the question of $3000 or more human lives. The payment, it seems, is left to the railroads.

Class Studies Nature

Friday, Apr. 12, Miss Collet, biology teacher of Starling Jr. High school, took the following pupils to Green Lawn cemetery, to study bird life: Virginia Keller, Mildred Taynor, Frances Yore, Mary Louise Carjer, Evelyn Davis, Dorothy Overly, Ruth Louderback, Charles Haines, Clarence Junk, Jack Simkins, Neil Whitaker, Darel Griggs, Jack Rayburn.

Out-of-Door Projects

Miss Ina Ganson, vice principal of Starling Jr. High school and competent leader of the Girl Reserves at the school, has stimulated much interest in nature study projects among the girls. Hikes, camp-life, etc., are already being planned by the group. A hike was taken Wednesday. The following girls are officers and active members of the group: Luella Ward, president; Suzanne Cleveland, secretary; Lida Mae Distelhorst, treasurer; Olive Hymrod, pianist; and the following active members: Jean Landenberger, Jane Landenberger, Jane Landenberger, Ruth Landenberger, Ruth Kinsell, Wanda Frances, Rachael Betz, Margaret Burgoon, Phyllis Cooper, Joyce Smith, Jane Carter, Alice Stutz, Anna Belle Howard, Betty Morgan, Virginia Busby, Mary Virale, Betty Jane Moore, Ruthanne Curfman, Florence Laron, Elizabeth Boord, Dorothy Hinton, Ruth Moore, Violet Buccheccchio, Marilyn Bell, Dorothy Lett and Mildred Kelso.

Study Industries

At present the Business English classes at Starling Jr. High school are interested in the stories of various industries and businesses. Letters are written to captains of industry in all parts of the world. In addition to the practice of writing such letters, much information of general interest is learned. Reports and discussions are subsequently held.

Teachers Enjoy Vacation

Miss Ina Ganson, vice principal, and Miss Grace Collet, biology instructor at Starling Jr. High school spent much of their Easter vacation traveling in the southland.

Burglar Device Made

Dean Dailey, an 8A Manual Art student at Starling Jr. High, completed an electrical buzzer in his school work. Dean took his invention home and placed it on the stair-steps. While all were abed that night a prowler entered the house and accidentally stepped on the buzzer (which had been connected to the electrical outlet) arousing the entire family. Upon arising they discovered a window ajar—indicating that a burglar had entered the home. Thus, an electrical invention proved useful.

Girls' Athletic Council

Twenty-four girls comprise the Athletic Council at Starling Jr. High school. Each girl represents a home room. The council includes: Ruth Mason, Thelma Carpenter, Pauline Kern, Lucille Simmons, Leah Slagle, Mildred Tayner, Marie Rees, Dessie Sprague, Bessie McDaniel, Ruth Hamilton, Berdena Hoffman, Phyllis Cooper, Louise Becker, Margaret Rice, Mary Williams, Hazel Brooks, Kathryn Yahn, Suzanne Cleveland, Pauline Wynkoop, Bessie Martin, Mildred Cogny, June Hart, Helen Shaver, Cornelia Tanner. Miss Harriet Dieter, girls' physical education director of the school, is advisor for the group.

Intramurals

Starling Jr. High home rooms have organized soft ball teams as part of the intramurals program at that school. The following students have been appointed junior managers for the league: James McCann, Paul Whitsel and Charles Stevens.

Teachers Visit Homes

To date approximately 1800 visits have been made by Starling Jr. High teachers to homes of students. During the month of April 315 such calls were made.

The Nature Trail

By JOHN WOLFE

Stretching between those two points in Fairfield county known as Christmas Rocks and Jacob's Ladder, for a mile or more, there is a massive sandstone ridge, forested at the summit with oak and hickory, and splatterings of pine groves, and clothed, on its vertical faces, with mosses and lichens without number.

For a decade now, at least a dozen times a year, I ramble in this region, and the day is yet to come when something new has not been found, or when some finer view cannot be discovered.

No matter how tollsome or hot the day, I cannot seem to resist the temptation to strike back from the desiccation of stagnant pools in the valley bottoms, and make for the ridge, and passing it, slip over the slopes beyond and into the cool and shaded crevices of Christmas Rocks.

There, on that ancient ledge, I can look up the valley and see the majestic profile of Jacob's Ladder, like a sombre, black sentinel, looking over the valley, wherein (or so many Boy Scout years at Troop 45, lay all that I held precious—in birds and flowers and trees and creeping things. A thousand memories revive themselves from that spot—sunrises, sunsets, mighty bird choruses of the early morning; summer nights, blanketed by the star-shot heavens; hazy, lazy afternoons, resting under the gnarled chestnut tree, watching the magnificent flight of vultures; fury of storm winds in the valley, and the unmatched freshness of the forest when the sun comes after rain; and so many other things, far too numerous to mention.

So, for the first time this spring, accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. J. Bodensieck, their daughter Matilda, Colonell Layman, and eight members of a St. John Monday school class (of Indian extraction, judging from the quality of their war cries, etc.), we set out to meet oncoming spring in the hills. But we found her not yet at our trysting place.

True, a number of early flowers were in bloom. We found the Golden Saxifrage in luxuriant abundance along the stream bank? Spring Beauties were to be found in sunnier locations; Hepaticas, none these several days, lurped to seed, and others blooming profusely, were present; the delicate Windflower abounded on the slopes; three or four species of Blue Violets were out, and the Crowfoot, in certain locations, was quite abundant. Along the rockier ledges, the Early Saxifrage was just coming into bloom.

In the pond, great masses of gelatinous frog eggs are noted, and from under the dead leaves underneath the water, salamanders stealthily glided how and then. In warmer spots, thousands and thousands of tadpoles swarmed, and one paused a moment to contemplate the prodigality of nature, for, ere June comes round, a vast majority of these tadpoles will have long since ceased to exist. Two dozen or more that I brought home, and placed so carefully in the same bowl with several salamanders, were not to be seen the next morning.

Where the stagnant pool fades over into a miniature and mucky swamp, we were quite astonished to find the famous skunk cabbage yet in bloom. Probably the earliest flower of the year, its time is long past, and its presence, in last stages of flowering, gave quite evidence of lingering winter in the valleys.

Reluctantly we left the pond, for of all places in the early spring, life bubbles forth there with enthusiasm, as it were. Already, mudwasps and spiders without number were flying and scampering about, and occasionally we saw grasshoppers.

But on the slope, and to the ridge, previously mentioned, where came the surprise of the day.

Following the ridge toward Christmas Rocks, we suddenly came upon a vertical section clothed abundantly with lichens. A brown patch of the plants suddenly caught my eye, for I thought I saw some leathery rock tripe, a plant recorded from but a single cliff in Hocking county, and from nowhere else in the state.

I looked again. Yes, there was the brown plant, with smooth surface, black and rhizoid covered beneath. Just within reach was a single specimen, which I collected, but the others were far out on the cliff face, and I must go back and descend with a rope to take the plants.

Imagine travelling that ridge for 10 years and not seeing one of our most conspicuous plants, the largest of our Ohio lichens. But that is the beauty of the ramble. I know, as I reluctantly leave those hills, crowned now in the last soft rays of the setting sun, that I can come back anytime, and a hundred times, and find something never found before.

And I look up the valley, and see the Ladder there, majestic and sombre and challenging, keeping watch over the surrounding hills and valleys. And I know that I will go back, before the spring is over, to find things never found before.

A Narrow Vale

Life is a narrow vale between the cold and barren peaks of two eternities. We strive in vain to look beyond the heights.

We cry aloud—and the only answer is an echo to our wailing cry.

From the voiceless lips of the unreplying dead, there comes no word. But in the night of death, Hope sees a star and listening Love can hear the rustle of a wing.

—Robert Ingersoll.

I am an old man and have had many troubles, but most of them never happened.

Memory

My mind lets go a thousand things
Like dates of wars and deaths of kings.
And yet recalls the very hour—
'Twas noon by yonder village tower
On the last blue noon in May—
The wind came briskly up this way.
Crisping the brook beside the road;
Then, passing here, set down its load
Of pine scents, and shook listlessly
Two petals from that wild rose tree.

—Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

And yet, when a strong brain is measured with a true heart, it seems to me like balancing a bubble against a wedge of gold.—Holmes.

Cowboys Meet South Bulldogs This Afternoon

Practice games have been scheduled with Academy and Greenfield.

Mechanicsburg was defeated 10-8 in a preliminary game. Hitting power coupled with fielding prowess made possible the win. Effective pitching also played a major part. Mechanicsburg will engage West in a return game a week from tomorrow.

Trackmen Swamped 89-19

West High's track representatives went down to defeat at the hands of Upper Arlington by a lopsided score of 89-19 in a meet run off Wednesday, Apr. 17, at Upper Arlington.

The lone Cowboy first was tallied by Nichols in the mile, and the single second by Tiller in the 220-yard dash. Thirds were obtained by Simmons in the 100-yard dash; McGonigal in the 220 yard low hurdles; Hutchinson in the pole vault; Hoffman in the discus, shot put and javelin; Underwood in the broad jump and Nettleship in the mile. A lack of training and the "I don't care" spirit brought about the downfall of the West team as a strong Arlington team piled up an early ever-increasing lead, making clean sweeps of the half-mile, 440-yard dash and high jump events.

Golfers Win Third

West's ever-dominating golf quartet decisively trounced South 12-0 in a match played over the Indian Springs layout, last Friday morning.

But three South players reported for the scheduled match, the absence of the fourth man forfeiting three points to Ferguson, West's fourth man.

Bob Ferguson, at present, is leading the team scorers with a total of nine points, closely followed by Rocky Matthews and Bob Stevens with eight points each. Melvin Bowman is fourth with six.

Ross of South put the skids on Wise of West in the coaches league, defeating him 5 to 4.

The West team is scheduled to meet Academy tomorrow morning in a match to be played at Groveport.

The opening date of the junior high school league has not yet been determined.

The personnel of the West Junior team, at present consists of Hughes at first base, Stiff at shortstop, Bunker at third with Carter and Palmer fighting for second base. The selection of a second baseman depends upon the one who possesses the better throwing arm. The pitching staff consists of Frasure, Strausbaugh and Albert, with Frasure showing the most promising form. Their battery mates are Bradley with Amicon and Ghent in reserve.

Oakley, Distelhorst and Ucker are patrolling the outer garden with T. Hughes, Carpenter and Chick as utility.

Play In Church League To Commence Monday

circuit, and players who will not be 18 before Apr. 1, 1936, will be eligible for competition, governed otherwise, by the same rules that prevail in the senior loop.

Games will be played at Westgate Park, with opening conflicts as follows: Hilltop Church of Christ vs. Glenwood M. E., No. 1; Hillcrest Baptist vs. Hoge Memorial, No. 2; Burgess U. B. vs. Westgate Evangelical, No. 3; and St. John Lutheran, bye, unless another team is granted a franchise.

All games in the intermediate league will be of seven innings duration.

HILLCREST CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

A. E. Hetherington Named President of Men's Group.

Beginning Sunday, May 5, the newly elected officers of the Men's Bible class of the Hillcrest Baptist church will take over their duties. The election, held last week, named A. E. Hetherington, 204 S. Warren Ave., president of the group, and O. H. Craft, 30 Maple Dr., Camp Chase, teacher.

Other officers chosen include: F. W. Chenowith, 71 N. Central Ave., vice president; Pearl Campbell, 44 Whitethorne Ave., secretary; E. E. Rinehart, 286 S. Warren Ave., treasurer; F. G. Kent, 257 S. Roys Ave., assistant teacher; Rev. J. W. Loughridge, 45 N. Powell Ave., pianist, and E. Ray Evans, 156 Guernsey Ave., and W. E. Knox, 133 Eldon Ave., choristers.

Body Refrigerators

According to physicists of Purdue university, the entire body may now be kept cool, even on the hottest summer days, by means of a miniature refrigerator strapped to the wrists. This tiny ice box is little larger than an ordinary wrist watch, and contains a pellet of dry ice. The metal case is insulated from the wrist by rubber, to prevent burns from the extremely cold dry ice. As the ice—solid carbon dioxide—evaporates, it escapes in the form of an invisible gas which has the same effect as pouring cold water over the wrists, thus lowering the temperature of the blood in the arteries.

West Church League Notes

The offensive record of 127 runs set by Hoge Memorial last year in the first round, will probably remain unmolested this year, with one game cut off the schedule by the loss of Warren Nazarene from the circuit.

But even with a reduced number of teams, the Warren Nazarene defensive record of seven runs will probably remain. The fine performance came with Bill Reese's four shut-outs and one one-run affair.

The only team not yet defeated by the St. John team, which has never passed the top of the second division, is Hillcrest.

Hoge Memorial and Hillcrest have played the most officially scheduled games, with the Baptists coming out on the long end three times, Hoge once, while three were ties.

Hoge Memorial has the best two-year record, with 20 wins against seven losses, Hillcrest and Warren Nazarene trail with 26 victories in 36 starts.

Of the five city church final games played in two years by Hilltop entrants, four have resulted in losses, with three of those via the shut-out route. Westgate has been the only team from the local circuit to win a game, dropping Third M. E. last fall, 7 to 3.

The seven inning ruling was passed unanimously at the organization meeting of the local circuit this year, but the next day a great hue and cry went up lamenting the abreviated battles. Everybody had never heard of the suggestion.

A rule stating that a player reported twice by an umpire as being unruly would be suspended from participation in the league, was voted down unanimously at the first session.

GOVERNMENT STUDY OF RADIO NETWORK

A study of the country's radio network is to be made by the government, with an eye to improving the service for town and, particularly, rural areas. Clear channels, which are broadcasting circuits on which high-powered stations of 5000 watts or more operate, are said to be the only means of adequate reception for the outlying districts. There are forty of these clear channels in the United States at the present time. They will be surveyed "both as to results of allocation on clear channels and on channels to which more than one station is assigned to operate simultaneously at night." The possibility of additional high-powered stations will receive consideration also.

Beacon Light Golf Course Now Ready For The Season

Announcement was made this week by Al Marchi, pro at the Beacon Light Golf course, that the course is rapidly rounding into shape and the pre-season work should be completed this week.

According to Marchi the course is in the best condition that it has been in a number of years. All the fairways have been rolled two or three times and the greens gone over thoroughly making them as true as can be at this early season.

The season membership fees have been reduced this year making the men's membership ten dollars, and women's, seven dollars. Tournaments are being planned each week-end and Wednesday afternoons, and it is hoped that some keen competition can be aroused among the Hilltop golfers.

The club house is being remodeled and beginning about May 15 a dining room will be opened where dinners and lunches will be served.

Druggists Now Offer Free Mineral Water

The Harris Mineral Water Company has arranged to continue the unusual free offer that entitles everyone to a full-sized free bottle of Buckeye Mineral Water who presents the coupon contained in their advertisement in this issue, to the Hilltop Druggists handling this product, or direct to the Harris Mineral Water Company at Crystal Rock Springs. Everyone who failed to get a free bottle last week is eligible to take advantage of this offer.

The Ultra-violet Ray machine will again be in operation Sunday, and those who didn't get to see it last week will have the opportunity to do so.

The Housewife's Column

For some reason a great roast ham, shining with its glazed crust, and made piquant with cloves and fruits is the favored meat following Easter. Whatever the origin of the custom, the choice is a happy one, for ham, properly prepared has a flavor that is superb. And ham is an adaptable meat, too, it may appear in many different guises, each appealing and satisfying. If you plan to serve a whole roast ham during the season you will want to follow the method suggested here for best results.

Baked Ham

10 pound ham
4 quarts cold water
2 bay leaves
2 onion slices
12 whole cloves

Wash the ham thoroughly and add rest of the ingredients. Cover with lid, and cook slowly 4 hours or until ham is tender when tested with a fork. Remove ham from stock and cool until it can be handled, then remove excess fat and cut off rind. Fit ham, fat side up, in small roaster. Cover with sugar mixture.

Sugar Mixture

18 whole cloves
1 cup dark brown sugar
1 cup spiced peach juice

Stick cloves in ham, spread with sugar and add juice. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven. Cover with lid and bake 15 minutes. Serve hot or cold. If spiced peach juice is not available use water to which 2 tablespoons of vinegar have been added.

Ham Baked In Cream

Have a slice of ham cut 1½ inches thick. Leave the fat edge on the slice. Rub the ham lightly on both sides and season by rubbing in a little brown sugar. Lay the slice in a baking dish and cover with half milk and half cream. Bake in a moderate oven for about 2 hours or until the ham is tender. The sauce will be quite thick when the ham is done. It may be that additional milk and cream will have to be added, but should be cooked down to the proper "sauce" consistency before serving.

Boiled Ham With Spinach

Soak ham in water overnight. Put the ham in a deep pot and cover with cold water. Heat and remove the scum which rises to the surface. Bring to a boil and reduce the heat so that it will boil very slowly. To cook properly will require about 20 minutes to each pound.

A half hour before the boiling will be finished pour off practically all the water and add half a bottle of dry white wine. The white wine, diluted with the water will serve to make the sauce. Slice an onion and brown in butter; add flour to thicken, about 1 tablespoon to 1 cup of liquid, and make a sauce with the wine in which the ham has been boiled. Cook for 10 minutes, remove the onion and add a few mushrooms cut in thin slices. Cook for another 10 minutes. Season with cayenne pepper and add a glass of cognac. Serve the spinach with the sauce in a separate dish, to be added as the ham is served in slices.

Ham Omelet Chinese Style

½ cup boiled minced onions
½ cup diced cooked ham
3 eggs
½ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon cream
½ teaspoon salt

Drain the onions thoroughly and combine with the ham, the eggs (slightly beaten), the cream and the seasonings. Fry the mixture in fat, using 2 tablespoons to each cake. Serve with soy bean sauce.

Ham Roll With Hard Cooked Eggs

Mix one pound cured ham, ½ pound ground fresh pork, 2 cups rice flakes, 1 egg, ¾ cup milk, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and pepper. Form half the mixture into an oblong layer. Arrange 3 hard cooked eggs on the meat, end to end. Then cover with remaining meat and pat into a loaf. Bake in a moderate oven for 2½ hours, basting with a small amount of water as needed. Serve with tomato catsup.

Ham Stuffing for Bread Loaf

Hollow out a loaf of bread from which the crusts have been removed after cutting a slice lengthwise from the top about 1 inch thick. Butter the loaf all over the outside and fill with the following stuffing.

Ham Stuffing

1 small onion chopped
1 tablespoon green pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
1 cup canned cream of tomato soup
2 cups cooked ham chopped
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
2 sprigs parsley minced
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs beaten slightly

Brown the onion and green pepper in bacon drippings. Add creamed tomato soup and chopped cooked ham. Stir in bread crumbs and heat. Then add minced parsley, mustard, pepper and eggs. Stuff the bread loaf and adjust the cover. Bake until the loaf is a golden brown.

Gingerbread Makes A Versatile Dessert

Almost everyone likes gingerbread—just plain gingerbread, spicy and hot or cold. So if you serve gingerbread plus the following delicious variations you are bound to meet with success.

First of all you must have a good recipe—the one following is very good indeed, and with it as a basis you may go on to create any number of delightful surprise desserts.

Gingerbread

½ cup shortening
2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup molasses
1 egg
2 cups plus 2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon ginger
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup boiling water

Cream shortening, add sugar and cream together thoroughly. Add the egg well beaten and then the molasses. Sift flour, soda, salt and spices together and add to the first mixture alternately with the boiling water. Mix well. Pour into a deep pan lined with greased paper—or at least the bottom of the pan lined. Bake about 45 minutes in a moderate oven.

Variations

Two layers of warm gingerbread with whipped cream and sliced bananas between and on top make gingerbread shortcake. You may split the gingerbread and fill with banana cream filling if you wish. This is made by beating 1 banana mashed, 1 unbeaten egg white and ½ cup sugar until very light and fluffy.

Stewed apricots with the juice slightly thickened may also be used for a filling.

One cup crushed pineapple, drained, is also a perfect filling for spicy gingerbread.

Serve gingerbread topped with ½ cup whipped cream to which has been added ½ to ¾ package soft cream cheese.

Mother's Cook Book

Potatoes with Brown Onions

Boil and mash potatoes with salt and pepper, milk and butter. Cut and brown one large onion in butter and serve over top of potatoes.

Spaghetti with Meat and Tomato Sauce

1 small box of spaghetti
1 pound round steak ground very fine
1 small can of tomatoes
1 onion chopped fine
½ pound grated American Cheese
2 tablespoons butter

Meat left over from the day before, such as pot roast, is just as good to use as fresh. Boil spaghetti in salt water for 25 minutes. Brown the meat and onion in butter and add tomatoes. Mix and cook 5 minutes more. Pour over hot spaghetti and serve with grated cheese.

Cottage Cheese and Peach Salad

Place half canned peach on lettuce leaf. Mix cottage cheese with a little cream, bit of salt, chopped chives and place on top of peach. Serve with French or boiled mayonnaise dressing.

Southern Corn Bread

2 cups cornmeal
2 cups milk
1 tablespoon butter or lard
2 eggs separated
½ teaspoon salt

Pour boiling milk over cornmeal. Melt butter and add to meal. Beat egg yolks until light and thick. Add salt and mix with cornmeal mixture. Fold in stiffly beaten whites and bake in quick oven in shallow buttered tin. Bake 30 minutes. Cut in squares to serve.

ENOUGH

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE old home place is not so fine
As lots of places up the line,
If size is all you care about,
But I can shut all that quite out:
I know, within this house of mine,
Or hers, or ours, that our own stuff,
Though plain, has always been enough.

The old home place is just a farm.
Dad cleared the brush with his own arm
And sowed the seed with his own hand.
Well, other houses may look grand,
With larger fields, and that's no harm—
Unless we quit remembering
That we've enough of ev'rything.

The old home place, or any spot,
By this is judged, though big or not:
If it has housed you, fed you, too,
And both seemed good enough to you,
That's all that matters such a lot.
And this old place, through dry and wet,
Has never really failed us yet.

The old home place has warmed and fed,
And kept a roof above our head,
So we can pass the others by
Without a jealous look or sigh,
And live contented, as I said,
Because, when times were good or tough,
The old home place has been enough.

Largest Game Preserve

High above the north rim of the Grand canyon in Arizona the United States government has set aside a district of 2,500 square miles, comprising about 1,500,000 acres, as a preserve for deer. Named the Kaibab National forest, it is the largest and most unique preserve of its kind in the world.

The French Flag

Optical illusions frequently result from certain juxtapositions of color. This is illustrated in the flag of France, which has its three stripes made in the proportion of thirty for blue, thirty-three for white and thirty-seven for red so that they appear to be of equal width.—Collier's Weekly.

Boiling Red Water in Andes

Boiling red water has been found in a mysterious lake in a deep basin in the Andes in South America and animal and plant life cannot live near the basin, which is believed to be the crater of a semi-extinct volcano, the gases of which agitate the water.

Race Horse's Temperament

The temperament of a race horse is as important as his speed. The cavorting, prancing racer, with his sheeny coat glistening with perspiration, is not wanted by the veteran trainer. Give him the phlegmatic, go-as-you-please horse which takes everything as it comes. If he has not such a horse he endeavors to make all conditions tend toward making such a one.

Countries on the Globe

The number of countries on the globe depends on whether self-government is considered or whether one means political and geographic divisions. If the former, there are 77 countries which may be called nations, including small, independent countries like Monaco. If the latter, there are of course many more—approximately 710.

Eat Snakes and Lizards

The Australian and African bushmen think nothing of eating most kinds of snakes and lizards that occur in their native countries. Large snakes, iguanas, lizards and turtles are relished by Indians living in the American tropics, while the Seminoles in Florida and many other peoples eat small alligators and crocodiles.

The Girl Scouts' organization was founded by Mrs. Juliette Low in Savannah, Ga., in 1912, and incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia in June, 1915.

"Quitschula"

"Quitschula" is a German family name meaning a peasant who lives in the woods, a backwoodsman, a crude or boorish person. It originated as a nickname.

Buzzing Tribute

"Flattery," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "is the buzzing tribute which a bee pays to any flower from which it expects to extract honey."

the lookout

INTERESTING FOLK, No. 2

Three months before he was 18 he was in earthquake smitten San Francisco with 75 cents, the sum total of his worldly goods, and the outlook dreary. He celebrated his birthday, however, in the royal garden of the Imperial Palace of Japan, rich with 90 dollars in his pocket and a cigar between his teeth. Since that time he has been to the orient no less than eight times.

On his wedding day, stricken with what the doctors said was tuberculosis, he was given six months to live. Thanks, perhaps, to his wife's good cooking and her ability to bring about a cessation of his ceaseless ramblings, Frank Allen is today, hale and hearty a master mechanical engineer, capable of building anything from a sewing machine to a battleship.

But for a couple of Philipino girls, he says, he'd probably still be a boiler tender on some tramp steamer. But on a ship once, out of Manila, bound for Hong Kong, up he came from 20 feet below the water line, grimy and dirty and tired, after a long shift, he saw these two girls, dressed immaculately in white—comfortable and sans worry of any variety—going over to China for an afternoon of tennis.

"And I decided then," he says, "that if they could voyage 600 miles for a holiday of tennis, I, a white man with brains, surely could do better than labor in the grease and grime of a boiler room far below the level of the water line."

He can tell stories by the hour, and he's one of these rare chaps who, over the glasses, will sit til the crack of dawn and talk of molecules, atoms, government, dated paper money, why Roosevelt should have really sent capitalism spinning during the bank holiday, et cetera ad infinitum.

He heads a group of engineers in a factory at Newark, O., where glass cloth is manufactured, and which, he insists, will be the stuff of which our breetches are made ere many years.

"Joe" is a pet crow, out at the Woodin residence. Making his sustenance of codliver oil and hamburger, he does his best to repay his master—just the past week fetching home a nickel. Bits of bric-a-brac, especially of a shiny nature, take Joe's fancy, and a dropped dime or marble or sea shell is fast taken into custody by the sly bird and hidden away, goodness knows what for.

Joe's wings are unclipped, but he stays about the premises, seldom wandering any further than the back lot with the mail man.

Cap Hoover, while recently in Florida, sent the Fergusons an alligator, and he has been christened "Charlie." By properly rubbing the rascal's back, they can hypnotize him, and with a snap of the fingers, bring him back to sensibility again.

At my own home, I've a half dozen salamanders, creatures resembling these sinclair oil pictures, but much reduced. I once kept one for several years, feeding him on an average of once a month. A small frog, which I have named Oscar, also adds to our amusement, especially when he starts cheeping. A still younger frog, titled lovingly, Gitcheegoomee (after Jack Shank), has not begun solo work as yet, but if he lives up to his name, the neighbors will be out with petitions before long.

Hillcrest Kiddies Band

The Hillcrest Kiddies Rhythm Band will make its first public appearance Sunday night at the evening service. The members of this band are from the primary department of the Sunday school and are directed by one of their own number, Miss Jane Hawthorne, 280 S. Ogden Ave., and all are in uniform.

Next Friday evening the band will give a concert offering a varied program.

PISCATORS NOTE

The all day fishing trip to Lake Erie, scheduled by the Hilltop Business Men's association for Sunday, May 5, has been cancelled due to the sudden cold weather. It was announced Wednesday of this week.

The trip has been tentatively rescheduled for Sunday, May 19.

Rain Mars Play As Church Loop Begins Season

Tri Mus, Westgate, Hillcrest and Burgess U. B. In Victories At Westgate Park Monday.

Midst rain, mud, cold and darkness, the Hilltop Church League inaugurated its third campaign Monday evening at Westgate Park, two of the four scheduled games being abbreviated affairs, while two others reached the final frame before the deluge.

Hillcrest Baptist, favorites to cop this year's title, played around with Sullivant Friends to win at will, 13 to 3. In a game marked by fine defensive play on both sides, Burgess U. B. beat Glenwood M. E., 4 to 3. Logan's hurling was outstanding for the winners while Walker's work in the short field stood out for the losers.

Games Monday

The following is the schedule of games in the Hilltop Church League for Monday evening, May 6, at Westgate Park.

St. John Lutheran vs. Hillcrest Baptist, No. 1; Westgate vs. Hoge Memorial, No. 2; Hilltop C. of C. vs. Glenwood M. E., No. 3; Glenwood Tri Mu vs. Burgess U. B., No. 4; Sullivant Avenue Friends, bye.

Glenwood Tri Mu, after trailing Church of Christ, 8 to 2, came back strong to pummel Wilcox hard in the final four frames to win 9 to 8. Halley hurled for the winners.

Despite Bob Blesch's excellent seven hit twirling against Westgate for St. John Lutheran, Ed. Howard's aggregation came through with a 11 to 10 victory. Ten St. John errors accounted for the loss. The Lutherans pounded two Westgate pitchers for 12 hits.

Aquinas-West On Doggie Lot Today

Win and Loss Registered In First Two Battles of Campaign; Golf Team Drops One.

By Bob Nichols

The West High sport teams fared rather poorly during the past week, the crippled golf team losing to Academy, 7½ to 4½, and the baseball nine, to South, 9 to 8.

The baseball team will encounter Aquinas on the Mt. Vernon avenue lot today at 4 o'clock. Aquinas, after losing its first league game will be out for a win and should be a tough team in-as-much as it is made up of veterans. The following Tuesday North performs on the home lot in what looks to be an interesting game. A return game is to be played with Mechanicsburg the fourth and one with Academy the eighth of May, on the West diamond.

A faulty first inning caused the defeat of the West baseball nine at the hands of South, 9-8, in the initial league game played last Friday on the West Side diamond.

Burr's Error Costly

Hatton, the starting hurler for West, was touched for four runs in the first inning due to erronous fielding; Bill Burr's muffing of a fly ball allowing three runs to score. West's first run came in the second inning on succes-

Charter Member of Hillcrest Baptist Church Succumbs

Funeral services for Edmund Harrison, aged 83, a retired farmer and a charter member of the Hillcrest Baptist church, were held Wednesday afternoon from the Noble Allen funeral home.

Rev. S. Talmage Magann was the officiating minister. Burial was in Wesley Chapel cemetery.

The octogenarian succumbed at his home on Fisher road Monday, from the affects of pneumonia. He is survived by his wife, three daughters, two sons, three sisters and two brothers.

Kind Stranger Gives "Lift" and Also $40

After Harold Shaffer, 2473 Sullivant Ave., accepted a lift to work Tuesday morning he decided to be more careful in the future as to who he accepts rides from.

Shaffer, an attendant at a Miller Oil Co. filling station at 2328 Sullivant Ave., was en route to work when a stranger stopped him and offered him a "lift" to work. After he got in the driver pulled out a gun and took $40 from him. The bandit then forced Shaffer out of the car and drove on.

Here Is a Picture of Bus Which Will Operate On Sullivant Ave.

Beginning Sunday morning, May 5, buses like that pictured above will begin operation on Sullivant avenue, running as far west as Binns boulevard. A huge jubilee program honoring the occasion and at the same time celebrating the passing of the old rollicking street cars, will be held tomorrow evening.

Fireworks will get under way with a huge parade which will form at Central avenue and Sullivant and move west to Hague, returning via the same route. Special entertainment will be available on street corners all along the throughfare. Mayor Worley and the city fathers will be present. Thousands of Hilltoppers are expected, to cheer the Southwest League's victory.

Preparations For Sullivant Ave. Celebration Complete

Parade to Open Program at 6 o'Clock Tomorrow Evening; Entertainment On Street Corners Planned; Buses Begin Service Sunday.

Everything is in readiness for a huge celebration in the Southwest section of the Hilltop tomorrow evening, according to officials of the Southwest League, which organization, in cooperation with merchants on Sullivant avenue, is sponsoring a "victory march" in honor of the occasion marking the opening of bus service to residents of the sector.

Buses will begin operation on Sunday morning, May 5, and the passing of the old rumbling, rollicking roller coasters, for so many years the cause of "sea-sickness" among residents, will be duly and properly observed.

Special entertainment will be featured on street corners over the route from Central avenue to Hague. Dr. M. W. Bates is in charge of this feature. A gigantic parade, forming at Central avenue, will move west to Hague avenue and return over the same route to the starting point. Hon. Henry W. Worley, mayor of Columbus, and the Honorable City Fathers, will be present for the occasion.

The following programs are being planned by the merchants at the corners designated. A complete list of the sponsors appears elsewhere in this issue of the Record:

children from the Jack Sherrick Central and Sullivant—Program by studios.

Columbian and Sullivant—Orchestra, with round and square dancing.

Lechner and Sullivant—Six-piece orchestra and vocalist.

Whitethorne and Sullivant — Nine-piece German band.

Clarendon and Sullivant—Orchestra and entertainment and dancing.

Oakley and Sullivant — Six-piece German band with round and square dancing. There will also be a drawing and gifts for the children.

Eureka and Sullivant—Five-piece orchestra with round and square dancing.

Ogden and Sullivant—Round and square dancing, with the same scheduled for Warren and Sullivant. A German band will be heard at Hague and Sullivant.

Special entertainment is also slated for the corners at Belvidere, Wayne and at the Terrace-Richardson-Burgess intersection.

The parade will form in two sections, Sullivant avenue floats and units meeting at Brehl avenue and outside units forming at Dana avenue.

The order of the parade will be as follows, according to the plans. First, an exhibit of ancient transportation; second, the 18 new buses; third, the units of Sullivant merchants; fourth, outside units.

There will also be several bands in the line, and on the return route from Binns boulevard to Central avenue, buses will be dropped from the line and will be opened for public inspection.

Major Floyd Walcutt is general chairman of the parade.

Dr. Collicott Outlines Requirements for Success to Jr. Hi Honor Students

Four essentials for the achievement of success were outlined to West Jr. High honor students Tuesday morning of this week when Supt. J. G. Collicott of the Columbus Public schools addressed the newly elected members of the Excelsior Society at a school assembly.

"You must like your work," he told them. "You must find a joy in doing it. You must be capable of making friends, and holding them. Third, you must develop the tenacity to stick to your work in face of obstacles. Fourth, and by no means least, you must develop the habit of drawing conclusions from the available facts. Even then you must hold your conclusion tentative."

Eighty students from a probable graduating class of 215 were honored by the society, the largest group ever to be taken into the society.

Charles Pletcher responded for the group, which chose him as their speaker.

Special recognition was given two of the girls, Kathryn Nettleship and Helen Henderson, both of whom maintained perfect grades throughout their junior high school career.

The following are the students elected to membership. Election is based on school spirit and loyalty, courtesy, participation in outside activities, and general deportment, including punctuality.

'Puzzle That Pays' Pays Three More

Last Week's Puzzle Proves Too Puzzling Is Claim of Contestants.

Many contestants claimed that last week's puzzle was the most difficult that has been presented yet. This claim was substantiated by the large percentage of incorrect answers submitted. Many workers of the puzzle tried to find as many names, addresses or telephone numbers as possible when there are only three correct ones to be found if each letter or number is used only once. This week's puzzle is a little easier and will be found on page ten.

Prize Winners

Ogden Ave., first prize, three dollar merchandise order at Umbenhauer's Drug Store; Marie F. Campbell, 91 S. The next session of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church which meets quadrennially will come to Columbus in the month of May, 1936. This is the first time General Conference has convened in Columbus and the first time in 36 years that it has been held in the middle west. It will bring delegates from 40 different countries where missionary work is carried on in the Methodist church.

Richard Caulker will be the guest speaker Sunday evening at the Young People's Anniversary Day program at the Hilltonia United Brethren church, 522 Columbian Ave. Mr. Caulker is a native of Sierra Leone, West Africa, and his father is in the line of the chiefs of his tribe. His ancestors were among the first converts of the mission established in 1855.

West vs. Aquinas This Afternoon

sive hits by Jung and Redman and Hollan's fielder's choice. Smith scored once in the fourth and once in the fifth on hits off Emery; one being a home run.

The Cowboys garnered a run in the fourth and three in the fifth on singles by Redman, Dunn, Mitchell, Dilrick; a double by Ankrum and Emery's walk. Three runs were then scored by the Bulldogs on numerous successive walks granted by Graves, Redman then came in from shortstop to take over the pitching chores and finished the seven-inning game in effective style. A belated rally that fell short was started by Wolfe who doubled, followed by Redman's walk and Starr's home run to the left-field fence. The next batters either flied or grounded out.

Bill Burn was the hitting star with three out of four including his home run. Ankrum knocked out two doubles. Most of the varsity squad saw action during the course of the game. West showed power at bat but were somewhat weak afield and showed far from good pitching effectiveness. Moore hurled the entire game for South and was the winning pitcher.

Golfers In First Loss

The West High golf team, minus the services of Bob Stevens and Bob Ferguson, went down to its first defeat of the season at the hands of Academy by a 7½-1½ score in a round played over the Groveport course. Rocky Matthews scored two points and Bill Kinder two and one-half.

Bob Stevens was injured in an automobile accident which necessitated his resigning from the team for the rest of the season. Bob Ferguson became ill and was unable to play. Bill Kinder and Bill Monaghan played in their places.

PIQUANT NEW SALADS ADD SPRINGTIME ZEST

OF course salads are an all-year-'round favorite—but with spring they seem to take on special importance. Their color and freshness tempt the appetite and afford a welcome and easily assimilated "spring tonic." Some are adequate for a complete meal, others serve to emphasize and bring out the flavor of a more elaborate menu. Here are examples of both, easy to make and not expensive.

Springtime Salad

Marinate separately in French dressing diced cooked beets, asparagus tips (fresh or canned), tender green onions cut in quarter-inch slices and diced celery. On each salad plate arrange four cup-shaped leaves of lettuce. In each of the four leaves place one marinated vegetable. Fill the center space in each place with hard-cooked egg, chopped.

Tomato Jelly Molds

Chill tomato aspic in individual ring molds. Unmold on lettuce and fill center with diced apple, pineapple, celery and banana, moistened with mayonnaise dressing.

Romaine Salad With Hard-Boiled Egg Dressing

Hard boil 3 eggs. Pass the yolks through a fine sieve and put them in the bottom of a cold salad bowl. Add a teaspoon of mustard, pepper and salt. Then add 3 tablespoons of olive oil and 1 tablespoon of tarragon vinegar. Add romaine, broken in small pieces. Mix well. Sprinkle the top with the whites of the hard-boiled eggs, chopped fine.

Vegetable Salad

Rub the inside of a large salad bowl with garlic. Break a head of lettuce into irregular size pieces and put in the bowl. Add a bunch of watercress, a cucumber which has been thinly sliced, a bunch of radishes, thinly sliced, half a cup of diced celery and 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped. Dry all the greens well before adding them to the salad. Pour over the salad just enough French dressing to coat the greens. Mix by tossing lightly with a wooden fork and spoon.

Spinach Salad

Wash and pick over carefully 3 pounds of spinach leaves. Soak in cold water until all the sand has been taken off. Put them in a pan with a little cold water and bring quickly to a boil. Drain well and chill thoroughly. Put in a salad bowl 1 teaspoon dry mustard, some salt, pepper, 3 tablespoons olive oil and 1 of vinegar. Mix well, add the spinach and let it soak well. Serve very cold.

Stuffed Pepper Salad

½ cup mayonnaise
2 cups cold cooked halibut, flaked
2 teaspoons onion, grated
1 teaspoon salt
dash of cayenne
½ cup celery, diced
6 green peppers

To the mayonnaise add the halibut, onion, salt, cayenne and celery. Cut a 2-inch slice from each green pepper and remove the seeds and pits. Chop the remainder of the peppers and add to the fish mixture. Fill the pepper slices with the fish and pepper mixture. Garnish with additional mayonnaise and a dash of paprika. Serve on crisp lettuce.

Chicken Salad With Egg Border

2½ cups cold, cooked chicken, cut in pieces
1½ cups chopped, celery
Salt
Pepper
3 hard-cooked eggs
2-3 cup, chopped olives

Mix chicken and celery, add salt and pepper to taste and marinate in French dressing. Chill. Add olives and mix with a little mayonnaise. Mound on crisp lettuce on a platter, spread lightly with mayonnaise and decorate with slices of stuffed olives. Cut eggs in halves, lengthwise, remove yolks and mash to a paste with a little cream or mayonnaise. Season well with salt, pepper and paprika. Divide mixture into 3 parts—to one part add chopped capers, to another minced stuffed olives and to the third finely chopped pickled onions. Refill whites and garnish with capers. Arrange around the salad and garnish with radish roses.

Deviled Egg Salad

6 hard-cooked eggs
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
Dash of cayenne
¼ teaspoon salt

Cut eggs in half lengthwise, remove yolks and blend with remaining ingredients. Refill whites. Chill. Serve on crisp lettuce with mayonnaise to which a dash of Worcestershire sauce has been added.

Salmon Salad

1 can salmon
4 boiled potatoes
2 dill pickles, chopped
6 hard-cooked eggs
Celery
Onion
Seasoning to taste

Combine with mayonnaise, adding eggs last. Let stand a few hours before serving.

Lettuce Rolls

Large lettuce leaves
1 cup cottage cheese
½ cup chopped nuts
½ cup grated carrots
½ teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons mayonnaise

Mix cheese, nuts, carrots, salt and pimento and spread on lettuce leaves. Roll, chill and slice and serve garnished with pimentoes and ripe olives.

Avocado Salad

1 cup seedless raisins
3 small tomatoes, cubed
2 avocados
French dressing
Mayonnaise
Lettuce

Wash the raisins, drain and dry them. Peel the tomatoes and cut in small cubes. Cut the avocados in halves, remove the seeds and scoop out the centers, leaving the shells unbroken. Cut the avocados in small pieces and combine with the raisins and tomato cubes. Marinate in French dressing and refill the shells. Top with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce leaves.

To Have Program

The E. E. B. A. school will have a program at the Wheatland Avenue M. E. church tonight. The music department of the school will present a special musical program; the sewing department will exhibit dresses and other materials made during the school period and special talks by guest speakers.

C. & F. Announce Formal Opening, Expansion Sale

Celebration to Be Held at West Broad Street Store Friday and Saturday.

After weeks of planning, buying and preparing, Cussins & Fearn announce that everything is in readiness for the formal opening to be held Friday and Saturday at their 649 W. Broad St. store.

Because of the rapid growing list of customers in the four communities served by Cussins & Fearn branch stores, the need has been felt for some time for more space at the North High and Linden stores, said Mr. Snyder, manager of the West Broad store. Now that this work is done, all four stores join in an opening celebration and Expansion Sale.

We're growing. Columbus is growing and this is our merchandise-minded way of saying "Thanks" for the faith Columbus people have shown in Cussins & Fearn, said Mr. Snyder. We've grown from one small store originally founded near this on West Broad street to a state-wide institution of 22 stores . . . from a meager investment in merchandise to an inventory amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars . . . from a few neighborhood customers to a patronage that hails from every portion of the state and even beyond the boundaries of the state—these facts, in brief, are some of the highlights in the growth of the career of the Cussins & Fearn company in the past 42 years.

Hundreds of special values will be featured on opening days. Not only will they make attendance of everyone in this community pleasant, but profitable as well. All four Cussins & Fearn Columbus community stores will join in this celebration. Other stores are located at 2847 N. High; 3510 N. High, and 2489 Cleveland Ave. The Downtown Store at 150 N. High does not feature these opening specials.

Mr. Snyder and all the other employees extend a personal invitation to everyone on the West Side and Hilltop to visit them Friday and Saturday.

Highland Ave. School Notes

Observes Youth Week

As a part of the observance of Youth Week, the morning assemblies on Friday, May 3, will be devoted to the study of great personalities who have achieved success through their industry, integrity, and service to humanity. The boys and girls in grades 4, 5 and 6 will meet together to give recognition to those of their own number who are discovering and making use of opportunities for service. Recognition will be given also to those who have maintained an "A" record in conduct and study habits this term. Songs and patriotic exercises will be included in this program.

The various clubs of the school observed Youth Week with hikes and trips. On Tuesday afternoon the 6A-6B group went to the archeological museum at O. S. U. to study birds; several other groups, chaperoned by teachers and parents, attended the play, "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp" at Memorial Hall. On Friday afternoon the Bird club, Flower club and the Individual group plan nature study hikes; the Wild Animal club plans a trip to the zoo; the Prehistoric Animal club will go to Marble Cliff to look for fossil rock and to Orton Hall at O. S. U. to study prehistoric animal life.

Need For Our United Action In the Southwest League

Problems of the southwest section of Columbus are as pressing as any of the many that face the city government. There is no reason to think that this part of the city is being particularly discriminated against consciously, but the fact remains that in many respects it is the poorest provided for section of Columbus.

Certain of these problems are now acute. They press for solution, and when these needs are taken care of there will be more. These needs are always provided for in accordance with what the authorities judge to be the populuar demand. Hence it is necessary that the southwest section have some organization in which to consolidate public opinion as to what is needed, how much it is needed and how it should be provided. This the Southwest League can be made, just in proportion as the people of the section get behind its civic activities.

At present these needs include the making of our streets safe for traffic by the abolition of the running of heavy freight trains through them. Nowhere else in residential Columbus are such trains permitted. No other part of the city is asked to expose its people to maiming and its property to destruction in order that a few capitalists may profit by an unwarranted use of the public streets.

Since the authority of the present interurban company to use the streets it all has long since expired, not only the regard for the public welfare but also the strict letter of the law would seem to demand the abandonment of unsafe tracks and the abolition of dangerous service.

Therefore it may well be assumed that the next big job of the Southwest League is to clear Sullivant and Hague avenues of this menace. The condition of the tracks in West Broad street removes most of the danger from the running of these heavy trains there. It may be pertinent to inquire why West Broad street tracks can be kept up while those on Hague and Sullivant are allowed to deteriorate to a public menace.

But since they have so deteriorated, and since the city streets belong to the people and never were intended to be private rights of way for railroad companies, these freight trains must be discontinued.

Furthermore, if the interurban passenger cars are to be run on Sullivant and Hague, the tracks must be so repaired as to assure safety and the speed of the interurban traffic must be kept down to a safe figure for city streets.

Then the people who live in the district the Southwest League tries to serve, numbering over 20,000, are entitled to a direct outlet to the business part of town. They should not be diverted to the north, any more than the north side should be diverted toward the south. We have a right to a bridge over the river connecting Sullivant directly with Main street, and some day we shall have it. But because it present such a bridge will prove too expensive for the city treasury, we are forced to make the best of a bridge that will connect Main street with Rich street. This is but a makeshift, one which will delay the building of the Sullivant-Main bridge for many years.

Hence the people of this section have a right to an approach to this bridge that at least in part removes the inconvenience of shifting traffic toward the north side. We have a right to such a connection as will couple Main and Sullivant under their own names, and not compel the loss of the identity of Sullivant avenue, either under the euphonious name of "boulevard" or any other. The Southwest League is for the opening of Sullivant avenue to this bridge.

This will not require the condemnation of any property, for the entire line can be on city owned lots. It will require the building of an underpass under the railroads that now block us from the Main street district.

Next, because Sullivant avenue can be made into a real business district, serving a population larger than most of the county seats around Columbus, it should be better lighted and better policed. Illumination is a real requirement. So is such parking regulation as will overcome the frequent blocking of the avenue. Traffic can be handled in an orderly manner, the street made safer for all concerned, and consequently more popular as a trading center, with little expenditure of money. What it needs is the same kind of considerate attention that has been paid to traffic problems in the west section of the city.

problems in other parts of the city.

The west end of Sullivant avenue should also come in for attention. The city should pave it to the limits, and the county should improve it beyond, that the great traffic from the southwest part of the county may use it.

Then there is the matter of fire protection. Parts of the southwest section of this city are more than two miles from any kind of fire protection. The city is planning the erection of a fire house in the western part. Let it be soon.

Enough has been said in this article to show the necessity of some means for the people of the southwest section to express their wishes to the city government and the county authorities. The Southwest League seems to be the most effective way yet found.

Cannot everybody in this section unite to bring about the fulfillment of our needs through this body?

What the Southwest League Is And How It Operates

The Southwest League was organized last May at a meeting held in the hall of St. Mary Magdalene's church at Roys and Park avenues. It came in response to a study of ways and means of presenting our needs authoritatively to the city council.

A committee was appointed to draw up a plan of organization. This committee recommended that membership be open to any resident or anyone doing business in the territory west of Central avenue and south of a line projected from Fremont street.

The membership is divided into two classes—contributing and sustaining. Contributing members are those who by deed or gift, or even by interest in the work of the organization, show their desire for membership. Sustaining members are those who, deriving the benefit of such work as the league does, pay $5 or more for membership. The intention is to have businesses represented by sustaining members.

Government of the Southwest League is by a board of nine directors, elected by the membership. Only the annual meeting is provided for in the bylaws; other meetings may be called by the directors, the president or a certain number of members.

Provision is made for committees to look after different features of the need of the community. The committees must be composed of members of the league, selected by the directors.

Politics are strictly barred. The acceptance of any office of profit under the city or county government automatically forfeits membership in the league.

No officer or any director may be paid for any service. This so far has been an unnecessary section, for the expenses of the league have been met by contributions, almost entirely from the officers and directors themselves.

More than 2,000 residents of the community are now duly enrolled as members of the Southwest League.

The organization affected by the Southwest League in the beginning was to last three months. At the end of that time it was hoped that a larger part of the population would be interested, and it was felt that these new members should have the opportunity of selecting their own officers and directors.

Since, however, a crisis existed in the fight for a better street car service, and more especially a better track for the cars to run upon, it was felt necessary to have the league fully officered. W. R. Barnett was the first president, serving until the election of Miss Mary Beatz.

Mr. Barnett prepared the data to be submitted to council, and with other members of the directorate attended many meetings of the council and its committees, urging action.

Happily a solution of the street car question was found in the offer of the Rail-Light to supplant the cars with bus service. Perhaps other solutions will come about as quickly if the attention of those concerned is kept upon the various matters.

Present officers of the Southwest League are as follows:

President—Miss Mary Beatz.
Vice Presidents—W. R. Barnett and H. S. Butler.
Secretary—Mrs. F. A. Donley.
Treasurer—F. A. Donley.
Directors—Miss Beatz, Mr. Barnett, Mr. Butler, Mr. Donley, J. H. Gantz, Glenn Hamilton, Rev. Raymond Rauschard, James F. Hurd and Charles Dolder.

By JOHN WOLFE

Nestled in the Fairfield County hills adjacent to the broad expanse of the upper Hocking Valley, and not far from Lancaster, lies the placid little hamlet of Sugar Grove. Stretching away to the north are fine, beech-maple slopes, now bathed in the freshness that is springtime's, and sheltering betwixt their crowns, interesting valleys, now abounding with a great variety of vernal flora.

Behind the hill that borders the road leading into the village, and blocked to the view of the casual observer at its open end by huge fragments of sandstone boulders, these many years fallen from the towering cliffs above, lies isolated and infrequently visited, a little valley, now resplendent with springtime beauty.

There, this past week-end, with Dr. Glenn W. Blaydes, R. T. Wareham and Gordon Crowell of the Botany department, Ohio State university, we found a host of things that mark the season as having reached its height.

It was raining—a soft, gentle rain, which despite the shade of the forest, encrusted the flowers with drops of sparkling crystals and brought added verdure to the forest floor, now fast losing its dull brown carpet of last year's leaves. Talk about recovery programs—nothing quite matches that turned in by nature when she once begins activity in late April.

Up the slope, like an avalanche in the making, and poised, ready to tumble down the hill, where vast colonies of Trilliums. A slight breeze, and all would nod gently, as though the whole group, upon the slightest strengthening of the wind, would lose their foothold, and come en masse, helter skelter to the valley bottom.

No wild flower, in the writer's estimation, can match the large-flowered Trillium for beauty. Trillium grandiflora is no misnomer. Three green sepals, and as many leaves; three petals of the purest white, and two sets of three bright yellow stamens; and one three parted pistil, make the plant easily recognized. And for another week, it will abound in moist woodlands.

Soft rain on the up-springing plants . . . monotone of the waterfall up the valley . . . Woodpecker hammering on that dead oak tree . . . bird notes without number . . . Grape vines twining through the trees . . . lustrous black salamanders, spotted with tiny yellowish-white spots, scurrying over the rotting logs . . . Millions upon millions of dandelion blossoms, yellowing acre after acre of meadow.

What a symphony of life. What a fascinating story, from the beginning of things—from the misty twilight of the beginning of things to the present expression. How overwhelming the thought that all that has transpired in the lapse of ages since the first water vapor that surrounded this swirling planet first crystallized into a drop and fell upon the yet warm surface of the earth, is here now—in the living present—accumulated before us in birds and flowers and reptiles and trees and insects un-numbered.

The dazzling magnificence of the picture leaves us dumb-founded. Yonder field of dandelions—not a single one of which is like another, is mute evidence of the ceaseless change that goes on from generation to generation. Cosmic changes in the very stuff of life—modified expressions—hopelessly beyond our control or understanding as yet—still, proceeding with inexorable force in lilies, in orchids, in algae, to other expressions, some of which may prove fatal to the existance of the organism, but which, fundamentally, move on without regard to environment or utility.

Every offspring differs from its parent, macroscopically sometimes, more often, microscopically. Contemplate then, what a tremendous accumulation of fundamental changes must be present in the organic expression today of a dandelion, over its ancestors of some several millions of years ago.

There is order in the picture, whether we would have it so or not. The stars come nightly to the sky, and each is there because it fits compactly into a magnificent system. Imagine what would happen if a single sun or star or planet managed to swerve from its course. It soon would be no more. It is there because it is in an orderly system.

By like reasoning, then, organic evolution must proceede in the same way. There is system there, whether we can see into it or not, as yet. And so, we cannot tramp the fields and woods and not be cognizant of something vast and powerful and beautiful there. There is an attraction, it seems, that is native to our blood.

On the slopes is the wild ginger, its purple flower almost hidden at the base of the stem, on the ground, among the dead leaves. Jack-in-the-pulpit is in bloom, and the flower of Dogwood decks the upper hills. Bishop's Cap is pushing up, and in the pine woods, the beautiful Lady's Slipper is in bud, its beauty to delight the eye through the month of May.

On the sandy creek bottoms, Yellow and White Dog-toothed lily are out, and still on the moist slopes, Rue Anemone nods its many petalled head. Fragrant Trailing Arbutus, in its final stages, occasionally is found along the rocky ledges.

White, yellow and purple violets mingle in profusion, and the delicate maiden hair ferns are first showing on the hillsides. And what will be the crowning glory of the valley late in May, Rhododendron — stands in great abundance on the south-facing slopes.

A glorious picture, this, of moving, pulsating throbbing life in full tide. So intimately related to it all, yet we stand back in ignorance of its ways and means. Surely it is worthy of our study.

STILL AMBLING

Llewelyn Truman (I had it John the last time) is still ambling daily through the Ille-um grounds, for exercise. He's numbered among our favorite people. . . . Add 7-up players: John Klinger, sr. . . . Incidentally, C. Shetrone insists that the only justification for capital punishment puts in its appearance when the score is tied, everybuddy needs one point to win, and the dealer turns a Jack—in that game. . . . I never know, when P. O'Brien (the Irish one) smiles, wither it's atcha or withya. . . . So Jim Hamilton reads this pillar. Congrats. . . . Mrs. Krejci, Maryc's mother, told him my paw was a bank inspector. Can you beat that? He hasn't been in a bank since 1929, and then it was to change a dime. . . . Ty Thompson: Repeat slowly three times. (Howzat, Ty, for saving space and still giving you top mention?) . . . Warning: Buck's Place Note: Watch straws carefully. Speed Kent is using four siphons on buttermilk now. . . . Flash! Girls Note: The Allen's have a new radio in their car, and Curty insists that with him behind the wheel and the blaster on full force, it's a combination which cannot never be beaten. (That whizzing noise you hear is Curty skyrocketing to earth!)

PARAGRAPH

Here's a novel, complete in this issue. Jerry DeRolph's full title reads: Gerald Cleophus Sylvester Ferdinand DeRolph. That, my friends, is not only a name, but a piece of literature. (Wonder if L. Sisk would pronounce that last word ilt-er-a-toor?)

CATCHING UP

Bringing things up to date: Thanx, you Owls, for that banquet invite, which I was unable to take advantage of. . . . Who was it reported that they liked J. Booth's southern drawl? Mah, Oh, Mah. . . . It was in the social rags, but we'll make it public here: J. Ricker and Ruth Hall will wed in late July. . . . They won't deny or verify it, but rumor hath Bill (boyd) and Margie (marshall) amalgamating in February '36. . . . The reason you can't find your seats at the W. Hi auditorium is because the school's choice hoodlums have stolen the numbers.

CLASS PLAY

Notes from the class play: Otto Magly in the lobby, greeting old friends and grads. . . . Ed. and Rose Ferguson there, waiting for Cap Hoover, which didn't come, as fer as I could see. . . . Judge Randall and family. . . . And also June Stone and friend. . . . And Mary Baker. . . . But didn't see Doctorfuinger. . . . Wyatt Milliken on hand.

'Twas a weak play, I thought, but well played. I never did figger out the story, but liked the playing of Anne Whetstone, Martha Brown, Bill Ferguson, Dave Randall and Haig Addison best.

OO! OO! GAMBLERS

Red Tallman won 7 bucks on Omaha in the Kentucky Derby last Sat. . . . And of all things, Margie Marshall picked up some change on the same hoss. . . . But alas, Bill Boyd lost by wagering on Roman Soldier. . . . But here's the real whiffle-puffle: Robert (Roody) Baesman laid his dough on McCarthy. He might just have well as bet on Jasper Dean's nag. . . . Observation: Nina Shank has such a gliding stride when walking. . . . Glen Markins, who has turned down three jobs in the past month, is with Wendt-Bristol now. . . . R. Wolfe, a mechanical engineer from OSU last March, is with Moores & Ross. Y'd think they'd need cowhands, more or less. It's a marvel what science is doing these days. . . . Had an item on Harry Haney, but it slipped. Shucks. Rain on the roof. Like a ship that passes in the night. Funny too. Lemme see. Edith Wilson. Rain on the roof. Mrs. Leo Schneeberger will take up golf Sunday. . . . Oh, yes. That cat Haney lugged down the street that night, is back at his store

Special Service

"A Mother's Reverie," written by Rev. Frank Randall of Denison, O., will be presented at the evening services at Glenwood M. E. Sunday. The male chorus will furnish the music. Services throughout the day will observe the theme of "Mother."

Unemployed Man Shoots Self After Killing Son's Wife

Despondent Hilltopper Slays Daughter-in-law Wednesday Evening in Basement.

Despondent over his unemployment, and worried because his son and wife planned to move from his home, Edward J. Eagan, aged 48, of 341 Guernsey Ave., shot and killed his daughter-in-law, Beulah Rogers Eagan, and then turned the .38 calibre revolver on himself, shortly after 6 o'clock Wednesday evening in the basement of his home.

Eagan went to the basement following the evening meal on the pretense of having some painting to do. His daughter-in-law followed shortly after, to do some washing. The murder-suicide occurred a few moments later.

Say Murder Planned

Eagan carried the gun in his coat pocket, which led authorities to believe he had planned the killing. He customarily had dinner in his shirt sleeves. Beulah had previously told friends that she thought her father-in-law would kill her. Friends of the dead man said he had acted queerly for several months past.

Cowboys To Play East Nine Today

Bad Weather Halts League Play; Golfers to Meet League-Leading North Team Sat.

Bad weather has again hampered sport activities at West High, baseball games and track meets being called off, with the golf quartet being the only team to see action.

Rainy weather has caused the postponement of two league baseball games and one out-of-town game. The Aquinas-West game scheduled to be played on the Terrier lot was postponed and the North-West, Mechanicsburg-West tilts were likewise postponed.

Weather permitting, West will meet East on the Tiger field this afternoon at 3:30. The "Webster Men," thus far, have fared quite well and will be out for another victory. The West contingent, having lost both league games, have shown hitting power and will be the likely upsetters of some of the higher-stepping nines.

The West link artists will meet the league-leading North quartet tomorrow morning at the Wyandot course.

Bill Curtiss, Clarence Berry, Ralph Harper and Ralph Deems have been nominated for the 1935 tennis team.

Consolation rounds are now in progress for the selecting of a fifth man. The district meet is to be held May 17-18, with the state meet being played May 24-25 at Ohio State university.

The West Junior nine has been put through a stiff workout during the past week in preparation for the opening game next Monday with McKinley on the home lot. Starling will be played the next day on the West diamond and Franklin the following Thursday at East.

11th Ward G. O. P. Club Increases Membership

More than 100 new paid-up members have been added to the rolls of the Eleventh Ward Republican club, Moses M. Williams, president, and committeeman of the ward, announced at the spring pre-primary rally last Thursday evening.

Approximately 350 attended the meeting, at which Att'y. General John W. Bricker was the principal speaker.

Richard Jones Winner Of Oratorical Contest

Richard Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Haydn Jones, 3014 Olive St., was the winner in a silver medal oratorical contest held in Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church, Sunday evening, May 5.

His declamation was entitled, "He Thought It Was Safe." He is now eligible to compete in the gold medal contest.

Merchant Loop

Rain also prevented play in the Hilltop Merchant League this week. Games scheduled for next Wednesday include: Derby Club vs. Seiller Dry Goods, No. 1; Walter's Ice vs. Hamilton Gas, No. 2; and Chittum Garage vs. Claggett Confectionery, No. 3

Hilltoppers Seek Extension Of West Broad Car Line

Organization Meeting of Residents in Northwest Section of Community to Be Held At School of Music Tuesday Eve.

Encouraged by the success of the Southwest League in its fight for better transportation service, but dissatisfied more than ever with the resulting service west of Hague avenue, residents of the northwest section of the community began a fight this week for better transportation facilities in their district.

Organization will be affected next Tuesday evening, May 14, when all interested parties will meet at the studios of the Hilltop School of Music, Chase avenue and West Broad street.

Declare Service Worse

Leaders of the movement, including Leslie B. Keyser, Gerald G. Gifford, Edith L. Robbins, William Schneider and F. K. Dickerson, point out that residents near Broad street, west of Hague, find the available street car service much worse than before. It is impossible to ride the Sullivant line to certain points east of High street without paying extra fare, and when used, a double transfer is necessitated, with inconvenient delays between connections.

Even if the Broad street line is used, a double transfer is still necessary to reach a destination east of High street.

To Circulate Petitions

The new organization will seek an extension of the Broad street car line, according to the leaders, and petitions will be circulated immediately among residents of the section. As soon as these are completed, the association will go before council in an attempt to bring about a remedy to a situation of more than five years' standing.

With the franchise of the Cincinnati and Lake Erie Traction Co. now expired, it is pointed out that the last stumbling block is removed and action should be immediate.

With Broad street improvement from Wheatland, west to Hague, soon to be started, the association will ask further improvement, namely, that the curb line from Hague avenue west to Percy avenue be set back five feet on each side to remove the bottle-neck now there and to make Broad street the same width throughout its entire length.

To Meet at 8 o'Clock

Sidewalks west of Hague are now 15 feet wide, compared to the 10-foot walks east of Hague. Available footage, therefore, is available for the street-widening project.

Tuesday's meeting, at which all residents are urged to be present, will get under way at 8 o'clock.

Rain Halts Play In Church Circuit

Washed-out Games Re-scheduled for Next Monday Evening; Sullivant Ave. Gets Bye.

Rainy weather again played havoc with recreation ball in the Hilltop Church League Monday evening, and as a result, all games were called off.

The schedule for next Monday night, weather permitting, will find Hoge Memorial opening their season against Westgate Evangelical on diamond No. 2; Hillcrest and St. John will tangle on No. 1; Hilltop C. of C. will meet Glenwood M. E. on No. 3; and Burgess U. B. will play Glenwood Tri Mu on No. 4. Sullivant Friends get the week's bye.

Games scheduled for the following Monday, May 20, are as follows: Hoge Memorial vs. St. John, No. 1; Burgess U. B. vs. Hilltop C. of C., No. 2; Glenwood Tri Mu vs. Glenwood M. E., No. 3, and Sullivant Friends vs. Westgate Evangelical on No. 4.

Hillcrest Baptist will draw the weekly bye.

Southwest League Plans for Future

Huge Celebration Inaugurates New Bus Service On Saturday Night.

Having attained a real victory in the obtaining the removal of the old street cars from Sullivant avenue, officials of the Southwest League, fresh from a jubilee celebration Saturday evening, were enthusiastic in their outlook for the future.

Residents of the community are now looking forward to having the Cincinnati and Lake Erie tracks removed and the repaving of the thoroughfare. Work will be undertaken immediately toward that end, it was stated by league officials.

Stage Huge Parade

Saturday night, despite the dreary weather, a huge celebration was held all along the line, from Central avenue to Binns boulevard. A mammoth parade featured the jubilee. Led by an old Maxwell auto furnished by the Miller Service Station at Clarendon and Sullivant, and followed in turn by a high wheeled bicycle, an old talleyho, 15 of the new buses and 75 floats of Hilltop merchants and a like number from the down town sector.

The talleyho conveyed three distinguished residents of the community, all of whom have made their homes here for 50 years or more. The group included: Mrs. Agnes Bentz, Isaac Donley and Harry Butler, oldest residents in the Sullivant avenue district.

Leaders Praised

Members of the league as well as residents of the southwest section of the community were loud in their praise of Dr. M. W. Bates, 2130 Sullivant Ave., and Hugh Butler, 501 S. Roys Ave., who assumed most of the responsibility in making successful the first jubilee and parade ever to be route.

sponsored along the Sullivant avenue

Leaders of the Southwest League were also hearing the plaudits of residents this week for carrying on the successful fight to do away with the rollicking, rattle-trap street cars. Officers of the organization are: Miss Mary Bentz, president; W. R. Baguett, first vice president; Hugh E. Butler, second vice president; Mrs. Myrtle Donley, secretary, and Fred Donley, treasurer.

Nine Directors

The league has the following directors: Rev. Father Raymond Bauschard, Dr. J. H. Czatt, George Painter, James Hurd, Glen Hamilton and L. G. Dolder.

The new buses began operation early Sunday morning and were expected to aid residents living west of Hague avenue and north of Sullivant avenue. The new service provides comfortable travel from the downtown sector west on Sullivant to Binns boulevard. Residents in the northwest section may utilize the services of a gasoline bus from Sullivant to Hague and Broad, west to the city limits.

To Honor Mothers

Mother's Day will be observed in the Sunday school of the Hilltop Church of Christ at the opening period.

It has been the custom for some time, of the Minute Men's class to present a gift of flowers to the oldest mother present. This custom will be observed again Sunday.

The youngest mother present will be given recognition by the children of the primary department, and the mother present with the largest family will receive a token also. The primary children will sing for the Sunday school. A mother will sing a solo and a special number will be given by the Sunday school orchestra, under the direction of F. N. Cale.

LOCAL MAN KILLS SON'S WIFE, SELF

The slain wife and her husband, son of the elder Eagan, two daughters, Eagan and his wife, and Rupe Kimbrough, father of Mrs. Eagan, all lived in the same home, supported for the most part, by the young married couple. They had planned to move into their own home, which plans, it was said, prompted the slaying.

Eagan Despondent

Despondent over unemployment, and further worried by the illness of his son and wife to move from the home, the family said that the elder Eagan's mind had also been affected since last January when he was overcome by carbon monoxide in the garage of his home. He was rescued at that time by Kimbrough.

Eagan was on the Columbus relief rolls, working three days per week. His son is a manager of a department in a downtown grocery. Mrs. Beulah Eagan was a stenographer for Carlton & Armstrong, attorneys at 66 W. Broad St.

The slain wife graduated from West High school in 1932. She also attended Office Training school. Her father resides on a farm west of Columbus. Her mother is dead.

Former Contractor

Eagan was a former contractor, and prior to that, a lumber mill foreman. Funeral arrangements had not been completed Thursday morning.

Cleaners Robbed

The Westmoor Cleaners, 18 N. Westmoor Ave., was broken into early Tuesday morning and articles to the value of $200 were taken. The bandits forced open the front door about 11 o'clock in the evening and after being frightened away by neighbors returned at 3 a. m. to take the loot. All of the theft was covered by insurance.

BIDDY BITS

Ray Dooley is a teller in a Hollywood (Calif.) bank. . . . The most welcome meal I ever surrounded was one Mrs. Jim (James, Doctorflinger) Matheny fixed while she was still Olive Munro, in Wellsburg, W. Va. . . . The reason Harold Moss read Anthony Adverse was because he read of so many of the natives were doing it, in this pillar. . . . Incidentally, Ed. Ferguson has prepared his report on the volume: Tis: "Good." . . . As mentioned here a long time back, Gerald Hoffman's name will fill the 1935 space in the Agonis Athletic plaque at West High. . . . They're saying that Bill Weigel's band is the best to ever play a local hop. It will be engaged, tis said, for the West Jubilee struggle June 7.

WHOOPS! A BOTANIST

I found my first four-leafed clover last Friday afternoon. . . . I heard him talk the other day about Roosevelt's 5 billion dollars for relief. I liked the way he said what he said, because so many talk in the hopes of seeing their chatter here (incidentally it never crashes). "Gee!" he gee'd. "If I had that, couldn't I make a lot of people happy. That old man across the street, thumbing a ride—my 80-yr.-old dad — and so many others, too old to work, wouldn't have to any more. Wouldn't one get a thrill out of helping people like that?" That, folks, is a quotable quote because it wasn't said for publication. His name is C. L. Freshman. . . . Marye (I hate to add that e, it's so uppity looking in a commonplace corner like this) Krejci will arrive home from Shiloh today. She's a high school teacher thar. . . . Carl Kessler, up at the Giant store, will be traipsing down Nashoba way now, with regularity again. . . . Doc Lose is ambling daily now, at such weird hours as five in the morning. But it's worth an item, because I can call him Doc without losing my metaphorical shirt. . . . Whatever became of Elizabeth Ludwig?

LOSING AND GAINING

Kate Trout, I seems, is getting thinner. . . . Lib Raether has gained five pounds since a year back. . . . Mrs. J. Hill didn't get home til last Wednesday. She lingered in Norfolk another week after our announcement here. . . . Wonder what became of Malcolm Selpio? . . . And Bunky Munn, of whom they say that only his race kept him from the Big Leagues. . . . After crashing the gate at the spring football game a fortnight back, at OSU, Evan Morgan, with some other rowdies (!) were in a hurry to get home, so they climb over the gates again. And alas, Evan's o'coat caught, and t'was ripped from stem to stern. In the wordage of Harold Moss, who also quotes some sage about it being quicker to get home the long way around, — or some such thing. . . . The seven-nippers are snorting and whooping and deriding C. Shetrone. The dealer doesn't get the point when he turns a Jack, if it puts him out—in seven up . . . Wonder if Ed. Johnson still gets mail from that party in Arizona?

MAN THE LIFE BOATS!

That certain farmer near our native community, who purchases canned milk and oleo at a local grocery! Goodness gracious, Secy. Wallace, what to do? . . . Add wearers of smoked glasses: Ruth Pearch and Henry Wehrle (the latter is a fancy spelling for common, ordinary Worley). . . . The honeymoon is over, my friends, when folks quit celebrating the wedding anniversary every month —like Olive and Jim Matheny. . . . Add perusers of this pilfah: A. G. Wirwille. . . . Blinding Flash: Mrs. Hurley washes Carla's hair, cause his job doesn't suit her (Hold still, little man, or I'll put you to bed—Waw, Waw, ver gittin soap in my eyes) . . . There is no truth to the rumor that Louie Sisk will prosecute all of the communists (Herald) who pronounce 'Lee Miserable' 'Less Mizzerchuts!

Our straw vote on the alumni election runs this way on first returns: Adolph Hitler 2, Upton Sinclair 5, Jack Shunk 1 (probably his own), your correspondent 97, Huey Long 3, Bill Whalen 1, Elmore Price 0, Don Craig 0.

Hilltonia U. B. Gets Tenth Franchise In Church League

Recreation Department Requests That Six Postponed Games Be Played As Soon As Possible.

With Hilltonia U. B. being granted the tenth franchise in the Hilltop Church League, schedules went haywire last week, and as a result, there are six postponed games to be made up by the competing nines.

The fourth round of games will be played next Monday evening on the Westgate and State Hospital diamonds. The schedule follows: Glenwood M. E. vs. Sullivant Friends, Westgate No. 1; St. John vs. Hilltonia U. B., Westgate No. 2; Hilltop Church of Christ vs. Hillcrest Baptist, Westgate No 3; Burgess U. B. vs. Hoge Memorial, Westgate No. 4; and Glenwood Tri Mus vs. Westgate Evangelical, State Hospital No. 2.

The second set of games, delayed because of rain, can be made up at any time and managers are requested to make arrangements as soon as possible, or double-headers will be scheduled during the second round. The games to be made up, including the Hilltonia-Hoge Memorial game of the first round, are; Hoge Memorial vs. Westgate; Hillcrest vs. St. John; Church of Christ vs. Glenwood M. E. Burgess U. B. vs. Glenwood Tri Mu; and Sullivant Friends vs. Hilltonia U. B.

Merchantmen In Good Games Wed.

Close Race Expected in Six Team Circuit; Postponed Games Must Be Made Up Soon.

With rain playing havoc with a smooth running schedule, six teams in the Hilltop Merchant recreation ball league looked forward to fair weather this week and a resumption of play.

With one set of games already postponed, recreation department officials are asking managers to make arrangements for making up the games as soon as possible. Games which have been postponed include all of the second round engagements.

Games for next Wednesday evening, May 22, on the Westgate diamonds, are: Walter's Ices vs. Claggett's Confectionery; Seiller's Dry Goods vs. Tittum Garage; Derby Club vs. Hamilton Gas.

Led by Reynolds with his five hits, Seiller's Dry Goods hammered out a 7 to 2 win over Derby Club Wednesday evening. Kent pitched well for the winners, while Fulton got two of his team's five hits for the losers. In an upset, Hamilton Gas went down to defeat before Walter's Ice, 8 to 4. The win placed the Icemen at the top of the circuit. Claggett's Confectionery broke into the win column and sent Tittum's Garage into the cellar with a 10 to 8 victory in a slugfest.

Three Holdups Staged Monday On the Hilltop

A few of the bandits in Columbus concentrated their efforts on the Hilltop Monday when three places were held up. Two robbers held up Nathan Coleman in his confectionery at 2821 Sullivant Ave., and escaped with $9. In the evening two armed men held up I. G. Dawson in his grocery at 220 Lechner Ave., and obtained $125. Also two men robbed Glen Howell, jr., of 15 at the Hilltop Pharmacy, 2285 Sullivant Ave. It was not learned by the police whether or not the same men were connected with all three of the jobs.

Assembly Delegate

T. C. Weir, 291 S. Richardson Ave., member of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian, has been selected to be a commissioner to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A., which is to be held in Cincinnati, May 9 to 20. He is one of ten selected from Columbus Presbytery.

Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Hutchison will also attend the assembly as visitors.

Business Men to Meet

The Hilltop Business Men's association will hold its postponed May meeting Tuesday evening, May 21, at the Maramor Restaurant. The regular business session will follow the dinner meeting which will get under way at 6:30 o'clock.

Opens Law Office

James E. Hale, attorney, has opened offices for the practice of law at 2457 W. Broad St., in the building occupied by Shunk & Saunders, real estate and insurance. Office hours are held each evening from 7 to 9 p. m. Appointments can be made by calling the office of Shunk and Saunders.

Mr. Hale has been in the practice of law in Columbus since 1930. He was graduated by Marietta college and attended Ohio State and George Washington universities.

Four Night Games On Cowboys' 1935 Gridiron Schedule

Four of the nine scheduled games on the 1935 gridiron schedule are nocturnal affairs, according to the announcement released this week by athletic director Harold E. Wise. The Hilltoppers will play four home games, the first against Cosehocton on Oct. 4. The season will be opened at Zanesville, Sept. 13, in a night game.

The following week, on Sept. 20, the Wisbers will meet Dayton Steele in the second game of a home and home agreement, on the Dayton gridiron. This will also be a night game.

On Sept. 27, under the incandescents, the Cowpunchers will open their league season, with North furnished the opposition. Following the home opener the following week, South will be entertained on the home lot. There follows, on Oct. 18, a trip to Middletown for the final night game.

Central and Aquinas will be met on successive week ends, Oct. 25 and Nov. 1, before the open date of Nov. 8. It is entirely possible that the Cowboys will play on that date, but it will be on a foreign field. The game has not been scheduled.

The season will close Nov. 15, at East, with the Tigers furnishing the opposition.

Rivoli To Present Benefit Photo-play

"Bachelor of Arts," a college play, will be the attraction at the Rivoli Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, May 22 and 23, when the West Broad Parent-Teacher Association will take over the theatre. The picture will start at 4 o'clock and run continuously until 11 o'clock.

There will also be a cartoon, "Bosco" and two comedies suitable for children, according to the announcement.

Water, Water, Everywhere, But Not a Drop to Drink, Wash With 'r Nothin'

"Water, water, everywhere, but not a drop to drink!" Such was the plight of Hilltoppers Tuesday morning, but it wasn't because the good ship Hilltop had been beset with calms.

'Twas that huge steam shovel, digging the ditch for the sewer lines on Wayne avenue, which caused the trouble. Digging merrily away, as it has been doing for the past three weeks, it accidentally struck a water main, and soon there was "water, water everywhere."

The deep ditch, half a block long, and more than 20 feet deep, was soon filled, and before engineers could have the water turned off, the street was flooded as far south on Wayne as Palmetto.

The accident occurred at 8:30 o'clock, and with two suction pumps set immediately to work, after the water had been turned off, the ditch was cleared by 1 o'clock.

Meanwhile, local residents obtaining their water from the pipe line, had no water to drink, or wash with or nuthin'. It was just a case of too much water—unavailable.

Laborers were able to continue the work on Wednesday morning.

Swimming Pool to Open Sat., May 25

Painting and Repairs to Be Completed in Few Days; Michaelis and Grubbs Named Guards.

The Bender Park Swimming Pool in North Hague avenue will be opened officially next Saturday, May 25, according to announcement made this week by Charles Cruea, owner and manager.

Painting and general repairing to get ready for the season has been going on for some time and will be completed early next week.

The filters which were installed last year have also been carefully checked and overhauled. The filters are capable of furnishing 500 gallons of fresh water a minute and the 700,000 gallon pool can be emptied and filled in 28 hours. All the water for the pool is obtained from a well, thereby insuring cold clear water at all times.

Lawrence Michaelis and Eugene Grubbs have been named life guards for the season. This is Michaelis' fifth consecutive year as guard at this pool. Life saving and beginners' classes are to be arranged during the summer.

The pool will be open for free public inspection on Sunday, May 26. Manager Cruea invites everybody to come and bring their suits and enjoy a free swim.

West Hi Alumni to Get Free Tennis Next Week

Through the courtesy of Russell Drake, West High '27, manager of the Indianola tennis courts, members of the West High Alumni association who present their membership cards, will be accorded free tennis privileges at the Indianola layouts from Monday through Friday of next week, up until 5 o'clock each day.

The courts are located just east of the dance hall at Indianola Park. Monday of next week, the 120-pound manager will meet the huge 240-pound Mickey McClhall in a set to decide once and for all the argument of quality vs. quantity.

No Evening Service

There will be no evening service at the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church Sunday, the Hoge choir being among the 700 voices which will compose the chorus which will celebrate the 250th anniversary of Bach at Memorial Hall Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The program is open to the public.

Music Honors Won By West Students

Members of West Band Win 1st, 2nd and 3rd Places In Music Contest.

Five members of West High school's band were awarded honors at the annual state solo and ensemble music contest held at Oberlin college Saturday. Harry Schmidt, 2065 Sullivant Ave., received the highest honors of the group by receiving a grade of "superior" in the clarinet competition thereby being given first place in the state ranking. He was accompanied by Isabelle Neff, 346 N. Hague Ave.

Harry Schmidt

Robert Hicks, 181 Algonquin Ave., was awarded second place in the trumpet competition; Ernest Hicks of the same address was awarded third place in the French horn and Robert Hicks and Ralph Cullen, 126 S. Richardson Ave., placed second in the trumpet duet. All were accompanied by Dorothy Clark, 89 Algonquin Ave.

They are all active in music activities at the school under the direction of H. E. Hutchinson.

Three Plays To Be Given At Glenwood

Friday evening, May 24, three one-act plays will be presented by the Glenwood Players in the social rooms of the church.

The first to be given is "The Trysting Place," a comedy by Booth Tarkington under the direction of Miss Annabelle Breese. The cast includes: Betty Currier, Jane Phillips, Ruth McKinley, Ed Miller, Bill Tout, John Nippert, and Howard Wilson.

Miss Judith Ann Garrison will direct "Kidnapping Betty," by Eugene Hafer, and those taking part are: Marjorie Growdon, Marie Nippert, Eleanor Swigert, Faye McKinley, Willard Holycross, Dave Randall and Arthur Walker.

The last to be presented is "The Drums of Oude," a melodrama by Austin Strong. John Wagnitz will direct and the following have parts: Olive Grimm, James Cole, Wayne Woodyard, Emerson Harlow, James Dunavent, Earl Webber, Ernest Hicks and James Cheney.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. J. E. Woodland Re-elected President

Mrs. J. E. Woodland, 1067 Fairmont Ave., was re-elected president of the Aquinas Mothers' club at the regular meeting of the group Monday evening, May 13.

Mrs. Harry Esterbrook, 325 S. Richardson Ave., was elected treasurer at the same meeting.

Choir At Hillcrest

The West High school choir, a mixed group of 45 singers, will appear in the regular choir vestments on the program at Hillcrest Sunday evening. Herbert E. Hutchinson of the West High music department will direct. The pastor will preach at this service on the topic, "That Suppressed Desire."

Society to Meet

The Columbus Horticulture Society will meet Saturday, May 18, at Slemmon's Gardens on the Olentangy River road. Mr. Slemmons will be the speaker.

Rev. Wago to Speak

Rev. Oscar Wago will give a missionary address at the Warren Avenue Nazarene church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. He'll speak regarding the Jews.

Four Score and Ten

Born May 12, 1846, in southern Ohio, Mrs. Mary Jones, of 58 Clarendon Ave., observed her ninetieth birthday last Sunday by enjoying a homecoming in her honor at her home.

Mrs. Jones was married to Dennis Jones shortly after his return from participation in the Civil War. She has spent the greater part of her life on a farm in Gallia county, and is the mother of seven children, five of whom are living.

Grandmother to 14, she is also a great-grandmother to seven.

All of her children spent Sunday with Mrs. Jones. They are: Mrs. W. S. Jones, 38 N. Hague Ave.; David Jones, Hilliards, O.; Mrs. Charles B. Cranston, 637 S. Terrace St.; John Jones, of Dayton, O.; and Mrs. A. R. Stanforth, with whom she lives at the present time.

She is in good health, and if the wishes of her friends and children come true, will enjoy many happy returns of the day.

Hilltop Piscators Ready for Action

Hilltop Business Men's Expedition to Lake Erie Slated for Sunday.

With the 40 reservations for the Hilltop Business Men's Fishing Expedition to Lake Erie Sunday, May 19, already gobbled up by members, all is in readiness for the first annual conclave of Hilltop Piscators.

Sunday morning, at 3 o'clock, the group will leave Hague and Broad, arriving at Upper Sandusky for breakfast at 6 a. m., and an hour later, they will be a-fishing among the islands of Lake Erie, off the shore near Lakeside.

The piscators will fish until 6 o'clock Sunday evening, at which time they will return over the same route, to Columbus.

Tickets, which sold for $2.00, were taken immediately, and are now at a premium. Curtis G. Wilcox, manager of the Hilltop Bank, is chairman of the affair.

Prizes will be awarded for the largest fish caught, the smallest, and the greatest number.

West Hits Stride; Wins From South, 8-2

Behind the excellent hurling of Bill Burr, West baseballers won their second engagement in a row from South Wednesday afternoon on the Bulldog lot, 8 to 2. It was ample revenge for the defeat sustained at the hands of the Bulldogs in the city league opener on the home diamond.

Kimbrall and Ankram led the Cowboy attack with two hits each. Burr held the South sluggers to six well scattered blows, while his mates were fielding well behind him.

To Have Discussion

At the Young People's service at the Church of Christ Sunday evening, the matter of understanding race problems will be discussed. Two representatives from the Monroe Avenue Church of Christ will be present to lead the discussion.

Auto Hits Skater

Gildo Albertini, aged 13, of 2530 Sullivant Ave., suffered head injuries when he was struck by an auto while skating on Sullivant avenue near Burgess, last Thursday night, May 9. He was treated at Grant hospital.

Building Begins

Five new houses are being constructed in the additions west of Hague avenue, more than have gone up in the community during the past five years. According to real estate agents, houses for rent on the Hilltop are at a premium. Shunk & Saunders last week had no houses to rent for the first time in five years, they reported.

Keyser Named Temporary Head Of New Ass'n.

Residents West of Hague Plan Permanent Organization; Compliments Southwest League.

Residents of the Hilltop living west of Hague avenue met Tuesday night in the studios of the Hilltop School of Music, Chase avenue and Broad street, to determine a course of action looking toward improvement of street car service in that section, at the same time setting up a temporary organization prior to the completion of a permanent set-up.

Leslie B. Keyser, attorney, 88 Powhattan Ave., acting as temporary chairman, led the discussion of the problems arising and the remedies suggested to secure a continuation of the West Broad car line from Hague avenue west to Demorest avenue. Declaring the present service even worse than that existing prior to the installation of buses on Sullivant avenue, with the consequent removal of street cars west of Hague, the residents attending the meeting last night voted for the appointment of a committee empowered to set up a permanent organization, to formulate and circulate petitions to all residents of the section, and to then call another meeting to effect organization and open a campaign of action.

Members of the committee include: Atty. Don F. Smith, 38 N. Huron Ave.; Atty. William Schneider, 155 S. Roys Ave.; W. J. Murnane, 3023 W. Broad St.; F. H. Dike, 24 N. Roys Ave.; F. G. Kent, 237 S. Roys Ave.; Jess W. Worrel, 41 N. Haldy Ave., secretary; and Atty. L. B. Keyser.

A resolution was ordered drawn by the secretary, and a copy sent to the Southwest League, complimenting it upon its successful fight for improved transportation, and offering the support of the new organization on further projects of mutual benefit.

The Hilltop Business Men's association was represented at the meeting by George W. Matson, Ray G. Hauntz, W. H. Coulthard and Roy D. Hastings.

Chet Henery Retires To Hilliards (Ohio) Estate

After almost 20 years of service to local residents at his garage on South Wayne avenue, Chet Henery retired from business this week, after several attacks of lead poisoning, which, doctors say, would prove fatal if he should continue to work as a mechanic.

Howard Minnameyer, well-known local mechanic, has leased the garage and will operate it, beginning this week. Minnameyer formerly was employed at the Burkett Garage and for the past three years has owned a garage at 133 S. Terrace St.

Henery, with his family, will retire to his Hilliards estate, where his time will be occupied raising fruit, chickens and pigs.

District Play Gets Under Way For Cowboys

Baseball Team Turns In Only Victory In Past Week; Golfers, Netmen, Trackstars Trail.

Athletic activities at West during the past week found the Cowboys, more often than not, on the short end of the score. The baseball team defeated East, 6-1; but the golfers lost to the league-leading North team, 6½ to 5½; the tennis team lost a match to the North team while trackmen took last place in the city meet.

The West baseball nine was scheduled to meet Central at East yesterday in the first game of the District Baseball tournament with the winner to be pitted against the winner of the East-Bexley fray.

In the regular high school league West was to have played South on the Bulldog diamond last Wednesday with Central furnishing the opposition on the Central diamond next Tuesday.

West recorded its first league win at the expense of East by a 6-1 score. Playing behind the stellar five-hit pitching of Curt Graves, the Wiesmen got off to a flying start and scored three runs in the first inning, adding single tallies throughout the game.

Track Team Last

The city track meet was partially run off at the Central high field last Thursday, rain causing the remainder to be run off the earlier part of this week.

Central, as expected, took top honors for the ninth time, followed by East, South, North and West, in the order named. West's points were secured by a second in the mile run; a fourth in the 880-yd. relay and a fourth in a field event.

The District track meet preliminaries were to be held today with the finals being run off tomorrow at Ohio Wesleyan university.

Golfers In Close Loss

West High's golfers lost a close match to the league leading North quartet, 6½ to 5½, faulty putting on the last green being partly responsible for the loss. Kinder obtained three points, Matthews two and Bowman ½. In the coaches' league, Bateman of West defeated Lawrence of North.

League matches will not be held this Saturday as the District Golf tournament commences at the Indian Springs layout.

Tennis Team Loses

The tennis team lost by a 4-3 count to North in a match played on the North End court.

Curtiss and Williams both won their single matches with Curtiss teaming with Deems to take one of the double matches.

The District Tennis meet will also be contested today and tomorrow.

Hilltonia U.B. Gets Tenth Franchise

Hilltonia U. B. observed its advent into the league by taking a 11 to 1 walloping from the bats of Hillcrest. Hoge Memorial strutted out three pitchers, but seven hits and nine walks netted St. John Lutheran but three runs while the champs were bunching hits with Lutheran miscues to pound out 11.

In a long and bitterly fought struggle of 13 innings, Burgess U. B. managed to remain with Tri Mu and Hillcrest at the top of the heap by beating C. of C., 7 to 6. It was a well played ball game throughout.

Tri Mu kept its slate clean by beating the Glenwood Juniors, 7 to 3. Halley's slants were a trifle to much for the losers.

Strangely enough, the final game between Sullivant Friends and Westgate Evangelical was washed out by rain. While the four other games were being played at Westgate, rain in torrents deluged the State Hospital diamonds, making the seventh game on the list which must be made up.

Red Cross Roll Call

Annual Campaign for Membership Will Be Held Week of May 20 to 28.

Years ago into the carnage of the Crimean War went an English nurse and a small contingent of helpers on a mission of mercy.

The emergency nursing service thus founded by Florence Nightengale has grown into a far-flung organization over which floats the banner of the Red Cross in every nook and corner of the world.

Next week in Columbus the Red Cross renews its annual call to membership with the indorsement of the Community Fund and the active participation of notables in Columbus civic, business and professional life.

Directing the drive as general chairman is Everett Antrim, vice president of the Broden Ice Cream Company, with the following group aides:

E. M. Stephens, vice president of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company, industrial; City Service Director Winfield S. Pealer, downtown area; Dr. James H. Warren, medical; Mrs. J. W. Wilce, 2030 Tremont Rd., women's division; Mrs. W. D. Williams, Worthington county; and Mrs. N. B. Allen, 200 Lexington Ave., colored women's group.

The Nature Trail

By JOHN WOLFE

The day was overcast and for May, downright chilly. To top it all, it was raining. Still, the weather was ideal for lichen collecting, so we set out for the magnificent hill country of Highland county, from which but three lichens have been collected and determined through all the years of extensive botanical collecting done in the region.

Through Franklin, Pickaway, Madison and Fayette counties, collecting en route, we arrived before noon, at Greenfield. There we met C. C. Hartley, publisher and editor of the Greenfield Daily Times, and after a fine chicken dinner prepared by Mrs. Hartley crowned gloriously with strawberry shortcake, we set out for renowned Fort Hill.

Defensive Fort

It would have been a bit better, perhaps, to have left a portion of the chicken in Greenfield, or at least, the cake, for the climb to the top of this old fortress of the Mound Builders is long and hard. Although it is the second largest fort of its kind in the state.

At the summit, these pre-historic men known as Mound Builders, constructed a huge, oval-shaped basin. It was here surrounded on all sides by precipitous slopes, that they gathered to defend themselves against their enemies.

Who Were the Mound Builders?

Who were these strange people? Whence did they come, and whither did they go? Now a great deal is known about the answers to these questions, as Dr. H. C. Shetrone, director of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society and author of many works on this perplexing race, says they were not a highly cultivated people, "rather" primitive, self sufficient, they obtained their subsistance from fish and game from the streams and woodlands, fruits, berries, nuts, herbs and roots. They had very little agriculture.

They were not Indians, but lived more as prehistoric men, protecting themselves and obtaining their food with tools constructed of stone, flint, bone and shell.

The fort is shaped oval at the top of the hill, offer a strenuous climb, and vividly visualize what it must have presented, as these people battled for the fort.

Now a State Park

Fort Hill is now a state park, the land having been purchased by the State Archaeological and Historical Society. Formerly, it was privately owned, and a small sum was charged for admittance to the area. It is now open to the public, and under a supervised CCC workers, is being improved, although none of its natural beauty and wildness is being destroyed.

Fort Hill is a Four Point Park, according to Dr. Shetrone. It was selected because of its archaeological interest, its fine stand of timber, its scenic value and its importance as a nature preserve. It holds the key to Fort Ancient, the largest of the prehistoric earthworks, for it is virtually untouched by scientists. When the time comes, they will be able to interpret the secrets left of the people who once lived there, in a fairly accurate manner. The same, or a similar people lived in the Fort Ancient region, but the place has been disturbed so much that it is difficult to interpret the symbols left by these strange people.

A Real Nature Preserve

And what a Nature preserve the place really is! The steep slopes, underlaid with limestone, are now decked in the luxuriant white of Dogwood in bloom. Here and there, over the hill, Redbud shows its hauntingly pink flowers.

And now the ground cover of the forest floor is multicolored as Joseph's coat. Along the more open pathway, the brilliant yellow the Celandine Poppy greets the eye. Against the black, lichen encrusted limestone, the brilliant scarlet flowers of Columbine nod in the breezes. Colonies of white trilliums, rain drop speckled, delight the eye. In spots, the wild delphinium is growing profusely, their deep purple a striking contrast to the more delicate hues of the lavendar Sweet Williams and Wild Geraniums.

Bluets In Bloom

The green spathe of the Jack-in-the pulpit, purple striped, is to be found in abundance, and in open areas, the baby-blue of bluets present a welcome sight on this gray day. The brownish-purple flowers of the Drooping Trillium hardly "pretty," but nevertheless interesting, are at their height. Anemone still blooms in shaded nooks, and in the underbrush at the woodland's edge, the fresh pink Prickley Pear in full bloom makes one forget the clouds and rain, for the moment.

Add to this list, a collection of approximately 35 lichens, the exhilerating climb up the long slope, and the genuine joy of a day in the unblemished wilderness, and you have a grand total that easily outbalanced the dreary weather.

And if you think the climb to the top of Fort Hill is immaterial, let me suggest that you make it some time. Especially those who are more or less rotund about the waistline. The jaunt will be of material assistance in, reducing the same.

Schedule Announced

Principal H. W. Einswiler of Starling Jr. High school recently announced the following program in baseball for that school: Starling plays Pilgrim May 2; Franklin, May 9; Crestview, May 16; McKinley, May 23.

Eagles Sponsor Wild West Rodeo

Money Derived Will Be Divided Between Two Columbus Charities.

Something new and different in the way of thrills is in store for those who attend Columbus' First World Championship Rodeo at the Ohio State Fair Grounds coliseum for the week starting Saturday, May 18. Cowboys and cowgirls from all over the west and Mexico, including the world champion riders will pit their skill against the animal champions of the western ranges. Wild Brahma, Texas Longhorn steers and man hating outlaw horses have been carefully selected to test the mettle and courage of even the most fearless horsemen.

Milt Hinkle, former Texas Ranger and companion of the former President Roosevelt up the "River of Doubt" in South America, will have charge of the arena. Hinkle has twice held the championship in bull dogging and holds the present world record.

In addition to the open cowboy and cowgirl contests with money, title and trophy at stake in each daily event, Hinkle will present a number of sensational feats. Alice Sisty, all round cowgirl champion of the world will jump her two horses over an automobile while standing on their backs.

The Columbus contests are sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the money derived will be divided between the Camp Fund for Underprivileged Boys and the Columbus Baby Camp Fund.

LET'S PLAN A SPECIAL SPRING LUNCHEON

There is real inspiration for planning a springtime party menu for there are so many ingredients to choose from. Crisp spring vegetables and luscious berries fairly beg to be utilized in the creation of dishes that will tempt the most jaded winter-worn appetite.

And what fun it is to prepare these new, vivacious foods. It's like meeting old friends after a long period separation. Those fruits and vegetables that have been absent all winter taste extra-good, so why not make the most of them and please the whole family. Visit your local market and see what is being offered now. Choose those things that you seem to have missed the most and prepare for the most pleasure you've had all winter, that of planning a luncheon which will make everyone realize that the dark boots of winter have fled and that spring with all its cheer and fine foods is once again with us. Pitch right in and have a swell time. Here is a menu that is as appealing as spring itself.

Fruit Hors d'Oeuvre
Chicken Loaf with Mushroom Sauce
Fresh Buttered Peas
Potato Cheese Balls
Radishes, Spring Onions, Sweet Pickles
Thimble Biscuits
Marshmallow Whip
Coffee

Fruit Hors d'Oeuvre

Arrange on individual plates ½ each cored fresh peach and plum with blanched almond in the centers, sections of fresh apricot, banana, orange, seedless white grapes, pecan nut meats. Garnish with watercress.

Chicken Loaf With Mushroom Sauce

One 4-pound chicken, cooked tender and diced
2 cups fresh bread crumbs
1 cup cooked rice
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ cup chopped pimento
3 cups chicken broth
4 eggs well beaten

Mix well together adding eggs last. Bake 1 hour in a slow oven in a baking pan or ring mold.

Mushroom Sauce

¾ pound fresh mushrooms
⅓ cup flour
1 pint chicken broth
½ cup cream
½ teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon chopped parsley
½ teaspoon lemon juice
Salt to taste

Melt butter in a saucepan. Add the mushrooms cut coarsely and cook gently for five minutes. Add flour and mix well. Then chicken broth. Cook, stirring constantly till thick and smooth. Add cream, paprika, parsley, lemon juice and salt. Mix and let stand over pot of water till ready to serve.

Potato Cheese Balls

Add ½ cup grated cheese to 2 cups creamed mashed potatoes. Shape in balls. Roll in grated bread crumbs, in beaten egg, then in bread crumbs again. Place on a greased cookie sheet and brown the balls in a hot oven.

Thimble Biscuits

1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 tablespoon butter
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar
1 small cup of iced milk

With a wooden spoon mix flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and butter. When well mixed add the milk and mix gently. Spread lightly on a floured mixing board to a depth of one inch and cut with a thimble. Roast a shallow pan with flour, place biscuits on this and bake 20 or 25 minutes in a hot oven. Split and butter, serve hot.

Stuffed Apples

Core apples taking care not to remove too much meat. Fill centers with nuts, raisins, and brown sugar. Cover bottom of pan and bake until tender. Cover with juice before serving.

Marshmallow Whip

2 egg whites
½ cup grape jelly
1 cup whipped cream
1 cup crushed pineapple
6 vanilla wafers crumbled
8 marshmallows
Grated bitter chocolate

Beat the egg whites until foamy, add the jelly and continue beating until stiff but not too dry. Fold the whipped cream into the mixture and then the pineapple, vanilla wafer crumbs and marshmallows cut in tiny bits. Chill and serve in sherbet glasses. Just before serving sprinkle the top with grated chocolate.

Mother's Cook Book

SEASONABLE DISHES

THE bride of today with all her equipment in culinary knowledge has no fear of failures in cookery. Up-to-date cook books with clear directions for preparing even the simple foods gives assurance to the most inexperienced.

Here is one which any bride will like to try:

Fancy Biscuit.

Take two cups of flour, four teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt, one tablespoon of sugar, two tablespoons of shortening, one egg and two-thirds of a cup of milk, one-third cup of sliced dates, four tablespoons of peanut butter and one egg yolk. Sift the dry ingredients, work in the shortening with a fork until well blended, add milk and well beaten egg to form a soft dough. Roll out on a floured board and cut small rounds. Spread one with peanut butter, place one or two slices of dates and cover with another round. Press the edges together to enclose the butter and dates. Brush with egg diluted with a little milk or water and bake in a hot oven. If preferred cut the round larger and put the butter and date on one-half and fold over, pinching the edges together.

Mocha Frosting.

Take one-fourth cup of butter, one tablespoon of cocoa, two cups of confectioner's sugar and three to four tablespoons of strong coffee infusion. Cream the butter, add the cocoa. Stir in the sugar and coffee gradually. Beat until smooth and spread on the cake.

Coffee Ice Cream.

Scald one and one-half cups of milk with one-third of a cupful of finely ground coffee, strain through a double cheese cloth, add one cup of sugar, the beaten yolks of four eggs, one-fourth teaspoon of salt; cook over water until thick, adding one-fourth cupful of sugar and one cupful of cream; cool, add three more cups of cream and freeze. Serve garnished with maraschino cherries.

QUESTION BOX
By ED WYNN . . .
The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I just received a letter from my nephew, who lives in England. He writes me that his wife is suffering with "water on the brain." Can you tell me what that means?
Sincerely,
U. TELMEE.

Answer: When a woman has "water on the brain" it simply means she has a notion (an ocean) in her head.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I live in a boarding house. I pay $20 a week but the food they serve is not fit for a pig to eat. What shall I do?
Truly yours,
I. BETTY KNOWS.

Answer: If the food is really not fit for a pig, just sleep there and get your meals some other place.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I got a job last Monday in a department store in the shoe department. At the end of the first week I was discharged. Can you tell me why? I swear to you I didn't do anything.
Sincerely,
I. STAUL.

Answer: That's why you were discharged.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
My birthday was January 4. My girl sent me a pair of gloves for a present but they are too large for me. What shall I do?
Truly yours,
A. B. SEEDED.

Answer: Just pour about a half ounce of Scotch whisky on them. If it's the kind of Scotch they're selling now, a half ounce will make them tight.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
My wife returns home next Saturday from the hospital bringing with her our triplets just five weeks old. I am surprising my wife, as I have just had a nursery fitted out for our new babies. It is a beautiful room and I would like to have a suitable name painted on the door instead of "Nursery." What do you suggest?
Yours truly,
POP. PAH.

Answer: Three babies, five weeks old, in one room? If I were you I would call it the "Bawl-room."

LAWDY, BOSS

Dell Howard, in the past fortnight, spent a few days in New Orleans, and while en route, chatted the hours away with a fellow passenger from some village in Indiana.

The latter was in great consternation, for he had to make connections that evening with a train out of New Orleans. The train they were riding, came to an apparent stop on a bridge. After what they thought was a half hour's delay, they began to wonder what the sam hill—

"Let's get out and see what's the trouble," the Hoosier suggested. And the Captain agreed. Meeting the porter at the door, they inquired of him the trouble.

"Lawdy, boss, we's on a barge half way out in the Mississippi Ribber," the darkie replied. And they, looking back sheepishly, saw the faint glimmer of lights of the city they had left behind.

Games Scheduled Tonight, Monday

Hoge Memorial-Westgate Fracas Is Top Battle This Evening; Hillcrest Maintains Lead.

Hilltop Church League teams, beginning tonight, will swing into a two-games-per-week schedule for the next two or three weeks, according to announcement released by the city recreation department Monday.

Tonight's feature attraction will be played at Westgate No. 3, where Hoge Memorial and Westgate Evangelical hook up in what may be very helpful in ultimately deciding the first round champion.

Other games include the Burgess U. B.-Glenwood, Tri Mu fracas, also slated to be a worth-while struggle, for the State Hospital diamond. On Westgate No. 1, Sullivant will meet Hilltonia U. B.; St. John Lutheran will tangle with Hillcrest on No. 2; and Church of Christ will do battle with Glenwood M. E. on No. 4, to round out this evening's program.

Play Monday, Too

Monday's games are of the type likely to be recorded as upsets, with the lower bracket teams knocking at the doors of the big shots. Burgess U. B. will give Hillcrest a good battle on Westgate No. 1; Hoge should have no trouble in disposing of Glenwood M. E. on No. 2; C. of C. and Sullivant Friends should wage a close battle on No. 3; Hilltonia might push Westgate on No. 4; and St. John will chase the old men from Tri Mu all over the

Hilltoppers Named On Murder Jury Panel

The names of four Hilltop people were drawn from the jury wheel Wednesday by the county jury commission for service in the trial June 10 of Willard Walters, Negro, accused of first degree murder in the shooting of Policeman Edward Murphy, a week ago in the rear of the Park Savings & Loan Co. Those whose names were drawn are: Alban H. Gutcher, 2945 Palmetto Ave.; Mrs. Gladys J. Taylor, 365 Belvidere Ave.; Rudolph D. Miesse, 58 N. Sylvan Ave.; and Sheldon L. Parker, 304 S. Oakley Ave.

New Cruisers

New police cruisers were placed on the Hilltop streets last week, replacing the old cars in operation here for the past few years. The new autos are DeSoto sedans, colored black, with a stripe of white around the body. Emblazoned thereon, in huge black letters, is the word "Police."

Seeks Re-election

Samuel J. Willis

City Auditor Samuel J. Willis, 145 S. Roys Ave., announced this week that he would be a candidate to succeed himself at the elections scheduled for this fall.

Willis, for 16 consecutive years Democratic committeeman of the Eleventh Ward, served as city clerk from Jan. 1, 1930 to Dec. 31, 1934. He was appointed to the city auditorship by city council following the resignation of former auditor Walter Otto.

Prior to his entrance into politics he was a railroader. He is married and has one daughter.

In asking for support of the voters at the coming elections, Willis cites his past record in city office. "I will continue my policy of keeping the mayor, city council and the public well informed of the financial affairs of the city at all times," he said.

"Since coming into the office on Jan. 1, I have made a thorough study of the set-up and have brought about only those changes which seemed necessary for the benefit of the service.

"As city auditor, I will handle city affairs entrusted me with the same care that I would my own private business," Willis concludes in his statement.

'Puzzle That Pays' Continues To Pay

Three More Winners Named As Puzzle Contest Continues to Draw Interesting Solutions.

The "Puzzle That Pays" contest is slowly drawing to a close and those who wish to try for one of the weekly prizes had better start working the puzzle this week to have a chance. Last week's puzzle proved to be the hardest to solve than any previous one yet offered. This week's puzzle has been made much easier and will not cause so much hard work as the one last week. As it has been often said before yet seems necessary to repeat again, that each letter and number can be used but used only once. Many answers are submitted with the letters or numbers repeated thus causing an incorrect answer.

The prize winners for last week are as follows: Margaret O'Brien Huffman, 40 Clarendon Ave., first prize, a merchandise order at Paley's Pharmacy; Mrs. Nellie Walters, 236 S. Hague Ave., second prize, a merchandise order at Scoles Ice and Fuel Company; and Iris Swarty, 392 S. Eureka Ave., third prize, a merchandise order at A. M. Groff Paint Co.

The puzzle for this week will be found on page four.

Otto H. Magly Looks Back Through His Diaries As Alumni Plan Huge Jubilee Program In His Honor

Pictured at the right, perusing some diaries he has kept daily for the 25 years and more that he has been principal at West High school, is Otto H. Magly. And when he watches this year's senior class file by the speaker's platform at the coliseum, he will have seen his twenty-fifth group of upper classmen go out into that unknown beyond, referred to so eloquently by graduation speakers as "the world."

Many happy memories are revived by these diaries. Some are sad, but all are interesting. The flood, baseball championships, arranging the program for the first graduation at the coliseum, and a thousand other items, which lack of space prohibits mentioning here.

Twenty-one students were in West High's first class of 1911. More than 250 will receive diplomas a fortnight hence.

And in honor of this silver jubilee, and in honor of Otto H. Magly, the Alumni, Student Body, Faculty, and West Sr.-Jr. Parent-Teacher association, have arranged a huge two-day program which will get under way next Friday at the school.

A variety of events have been scheduled, with a dance slated to climax the affair Friday evening. From 7:30 to 8:30, a tour of the building for returning alumni will be made. Entertainment from 8:30 until 9:30 will feature a fashion parade and a program by the Junior class. At 9:30, the dance will begin, continuing until midnight. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria throughout the evening.

Saturday will be the day for athletes, an Alumni-Varsity baseball game being scheduled for the morning. In the afternoon a golf tournament will be held and in the evening a big old-fashioned assembly will get under way at the auditorium. The latter event will include a pep rally, introductions of athletic high-lights of past and present, tributes and a retrospect.

Saturday's athletic events are in charge of the "W" association under the supervision of Harold E. Wise, athletic director at the school. Complete arrangements, according to Wise, will be announced next week.

Friends' Rescue Home to Observe Thirtieth Anniversary Wednesday

The thirtieth anniversary of the founding of the Friends Rescue Home will be observed with an all day service Wednesday, May 29. The Home was founded by Evangeline Reams in 1905, and is located just off North Hague avenue at Ridge, or at 245 N. Powell Ave.

The Home is sponsored by the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends, and is a participating agency of the Community Fund of Columbus. Miss Matilda Stuart, principal of the Highland Avenue school is president, with the Rev. Will Crumrine, pastor of the Sullivant Avenue Friends Meeting, as vice president. The workers in the home are: Jennie A. Tate, superintendent; Elsie Zimmerer, nurse; Mrs. Margaret Curran and Miss Helen Smith.

The program will be as follows: At 10:00 a. m. there will be a prayer and praise service, lead by Mrs. Catherine Stalker, of Columbus; at 1:15 p. m. there will be an arbor day service in charge of the secretary of the board of trustees, Harris O. Stanley, Damascus, O. Several trees will be planted on the grounds and named in honor of persons who have been associated with the Home in the past. At 2:00 p. m. Dr. J. A. Huffman, head of the Bible department, Marion college, Marion, Ind., will bring an address.

Lunch will be served free at noon, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Old Clothes Wanted

For the entertainment program at the approaching West High Jubilee, old clothes of 10, 15 and 25 years ago are badly needed. Any Hilltop residents able to loan such apparel are asked to get in touch with Mrs. W. E. Ferguson, 235 Guernsey Ave. Numbered among the items needed are: a split skirt, a bobbie skirt, a peg-top skirt, one dress, short in front and back and long at each side, and a dalman coat.

Goin' Swimmin'?

Local Swimming Pool to Open Season Tomorrow; Everybody Swims Free Sunday.

The swimming season is on as far as the Hilltop is concerned because tomorrow marks the opening of the Bender Park swimming pool in North Hague avenue. To give the public a chance to inspect the pool which is all dressed up in new paint and improvements, Charles Cruea, manager and owner, invites everybody to bring their suits and have a free swim on Sunday, May 26.

All repairs, painting and improvements have been completed this week and the pool is ready for a big summer. Lawrence Michaelis and Eugene Grubbs have been named life guards for the season. Life saving and beginners classes are to be arranged during the summer with awards being made at the pool.

With 500 gallons of fresh well water capable of being pumped into the pool every minute and life guards on duty at all times both children and grown ups alike can be assured of a safe vacation. Brassier and trunk suits will not be permitted at the pool this summer, Manager Cruea says.

Music Program

There will be a junior musical program at Oakley Avenue Baptist church Sunday at 3 p. m. The junior choir of Glenwood M. E. church will sing. There will be numbers from the Hilltop School of Music.

W. J. Jones Dies Monday Morning

Heart Attack Fatal to Prominent Hilltop Resident and B. & L. Director.

William J. Jones, retired farmer and prominent resident of the Hilltop for a number of years, died at his home Monday morning, May 20, of a heart attack.

Mr. Jones was among the first directors of the Hilltop Building and Loan Association, now The First Federal Savings & Loan Association, and also was a director of the Personal Finance Co.

He was born and reared on a farm in Brown township, and was engaged in farming until his retirement 16 years ago, when he moved to the Hilltop. His home was in Hilliards just prior to his moving to Columbus and he was a member of Avery Lodge, No. 493, F. & A. M., there. He also was a member of the Robert Morris chapter, Order of Eastern Star, this city, and a member of Glenwood M. E. church and the Baracca class of that church's Sunday school.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday, at the home, with Rev. Motter officiating, and burial was made in Green Lawn cemetery by C. J. Kohn.

Mr. Jones is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minnie Jones; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Adler, Columbus, and Mrs. Mattie Latham of Hilliards, and a brother, Frank J. Jones, Delaware.

Mystery Play To Be Presented

The Gleaners' class of Burgess Avenue U. B. church will present a three-act mystery play, "The Other Ghost," Friday evening, May 24, in the auditorium of John Burroughs school.

The program will commence at 8 o'clock and those taking part include: Mrs. A. R. Coyle, Mrs. B. L. Newhouse, Mrs. G. F. Sites, Mrs. Mabel Curlis, Mrs. Elsie Collins, Mrs. Marguerite Whipple, Mrs. J. F. Stamper, Mrs. Arthur Quelette, Miss Margaret Miller and Miss Alice Sites.

Mrs. Howard Miller and Mrs. Sterling Good are the directors.

Dental Offices Entered

Two Hilltop dentists reported that their offices had been entered and ransacked last week-end. Dr. T. S. Fox, 2405½ W. Broad St., said that the robbers gained entrance by jimmying the door. A small amount of equipment to the value of about $25 was taken. Dr. A. C. Meyers, 2375½ W. Broad St., claimed that his offices were entered in the same manner with an undetermined amount of equipment taken.

To Honor Graduates

A special service Sunday evening honoring its young people who will graduate from the different schools, will be held at Hillcrest Baptist church. Music features of the evening will include numbers by the Grandview M. E. choir of 20 voices under the direction of Dr. B. Brown.

Business Men To Ask For Better Car Service Mon.

To Meet, With Interested Residents, At City Council Monday Evening, May 27.

At the regular meeting of the Hilltop Business Men's association Tuesday evening the association went on record as favoring better transportation service for the northwest section of the Hilltop and the elimination of double fares now being charged for many residents to get to many sections of the city.

To Meet With Council

Members of the association and residents interested in the betterment of this service and the elimination of the double fares will meet with council Monday evening, May 27, to ask for an adjustment.

At the present time one bus is operated between Sylvan and Broad dents of this section point out is inadequate and Hague and Sullivant, which reasonate. Another objectionable feature of the present setup in the double fare charges for transportation between Sullivant avenue and Broad street east of Hague avenue.

Want Poles Out

In addition, the association went on record as desiring the poles on West Broad street removed. Council took such action necessary to have them removed some years ago, but nothing was ever done. Conduit lines have been placed underground, and the poles are no longer necessary.

Three members of the Columbus Red Birds were guests of the organization, Bud Hassett, Pat Ankenman and Joe Sims. Norma Thompson, with songs and violin numbers, entertained the group.

West High school, with 255, leads the list. Senior graduation will be held at the State Fair Grounds, in the coliseum, on Wednesday, June 12. At West Jr. High school, 250 students will receive diplomas. Junior High exercises are also to be held at the coliseum with the program scheduled for the morning of Wednesday, June 14.

Officials had not completed the list of graduates for Starling Jr. High, but the group will number approximately 200. At Highland Elementary, 40 pupils will be promoted to Junior High while at John Burroughs, 112 will graduate. West Broad will graduate 100 students, according to Miss Harriett Judd, principal.

What Did You Find?

Housecleaning time is the time that all the odds and ends in the house that you do not need come to the surface. From the old odd furniture in the attic to tools and knickknacks in the cellar.

Many people are turning these new found articles into money by finding somebody who has more of a use for them than they do. The easiest way to get rid of those things that you do not need is to use a Record Want-ad. For only a few cents you can find a customer for most anything that you have.

Try a Record Want-ad today—it will pay for itself.

Piscators Poor Prevaricators, Reports Paradoxical

40 H.-B. Men Have Holiday Of Their Own, But Nobody Seems to Know What They Did.

Wives & Mothers,
Hilltop Business Men,
Hilltop, Ohio.
Dear Ladies:

I have taken upon myself the burden of telling you. The situation is a difficult one, but the task has been shifted to my shoulders because of my great renown as a purveyor of truth, and because there is great diversity in the reports fetched back by your sons and husbands, from Lake Erie.

They went a fishing Sunday, you know. But it was a huge Roman holiday for them. And if they brang you back some of the funny things that are supposed to inhabit the waters of Lake Erie, don't believe that they caught them. There was an expenditure of some 20 dollars on that trip which didn't cover transportation costs. It was spent at the fish dealers.

And don't let those guys tell you that they are sunburned. They're just ashamed and blushing furiously. Mrs. Wilcox, Curt hasn't held up his head all day down in this sector, so give him your regards when he gets home tonight.

Curt was chairman of the affair, don't you know. And when he found that ye olde Lookerouter was on the trail of information, he suddenly developed that sunburn. And all the rest of them, from Jack Shank on up to George Painter, Carl Sherburn and the others, are telling such funny tales. None have agreed so far, and there are a thousand conflicting stories about it all.

They actually caught eight fish the first half hour on the boat. Then, they say, the fish quit biting. Can you imagine that? Neither can I. One of the fellas caught a big bunch of scrap iron. You know darned well that all is not hunky-dory when things like that are drug out of Lake Erie. One of the men thought it was a battleship.

They claim Pop Waymer caught a white bass, but the feesh on display at Davis' Monday was a carp, of some size. Most of the boys blushed again when they saw that. The truth of the thing is that that fish was purchased like the ones you cooked, if you cooked any. (Or do you cook fish?)

Caught 25 Fish, Report Says, But Caught More Than That When They Got Home.

And now comes the plain hard sollum facks, without no ifs or buts. The information is official. The trip, the report reads, was the finest of the year. More fish were caught than on any similar expedition of the spring. Winds were blowing from somewhere else besides the east (fish bite least then), for the first time this year. And everybody was happy. The trip, the report reiterates, was a huge success.

And you must believe the report, Ladies. But for the love of pete, make them define that word success.

Yours,
The Lookerouter.

By JOHN WOLFE

As the gates of the forest, the surprised sins of the world is forced to leave his city estimates of great and small, wise and foolish . . . He who knows the most, he who knows what exploits and virtues are in the ground, the waters, the plants, the heavens, and how to come at these enchantments, is the rich and royal man.
—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

There are times in the late spring, presaging the arrival of toilsome summer, when the mornings, dew-washed and sun-lit and placid, slumber over the wooded hills and fertile valleys, and when, standing at "the gates of the forest," we anticipate with breathless wonderment, the grandeur of the things within.

Up the steep slope the trail leads, splattered with the brilliant crimson of Fire Pink and the bright yellow of Buttercups along the way, to the aging pine woods that crowns the hill. High above the green valley below, in tranquil solitude, sweet-scented and soberly beautiful, the forest seems to throw forth a sermon of eloquence I cannot put into speech.

Pink Lady's Slipper

From under the thick carpet of pine needles, more than a thousand Lady's Slippers have thrust their matchless flowers. Now at the height of their season, I have never seen these orchids in such great abundance. One cannot even carefully step through the woods without stepping on and crushing their fragile blossoms.

In such numbers, nodding ever so gently in the just perceptible stir of the morning air, they present a spectacle not soon to be forgotten. Arising singly on a stem from two basal leaves, with their delicate pink color and sac-like shape, they are not to be mistaken for any of our other flowers.

From the Cliff Top

Rambling on through the woods, we emerge at the edge of a towering sandstone cliff, from where we can look out now, over a valley alight with dogwood in full bloom. And mingling with the snow-white patches, are the distinctive greens of a dozen other forest trees, and the fresh pink, in patches, of the oak buds just opening.

Hills, basking in the morning sunshine, covered with a new spring raiment, send a thousand thoughts racing through the ramblers' minds. How many others of our race, yes, our brothers of long ago, have sat upon that cliff and looked out over the inspiring panorama that stretches away and fades into a hazy horizon to the south?

How many others have sat there, till twilight's mantle of grey covered the hills, and stars, one by one, sent their gleam filtering through the slimy evening light, and wondered about it all? I wonder?

Into the Valley

Following the ledge around, we arrive at the head of the valley, and descending into the gorge midst a host of lavendar geraniums, blooming against the verdant hillside covered with the new leaves of the Christmas Fern, we find a score of other plants in flower.

The tiny white Woodland Sweet Violet, the yellow Canada Violet, a half dozen species of the familiar blue Violet, including the interesting long-spurred form: Jack-in-the-pulpit and the white blossoms of the common Woodland Sedum: Sweet Williams and a dozen others. Yes, and deep pillowed in a bed of dead oak leaves, arising unobtrusively but beautifully, were three blossoms of the Showey Orchis, the first that I had ever seen.

Number Thirteen

And Gordon Crowell, of the Botany Dept., Ohio State university, formerly a photographer with Underwood and Underwood in New York, set up his tripod and camera for the thirteenth time that day, and snapped the picture. But numbers and superstitions have no effect on the photographer, especially "in the pinch," for the picture came through splendidly and I wish space were sufficient for its reproduction here.

So, the trip crowned with such a successful find, ended, and we made our way reluctantly back to the car, and bouncing and rumbling over certain of Hocking county's "back roads," we arrived finally at familiar route 31, and were soon back in Columbus, another refreshing and instructive trip set down in the record books.

The expression, "a chicken in every pot," was used first to symbolize material prosperity by Henry IV, King of Navarre. His nick-name was Le Roi de Poule-Au-Pot.

Athletes At West Have Poor Week As Season Nears End

Netmen, Golfers, Baseballers and Trackmen Take Setbacks In District Events.

The West sport aggregations fared poorly in the past week's district play; the trackmen proving to be the only near winners, with the baseballers, golfers and netters finishing near the bottom of the lists.

East Cops District Baseball

East High's improved baseball nine won the district baseball title and a right to represent the Capital City in the state meet by defeating Aquinas, 12-0, in the finals played on the West field last Saturday.

West's diamond representatives dropped a quarter-final game to Central, 4-0, in a game played on the O. S. U. freshman diamond.

West High baseballers dropped completely out of the gonfalon gallop when Aquinas won its first game of the season Tuesday afternoon on the Terrier lot, 6 to 5. The game went three overtime innings, and was well played, but the Cowboys just failed to hit, when hits meant runs.

Central Wins District Track

Central High's city championship team added the district laurels to their ever-increasing number by scoring 69 points in the district track and field meet held at Ohio Wesleyan last Saturday. Central took four first and won the half-mile relay.

West's track team was represented by Gerald Hoffman and Bob Nichols. Hoffman obtained a second in the javelin throw thereby receiving a silver medal, and Nichols won his fifth medal by taking a third in the mile run, making them eligible to compete in the state meet tomorrow at Ohio State.

Track letters are to be awarded Captain Hoffman, Nichols, Carter, McGonigal and Underwood.

North Takes District Golf

North High's well balanced golf team took first in the annual district golf tournament with a total card of 341. All matches were eighteen hole rounds played over the Indian Springs layout. Central was runner-up with a score of 344.

The West High quartet finished seventh in a field of nine, somewhat of a disappointment. Melvin Bowman was low scorer for the Cowboys with 84, followed by Mathews' 89, Kinder's 95 and Ferguson's 100. The state meet will be played this afternoon and tomorrow morning at Indian Spring with the winner and runner-up of each district eligible to compete.

Netters Lose

West High's 'tennisters lost their doubles match and both singles event. Curtiss lost to an opponent from Granville while Williams dropped the other singles match to his adversary from Upper Arlington.

Aquinas' doubles team handily defeated the West pair made up of Berry and Harper.

Jr. High Baseball

West Junior High's baseball nine has thus far this season won four games and dropped one. West Jr. defeated Barrett, 4 to 3; Crestview, 8-4; Everett 8-2; Pilgrim, 14-1, and lost a game to Franklin by a 6-5 score. McKinley was to be played last Monday, Champion last Thursday and Roosevelt next Monday.

Thus far the leaders in batting who have participated in the majority of the games are: E. Hughes with an average of .500; Distelhorst, .428; Bradly, .428, and Oakley, .400. Three members of the team, namely: Distelhorst, Bell and Carter are either seventh or eighth graders.

asylum grounds before a decision is reached.

Monday's Results

But three undefeated teams remained bunched at the top of the loop following Monday's games in which Westgate Evangelical dropped Glenwood Tri-Mu an upset, 8 to 4. Hillcrest, despite numerous errors, continued its winning way by giving the Hilltop Church of Christ a 6 to 3 setback.

Hope Memorial had little trouble in beating Burgess U. B., 11 to 2, to drop the Brethren from the select list. Sullivant won a slugfest from Glenwood M. E., 10 to 7, making it three consecutive losses for the Methodists. Smith, with four hits, paced St. John to its first victory over Hilltonia U. B., 5 to 3.

Race Is Close In Merchant's Loop

Derby Club to Meet Walter's Ice Wednesday; Seiller's vs. Claggett's, Chittum vs. Hamilton.

With the race waxing closer and closer with each round's play in the Hilltop Merchants' Recreation ball circuit, the first of three rounds of play will come to a close Wednesday evening, May 29, with the champion as yet, undetermined.

Games slated for Wednesday will bring together Chittum's Garage and Hamilton Gas on Westgate No. 1; on No. 2, Claggett's Confectioners and Seiller's Dry Goods will battle; and in what promises to be the feature attraction on No. 3, Derby Club will meet the leading Walter Icemen.

Plays To Be Presented Tonight

Glenwood Players will present three plays in the social rooms of Glenwood church tonight at 8:00 o'clock. They are "The Trysting Place," by Booth Tarkington, directed by Annabelle Breese; "Kidnapping Betty," by Eugene Hafer, with Judith Garrison as he director, and John Wagnits will direct "The Drum of Oude," by Austin Strong. There will also be special music.

In games Wednesday, Seiller's Dry Goods beat Chittum Garage, 9 to 4, while Walter's Ice remained at the top of the loop by defeating Claggett Confectioners, 6 to 3. Derby Club's game with Hamilton Gas was postponed after rain had fallen in the fifth inning.
